UNION AND RAIL LEADERS SIGN WAGE CUT PACT

10% Reduction Goes in Effect Today.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

In an atmosphere of solemnity and hope the formal pact by which a million and a half railway employés voluntarily accept a 10 per cent wage reduction was signed at 11:40 o'clock last night by the presidents of 20 unions and a committee of railroad presidents representing the carriers.

There was solemnity because the negotiators realized the historic importance of the event, which marks the first time that powerful national labor and capital groups had solved a wage problem in such friendly, across the table negotiations.

And there was hope that the agreement might start the country on a climb out of the economic depression.

Pay Cut in Effect Today.

The pact provides that railway labor will accept the 10 per cent pay cut for one year, beginning today. The deduction will be made from each pay check on every pay day, but the basic or legal wage will not be disturbed and the full rates will be restored on Jan. 31, 1933.

A separate agreement, in which the railroads made certain concessions along the lines of a program proposed by labor for the betterment of working conditions and the relief of unemployment, was signed simultaneously with the wage pact.

Although the full accord of both groups was accomplished yesterday morning, the drafting of the agreements was such a painstaking job that it was necessary for the signers to stand by for more than twelve hours before the important documents were ready for the signatures.

Willard First to Sign.

At last, in the presence of the 170 general chairmen who had sat as spectators during the entire negotiations, the agreements were ready. Daniel Willard, chairman of the railroad presidents' committee, made a short speech in which he hailed the signing of the pacts as "a distinct epoch in the matter of labor relations," and then he picked up a pen and was the first to inscribe his name on the documents.

The other presidents on the committee followed with their signatures and then the executives of the 20 rotherhoods signed the agreements, one by one, as the papers were passed along the long conference table. Two copies of each agreement were signed, one of each being retained by the railroad presidents and the other by the labor leaders. Today additional copies will be signed so that all the labor organizations will have individual, signed copies.

Agree on Relief Program.

The agreement on the labor relief program follows exactly the language set down by the rail presidents in their final answer to the unions' proposals. The railroads agree to do whatever may be practicable to stabilize employment in the industry. Both sides agree to coöperate toward placing motor highway transportation on a fairer basis of competition with the railroads.

The employés' proposal for a committee to study retirement insurance, elective workmen's compensation, and a dismissal wage is approved by the railroads. The roads agree to establish employment bureaus and to direct requests for rail workers from these bureaus to the labor organizations.

The agreement also states wherein the parties have been unable to agree, and in these several instances the final position of the railroads' committee is stated. The matters on which no agreement was reached included the labor proposal to create a joint commission to investigate the six hour day.

Story of Day's Proceedings.

The good news of the unions' acceptance of the wage reduction was formally conveyed to the railroad presidents' committee at a meeting starting at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the Red Lacquer room at the Palmer house, where the wage parley has been carried on since Jan. 14.

David Brown Robertson, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association, sitting in the center of one side of the long conference table, with his labor colleagues on either side of him, read the unions' decision.

It was received with gratification by the nine men on the other side of the table—Mr. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and his eight associates on the committee of railroad presidents.

The statement read by Mr. Robertson said:

"After a painstaking review of the

KIDNAPER FLEES JAIL DISGUISED AS HIS BROTHER

Wife and Child Aid in Escape Plot.

Several guards looked on without suspicion late yesterday afternoon as a confessed kidnaper walked nonchalantly out the door of the county jail, while his own brother, disguised as the prisoner by a little hair dye and a bold presence, marched back to take his vacated place in a cell.

Cornelius Montague, alias Alfred Russell, was the man who escaped. With him as he went were his wife, her 3 year old daughter, and a man believed by the police to have been Frank Montague, a brother of Cornelius and of Stanley Montague, the volunteer pawn to justice.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Ross Lee Laird, Cornelius Montague had confessed his part in the recent abduction of Dr. Max Gecht, a physician, and his wife. He and four others were indicted for the crime after their arrest by Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson.

Letter Admits Escape Aids.

The woman, the child, and the two men who participated in the escape plot appeared at the jail together yesterday and referred to a letter, signed by Assistant Sheriff Frank Wright, which had been received by the jail warden, David Moneypenny, several days ago. The letter was dated Jan. 21, and read:

"Pursuant to conversation with you, this letter will introduce Mr. Joseph Casey, 911 East 65th street, and Mrs. Alfred Russell of the same address, who wish to see Alfred Russell."

Warden Moneypenny was absent. Sunday is not a regular visiting day at the jail, but because of the letter Assistant Warden George Gibson ordered that Prisoner Montague be taken to the so-called "law cage," a barred inclosure in the jail office commonly used for conferences of prisoners and their counsel.

The Escape Takes Place.

For about fifteen minutes the four adults were in a huddle in the cage while the little girl played around the floor. Then Guard John Morrissey, who had taken the kidnaper from his cell and had waited outside the cage during the conference, was notified the visitors were ready to leave.

Stanley Montague, with his hat off—he had dyed his naturally red hair to a brown like that of Cornelius—sauntered back toward the cellhouse. Meanwhile Cornelius Montague, donning his brother's hat and overcoat, walked to freedom with his wife and child and the other man.

When Arthur Cummings, guard in charge of Montague's cell tier, beheld the returning prisoner the ruse was discovered. Guards ran out to pursue the fugitive, but he had apparently entered an automobile with his companions and sped away.

Officials Hurry to Jail.

Prosecutor Laird, Warden Moneypenny, Sheriff William D. Meyering, and Investigator Roche went to the jail as soon as they were notified of the escape and were later joined by State's Attorney Swanson.

They were told by Assistant Sheriff Wright, who was found ill at his home, that he had never seen the man Casey mentioned in the letter, which he said he had written at the request of Al Whalen. Wright said Whalen is a brother of James Whalen, one of the sanitary district trustees. He added that the document had originally been delivered to Al Whalen.

COLD MODERATES TODAY; CHICAGO MAY GET SNOW

Moderately cold weather will prevail in Chicago and the middle west today with likelihood of snow by tonight or tomorrow, C. A. Donnel, chief government forecaster, predicted last night.

The coldest today in the city will be 5 to 10 degrees above zero, with the mercury rising possibly to 20 by afternoon, he said. There is no immediate threat of the return of near zero temperatures because of the influence of a newly developed low pressure area west of the Rockies.

The present cold wave failed officially to break the two year zeroless record in Chicago. Jan. 23, 1930, was the last date on which zero was recorded here. Yesterday the thermometer at the University of Chicago registered 1 degree above. The readings there are accepted as official. At the Federal building the mercury stood one-half degree above, while at th airport it was 1 below.

With the arrival today of February, January departs officially as one of the mildest Januaries on record, Mr. Donnel said. He refused to make any long distance prediction for the new month.

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH FROM NORTH SIDE HOTEL

After writing a note telling of her intention to commit suicide Miss Laura Ulrich, 31 years old, 4122 North Avers avenue, leaped last night from a window on the eighth floor of the Sheridan Plaza hotel at 4605 Sheridan road. She struck in an alley. She died a few hours later in the Lake View hospital.

Miss Ulrich had registered at the hotel as Miss L. Granzow shortly before her leap. She left $222 on the dresser in her room along with a second note to a relative, informing him she trusted him with the money.

Mrs. Clara Peters, a sister with whom she lived, said Miss Ulrich had been in ill-health for a long time and that she tried to commit suicide six years ago. She had recently been under a physician's treatment for nervous breakdown.

FINDS VICTIM OF HIS AUTO CRASH IS HIS BROTHER

Louis Genco, 22 years old, of 3431 South Spaulding avenue, was driving a group of friends home from a dance last night. He headed east in Archer avenue. At Kedzie avenue he attempted a left hand turn. At the same instant the machine of Joseph Bucink, 21, of 4822 South Tripp avenue, shot toward him, westbound.

There was a crash and Genco's car, struck in the rear by the other automobile, caromed toward the sidewalk. It hit a pedestrian before he had a chance to dodge. Genco alighted from his machine to pick up the injured pedestrian. It was his brother, Samuel Genco, 32 years old, a realty salesman. Samuel was taken to St. Anthony's hospital suffering from a skull fracture.

Youth Is Slain; 4th Victim of HammerKiller

Earl Davis, 22 years old, 3729 Pine Grove avenue, was beaten to death with a hammer early yesterday morning in a garage at 3740 Sheridan road, where he was employed as a watchman. His assailant escaped.

The garage is a little more than two blocks from an office at 3801 Broadway in which Dr. James Shaffer, a dentist, was similarly beaten to death on Jan. 23, and the police were inclined to believe that both killings were the work of a demented or drug addicted hammer man.

Two Other Victims.

Police recalled that two other murders in Chicago since Jan. 1, both of them as yet unsolved, were committed by striking the victims with iron instruments. Charles Pagel, 9954 South May street, was found dead in the Aplin hotel at 27 East Harrison street on Jan. 9, and Charles Tyrrell was killed in a rooming house at 617 North Dearborn street on Jan. 13.

The assault on Davis occurred, apparently, between 6:40 a. m. and 7:05 a. m. Elmer Frykman, 6812 Greenview avenue, another watchman in the garage, reported that when he left at the earlier time Davis was talking to Paul Harrison, a roustabout who is suspected of being a drug user.

Found Lying on Floor.

When Daniel Martorelli, 834 California avenue, a mechanic, arrived to go on duty at 7:05, Harrison was gone and Davis was lying unconscious and fatally wounded on the floor.

An automobile belonging to Matthew Ernst of 3730 Sheridan road, which had been stored in the garage shortly after midnight, was missing and the police assumed that the killer—whether it was Harrison or another man—had taken the car.

Harrison was at one time a chauffeur for another resident of the building at 3730 Sheridan road and was familiar at the garage. When he went there he complained of being cold and hungry. Davis, hearing his story, furnished him with some food and they were in seemingly amicable conversation when Frykman left.

GUNMEN SLAY OWNER OF CAFE IN HIS KITCHEN

Gunmen shot and killed Anthony Sandol, 44 years old, as he sat in the kitchen of his soft drink parlor at 4400 Lawndale avenue, Lyons, last night.

Sandol's wife, Mary, was in the front of the place at the time, and his sons, Edward, 21, and George, 16, were in their bedroom off the kitchen.

Suddenly there was a shot. The boys ran to the kitchen and found Sandol slumped over his chair, alongside the table. He was dead from a charge of shotgun pellets in the face. On the table lay a dollar bill. Neither the wife nor sons saw any one enter or leave the place.

FAMILY EXILE FOR 39 YEARS RETURNS HOME

Thirty-nine years ago Charles Haas, now 57 years old, ran away from his Cincinnati home. Time rolled on, his parents died, and his share of the estate was left in trust. Twenty-four years ago Haas was declared legally dead, and his inheritance was distributed among his kin.

Yesterday Haas walked into the Emergency Relief Fund shelter at 116 South Green street at the summons of Director Robert W. Beasley. As he entered the office a kindly faced woman with graying hair arose. She looked at Haas. "Charles!" she said simply. Haas studied her for a moment, then put his arms around her.

She was his sister, now Mrs. Margaret Bave, of Bond Hill, O., whom he last saw thirty-nine years ago as a little girl in pigtails. Haas told his story. He left home because he considered his father's treatment too harsh. Until recently he had worked steadily, and only last week applied for aid. This application carried enough data to enable Director Beasley to trace Haas' relatives. Haas was happy last night as he left on a midnight train to find a permanent home with his sister.

Mystery Blaze Burns Man to Death in Factory

Leo Ozright, 43 years old, a fireman at the plant of the Nachman Springfilled company, spring makers, 2241 South Halsted street, was burned to death early this morning while at work. The accident is a mystery. A watchman saw a burst of fire in the basement of the place and saw Ozright in flames. He extinguished the burning garments of the man with water, but too late to save him.

New Fighting GripsShanghai as Truce Fails

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1 (Monday).—The roar of artillery, the rattle of machine gun fire, and the whizzing of rifle bullets early this morning again shattered all hopes of an effective truce in this war ridden city.

EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM. [Acme Photo.]

The renewal of fighting came on the heels of reports that hostilities between China and Japan had extended to Swatow in Kwantung, China's most southern province. Dispatches said that the Japanese consul at that city had delivered an ultimatum to the Chinese municipal government demanding the instantaneous suppression of the anti-Japanese boycott movement. The Japanese consul threatened an early landing of marines.

Chinese authorities in the district, embracing eastern Kwantung, have telegraphed to Canton for military reinforcements. Martial law has been declared and practically all Japanese residents are preparing to evacuate.

American Warships Welcomed.

While bullets were whining over the heads of fleeing Chinese in Shanghai, four American destroyers rode to anchor at the mouth of the Yangtze river. Their arrival here was welcomed not only by Americans but by the entire foreign settlement.

The so-called armistice, which is only technically effective, has not prevented continued clashes by the opposing forces. At 11 o'clock this morning gunfire from the Chapei native district was again audible throughout the international settlement.

With the renewal of fighting, the Chinese and foreign population continues in a state of terror.

Japanese Evict Thousands.

The Japanese forces holding the Hongkew section of the international settlement today continued to evict literally tens of thousands of Chinese from their homes. It is estimated that more than 100,000 Chinese have left the area for the district guarded by the American and British forces.

The Anglo-American district is now crowded to suffocation and every residence, apartment house, office building, and even the alleys are packed with terrorized men, women, and children.

The six story office building housing THE TRIBUNE office is crowded from basement to roof with hundreds of Chinese. They sleep on concrete floors, many without blankets. The roof of the building is covered with spectators watching the slowly dying conflagration in the Chapei district and listening to the gunfire. The fire loss in the Chapei district is estimated at $10,000,000. The Chinese have accused the Japanese forces of feeding the blaze with kerosene.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1 (Monday).—Japanese gunboats today bombarded Swatow, enforcing the Japanese consul's ultimatum to suppress anti-Japanese organizations. The ultimatum was to have expired tomorrow.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—In the sharpest note dispatched to Tokio up to date, President Hoover has demanded that Japan get out of the international settlement in Shanghai and stay out.

To back up his demands the President has ordered Rear Admiral M. M. Taylor and additional warships of the Asiatic fleet together with a regiment of infantry and 400 more marines to Shanghai for the protection of American citizens.

The latest note to Japan was cabled last night, at which time the President gave orders for the reinforcement of the American naval forces at Shanghai with the new 8 inch gun cruiser Houston, which is Admiral Taylor's flagship, and with seven destroyers. The cruiser and the destroyers left Manila this morning. When they arrive the United States will have one cruiser and thirteen destroyers at Shanghai.

Other Ships Stand By.

In addition, the navy department ordered the submarine tenders Beaver and Canopus and the destroyer tender Black Hawk at Manila to be kept available for service in China for the evacuation of American citizens if necessary.

Whether such evacuation will be necessary is not yet known. Reports to the navy department today were encouraging rather than otherwise. The latest advices were that Shanghai was comparatively quiet and efforts were being made to continue the truce between the Japanese and others, while Nanking had abandoned thoughts of declaring war on Japan.

The American destroyers Truxton and Borie have been at Shanghai, and four other destroyers arrived today from Manila to proceed up the Yangtze to protect American rights along that river.

Taylor Senior Officer.

When Admiral Taylor arrives at Shanghai, as now understood here, he will be the senior naval officer present, and as such will in ordinary course be the official spokesman for the foreign naval officers. A similar function is exercised by Consul General Cunningham, the senior consular officer of the various powers in Shanghai.

Preparatory orders have been issued to marine units in Quantico, Va., and San Diego, Cal., with a view to the possibility that they may have to be sent to the far east. These orders are understood to be equivalent to placing the units on an embarkation status, but it was said by high officials tonight that no actual orders have been issued moving them or even for sending the marines from the east coast expeditionary base at Quantico to San Diego or other points.

Decision at Conference.

The dispatch of soldiers and additional marines was decided upon at the White House conference this afternoon at which Hoover and the heads of the state, war and navy departments surveyed the critical situation produced by Japan's war on China.

The demand that Japan withdraw her expeditionary forces from the Shanghai international settlement, while couched in diplomatic terms, conveys in no uncertain manner the resentment of the American government stirred by the Japanese invasion of this area, particularly after the assurances given by Tokio that the immunity of that quarter of the city would be respected. The note charges in effect a violation of international rights by Japan in occupying with armed forces a portion of the city that has the status of American soil.

Japanese as well as British and Americans live in the international settlement which is administered and policed by British, Americans, and Japanese. No objection is raised to the presence of Japanese subjects and the normal number of Japanese guards in the settlement. The demand made of Japan is the withdrawal of the expeditionary troops landed from Japanese warships and transports which bombarded the Chinese quarter and finally invaded the international settlement and proceeded to make it a base of operations.

British Demand Similar.

A similar demand has been lodged at Tokio by the British government which is backing up its action with the dispatch of three more 8-inch gun cruisers and a battalion and battery of troops to Shanghai. With these reinforcements the British will have 3,000 soldiers on the scene.

France is reported to have decided to coöperate with the London and Washington governments in the far eastern emergency and send cruisers to Shanghai. Italy has already landed marines in the international settlement, signifying that she was associating herself in the general movement so that the menace to international rights through the fighting between Japan and China has now raised a united world front of the major powers in protection of their own interests.

American and British officials at Shanghai accuse the Japanese forces of committing grave excesses. According to the accounts the Japanese suffered a serious repulse at the hands of Chinese infantrymen in the assault on the city and thereafter ran amuck wreaking vengeance on the civil position and winding up by invading the international settlement.

Report School Invaded.

The extent of the Japanese invasion of the international settlement was not definitely disclosed by the information available here tonight. The only details which the state department was willing to make public were in the following synopsis of the official report:

"About midnight of the 29th a crowd of Japanese vigilantes wearing arm bands, together with armed Japanese marines, entered the American law school, which is the law school of the Soochow university, an American missionary institution. This school is on the Quinsan road in the international settlement. They were ostensibly searching for arms. Some damage was done to furniture and fixtures. This school and the Soochow university middle school were then sealed by Japanese military. Other similar instances are reported, some causing considerable damage."

In the light of the official reports President Hoover and the advisers who met with him this afternoon came to the conclusion that reinforcement of the American marines ashore at Shanghai is essential to the furnishing of adequate protection to Americans and their properties in and around Shanghai.

Infantry Ordered to Duty.

In accord with this decision Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of the army general staff, ordered the 31st infantry from the Philippines to duty at Shanghai and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, ordered 400 more marines to the Chino-Japanese war front. The infantry regiment and the marines will leave Manila tomorrow aboard the army transport Chaumont.

The naval reinforcements will reach Shanghai Tuesday night and the soldiers and marines Wednesday night. Together with the marines now in Shanghai the United States by the middle of the week will have 2,800 fighting men ashore in the war torn Chinese metropolis.

Plan Fullest Protection.

That the United States purposes to give the fullest protection possible to the international settlement in Shanghai where American citizens reside and pursue their business was the summation given of the White House conference at which the critical posture of affairs in the far east was considered for more than two hours.

The President called the conference after receiving a report from Edward S. Cunningham, the American consul general at Shanghai which disclosed a far more serious situation than previously had been indicated. According to his account the Japanese forces ashore have shown little disposition to respect the neutrality of the international settlement but have invaded portions of the area and proceeded to use it as a base of operations against the Chinese quarter.

Consul General Cunningham also reported that he was making representations to Consul General Mural of Japan for damage done American property in the international settlement by Japanese vigilantes.

Sees Peril to Americans.

The consul general gave it as his opinion that the 5,000 Americans in Shanghai are in the greatest danger. He deemed it imperative to send the entire Asiatic fleet to the scene and emphasized the need of additional forces ashore. The British consul general, Mr. Cunningham stated, was also of the opinion that the joint police force of the international settlement was inadequate to afford sufficient protection and had urged his government to send reinforcements of both naval and land units.

The officials who responded to the President's call for a conference were Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, William R. Castle, undersecretary of state; Chief of Staff MacArthur, and Chief of Naval Operations Pratt. Mr. Stimson brought with him a sheaf of the latest official reports on the progress of the Japanese offensive at Shanghai and the reactions of the Tokio government to the protests made both by the American and the British governments in the last three days against the operations threatening the safety of American citizens and British subjects in the international settlement.

According to participants in the conference nothing was considered beyond the immediate needs for adequate protection of the Americans at Shanghai. The larger question of measures to coerce Japan into withdrawing from Chinese soil as President Hoover and Mr. Stimson have undertaken in an effort to enforce the Kellogg anti-war pact was not touched upon.

That consideration was given to sending to Shanghai part of the battle fleet now steaming to the Hawaiian islands for the winter maneuvers was denied. In naval circles, however, it is expected that if the forces of the Asiatic fleet prove insufficient for the protection of American interests in China, some cruisers and destroyers, an aircraft carrier and perhaps one or more battleships will be detached from the battle fleet and sent to China. The battle fleet will be engaged in the maneuvers in mid-Pacific for nearly two months.

At the conclusion of the conference the White House issued the following statement:

"A conference was held by the President today with the secretaries of state, war, and navy, Undersecretary of State Castle, Chief of Staff Gen. MacArthur, and Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Pratt. The request of the American Consul General Cunningham and our naval officers at Shanghai for still further protection of the American citizens in the international settlement at Shanghai was considered.

"Directions have been given to send to Shanghai the 31st regiment of about 1,000 men now at Manila, together with 400 marines, on the transport Chaumont, leaving tomorrow. The cruiser Houston and six destroyers left Manila this morning for Shanghai.

The White House statement was incorrect in one detail. The navy department announced tonight that seven destroyers instead of six had left Manila this morning with the cruiser Houston.

"With the additions to the marines already there the total American forces in the settlement will number about 2,800. As soon as conditions permit the troops will be returned to Manila."

The 31st infantry is the ace army regiment of the Philippine islands. Commanded by Col. Lorenzo D. Gasser, a native of Ohio, the regiment is assigned to guard Corregidor island. It was organized during the world war for service in Russia.

THE FAR EAST CRISIS AND MOVES BY U. S.

1. The United States battle fleet of 65 ships and 27,000 officers and men sails from San Pedro, Cal., for Hawaiian islands for gigantic war game.

2. Hawaiian islands, where naval and land forces will attempt to repel the "attack" and "invasion" of the American battle fleet.

3. New fighting breaks out in Shanghai despite a new technical armistice created at a conference between representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Japan and China. Many reported slain in clash between Japanese marines and Chinese.

4. Asiatic fleet of eight warships sails from Manila for Shanghai. Thirty-first infantry regiment ordered to sail from Philippines for Shanghai together with 400 marines today aboard transport Chaumont.

5. Japanese marines land in Hankow, China, and erect barricades in streets of Japanese concession.

6. While heads of Chinese government are traveling to Honanfu, new Chinese capital in the interior, 30,000 Chinese troops stream into Nanking, the old capital, to defend it.

7. Four hundred Chinese soldiers reported slain by Japanese troops moving on Harbin in Manchuria in hand-to-hand encounter.

8. Mukden, where Sino-Japanese conflict began Sept. 18, last, when Japanese seized the city after Chinese are alleged to have blown up a railway bridge.

9. Japanese serve ultimatum on Swatow municipal government in Kwantung province to cease anti-Japanese boycott movement and threaten to land marines. Chinese declare martial law and call for military assistance.

10. Foreign Minister Yoshizawa of Japan asks support of American, British and French governments for measures to persuade Chinese to abandon warlike operations in Shanghai at conference in Tokio.

11. French armored cruiser ordered to stand by at Saigon to proceed to Shanghai for protection of French residents.

U. S. MILITARY FORCE NOW IN CHINA ZONE OR ORDERED THERE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Here is a lineup of the military forces of the United States either now in China or going:

NAVY—Cruiser Houston en route to Shanghai, 611 aboard transport Chaumont for Shanghai.

Destroyers—At Shanghai, 6, with 702 aboard; leaving Manila, 7, with 847 aboard; at Nanking, 1, 121 aboard; in south China waters within 400 miles of Shanghai, 3, 363 aboard; at Manila, 2, 242 aboard.

On the Yangtze river are seven small gunboats, 600 to 1,500 miles above Shanghai, with 329 aboard. Two gunboats with 146 aboard are at Canton, 700 miles from Shanghai. Twenty-four other ships and craft, including air and submarine, with a total personnel of 2,175, are at Manila. One gunboat with 157 aboard is at Hsin Ho, 600 miles north of Shanghai.

JAPAN ASSAILED BY SHANGHAI'S AMERICAN PAPER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1 [Monday].—The Evening Post, the only American daily newspaper in Shanghai, today published a front page editorial headed: "To those who have abused a trust—get out!"

The newspaper denounces Japanese military forces and gunmen and says "they not only have lost their usefulness as part of Shanghai's defense force but have forfeited the right to remain on the soil of the international settlement."

"The plain fact," the editorial continues, "is that Japan is waging war against China and is most improperly using the international settlement's neutral soil as a base."

4 Gunmen Invade Cafe, Rob 14 Men and 7 Women

Four men, two armed with shotguns and two with pistols, entered the Lincoln Square restaurant at 4760 Lincoln avenue early this morning and compelled the manager, Samuel Nicholson, and twenty patrons, including seven women, to line up against a wall. After taking $160 from Nicholson and about $125 from the customers the robbers became alarmed by the screams of several of the women. They fled to an automobile at the curb, in which sat two other members of the bandit band, and all drove away.

Western Springs Mother Fears for Girl in Shanghai

Mrs. A. A. Mertsky of Western Springs yesterday expressed concern over her daughter, Miss Grace Mertsky, a graduate of Northwestern university, who has been living in the French concession at Shanghai. The last word received from Miss Mertsky, who went to China two years ago after finishing her course in land economics at Northwestern, was a cablegram she sent on Dec. 9. She has a position as a statistician for a realty company.

JAPAN APPEALS FOR HELP; FEARS CHINESE ATTACK

TOKIO, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa today asked the American, British, and French ambassadors to solicit the support of their governments for measures to persuade the Chinese to abandon warlike operations at Shanghai.

The foreign minister called in the ambassadors after receiving from the military intelligence service alarming reports that Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek, former president of China, was effecting a heavy concentration of his troops in the Shanghai area.

After his conference with the envoys, Yoshizawa told foreign newspaper correspondents that unless the Shanghai situation was relieved quickly "The Japanese army probably will be called."

The foreign minister emphasized that Japanese bluejackets now in Shanghai are in danger of annihilation as they are facing 30,000 crack Chinese troops and reports have been received that Marshal Chiang is rushing four squadrons of airplanes into the area for a major offensive.

The American, British, and French ambassadors were summoned, it was explained, for the purpose of dissipating misapprehensions and misunderstandings abroad concerning Japan's position in Shanghai.

Confers with Ambassadors.

The foreign minister conferred for an hour and a half with Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador, for about the same length of time with W. Cameron Forbes, the American ambassador, and for slightly more than an hour with Count De Marte, the Paris representative.

Receiving foreign correspondents immediately thereafter, Yoshizawa said the ambassadors had agreed to transmit his request that the three governments attempt to persuade China against belligerent operations.

The foreign minister appeared tired. From hastily scribbled notes and from a war office intelligence report, he delivered his chronological narration of the Shanghai incident in English.

Japan's Version on Shanghai.

"With the view of dissipating some misunderstanding which seems to exist in various quarters, I decided to explain the situation to the British, American, and French ambassadors fully," he began.

"In the first place our consular and naval representatives have not ignored the spirit of collaboration. Consul General Murai presented Japan's demands to Mayor Wu Tehcheng Jan. 21, the demands including an item for the suppression of the anti-Japanese movement.

"On its own initiative Jan. 25 the [Shanghai] municipal council decided to close the Chinese newspaper Ming Kwo Jih Pao and also to close the headquarters of the anti-Japanese society.

City Closes Newspaper.

"The municipal authorities closed the newspaper Jan. 26 and Murai was given to understand the municipality would assist him when the Japanese should take steps for closing the anti-Japanese society, the Japanese having informed the municipality of the steps contemplated for dissolving the society.

"The details for closing the anti-Japanese society were discussed by Japanese naval officers and the municipal police. Murai himself, Jan. 27, explained to the British, American and French consul generals our position in the steps contemplated.

"The same day the commander of the foreign armed forces held a conference at which a plan for joint defense of the settlement was adopted.

"Secondly, I emphasize that the Sino-Japanese clash is independent of the acceptance of the Japanese demands by Mayor Wu at 3:15 p. m. last Thursday. This was satisfactory to our representatives who decided to keep a close watch to see if the Chinese kept the terms.

Says Chinese Fired First.

"Meanwhile unrest increased among the population and a mob assembled near the mayor's office and wild rumors were circulated. The municipality declared a state of siege at 4 p. m. and Japanese bluejackets began to take position in the sector allotted to them.

"As they proceeded to the North Szechuan road they were fired upon by the Chinese and thereupon a clash ensued.

"Through the good offices of the American and British consuls general a truce was concluded effective at 8 p. m. Friday, but regardless of this the Chinese again opened fire early Saturday morning, Jan. 30, using an armored train, the shells falling in a part of the international settlement where many Japanese reside.

Fears Chinese Offensive.

"According to information reaching us, Chiang Kai-shek is concentrating the 3rd and 19th divisions of his guard in the vicinity of Shanghai, which is expected to be completed today. Chiang is said to have ordered four companies of airplanes from Honan to advance via Nanking.

"Reports indicate that Chiang, in case of necessity, plans to bring further reinforcements from Honan and to begin an offensive as soon as reinforcements arrive.

"This sort of attitude of the Chinese is incompatible with their attitude in Geneva, where they have submitted a new proposal. Unless the Chinese cease reinforcing or withdraw to a certain distance, not only the position of the Japanese bluejackets but also the settlement itself will be exposed to the greatest danger.

"We are now obliged to consider what steps we should take to cope with the emergency."

Plunges in Auto 200 Ft. Lands in Creek; May Live

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 31.—(AP)—R. A. Saxton of Alameda, Cal., lives to tell about a plunge of 200 feet down a canyon near here with his motor car last night. He was pitched into the swollen waters of a creek. A rescue party found him an hour later unconscious and seriously injured, but alive. Saxton's 11 year old son, George, apprehensive when his father sought to turn his car around on the narrow one-way road, got out of the car a moment before it fell.

30,000 Crack Chinese Troops Arrive to Defend Nanking

NANKING.—[Monday.]—Feb. 1.—(AP)—Thirty thousand national guardsmen, the finest troops in all China, streamed into Nanking today from Honan province.

This crack division, equipped with German automatic rifles and clad in smart green uniforms, will be stationed here in order to defend the city in case of a Japanese attack, it was announced, although there were reports it might be destined for service in Shanghai.

The mayor of Nanking was assured by the Japanese consul that although seven ships of war have been concentrated in the Yangtze river, no offensive would be opened against the city. He expressed the hope the Chinese troops would refrain from any hostile action in order to avoid anything similar to what has happened in Shanghai.

Barricades Are Removed.

Breast high sand bag barricades erected in various parts of the city yesterday were removed in order to avoid possible misunderstanding.

The foreign office protested to the American and British governments that the Japanese had used the Shanghai international settlement as a base of operations against the Chinese.

Despite assurance from the Japanese authorities that no attack would be made, Nanking was restive. An incident shortly after midnight illustrated this tenseness. Lights went out all over the city—and immediately there was a great crop of reports that Japanese airmen were on the way from Shanghai to raid Nanking.

Test Alarm Signals.

This apprehension was allayed when the military authorities announced they had turned off the lights while experimenting with a newly installed system of alarm signals to be used in the event of trouble.

Several Chinese cultural organizations cabled to the chairman of the committee on intellectual coöperation of the league of nations protesting against the destruction of various Chinese institutions at Shanghai by the Japanese. The protest said:

"In behalf of the Academica Sinica, Central university, Peiping university, Chunshan university, Wuhan university, and Tsinghua university, we solicit your attention to the wanton destruction of the Chapei and Kiangwan cultural districts of Shanghai by the Japanese.

"Cultural institutions situated within those districts, such as the Commercial Press, the largest cultural enterprise of China; Tchinan university, and other similar institutions, have been deliberately destroyed by Japanese air raids. You are requested to urge the league to act to prevent continuance of such atrocities against civilization and human progress."

Two Chinese Warships on Hand.

The protest bore the signatures of numerous outstanding Chinese intellectuals.

In addition to the seven Japanese vessels lying off Nanking, there are two Chinese warships, one British, and one American.

The first group of government leaders enroute from Nanking to Honanfu, the new capital far removed from the menace of the Japanese military, was expected to arrive there tonight. The group was headed by former President Chiang Kai-shek, who has become virtual dictator of the country.

Plans were to complete the government evacuation of Nanking by Wednesday.

British Land and Sea Forces Are Ordered to Shanghai

BULLETIN.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Coöperating with the United States in the Sino-Japanese crisis, the British government is rushing land and sea reinforcements to Shanghai to protect the international settlement and if possible to avert a general conflict.

Prime Minister MacDonald's official residence at 10 Downing street and the foreign office hummed with excitement throughout the day. The prime minister returned from the north of England last night to assist the government officials, who this morning were joined by that significant figure, Field Marshal Sir George Milne, chief of the imperial general staff.

Foreign Minister Attends.

Sir John Simon, foreign minister, still weak from an attack of influenza, attended the session with a heavy woolen muffler wrapped around his neck. Others present were Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, and Sir Robert Vansittart, permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs.

The results of the day's deliberations were rushed back and forth between 10 Downing street and the foreign office in red dispatch boxes.

The foreign office hopes to establish a neutral zone between the combatants in Shanghai, in which the British propose to station their own troops. The United States is being requested to agree to the same scheme.

So dangerous does the British government regard the Sino-Japanese situation that an emergency staff is being kept on duty at the war office and all other essential departments throughout the night.

Many important callers visited 10 Downing street tonight. Prominent among these was Ray Atherton, American chargé d'affaires, who made several calls upon Prime Minister MacDonald.

It was announced that Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, has suspended arrangements for going to Geneva and that his future movements will be governed by developments in the far east.

The government communique issued by the foreign office tonight read:

"The situation at Shanghai was discussed this morning and the military and naval position considered. In addition to three battalions already at Shanghai, namely, the Scots Fusiliers, Lincolns and Wiltshires, it was decided to dispatch a warship from Hongkong carrying a battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery. This was in answer to a request from Brig. Gen. Fleming for reinforcements.

"The naval force at Shanghai consisting at present of H. M. S. Cornwall and Sandwich, together with two gunboats, will be shortly reinforced by the arrival of H. M. S. Kent from Batavia. H. M. S. Suffolk was due to arrive today from Hongkong.

Propose Neutral Zone.

"At a meeting today at Shanghai, which was presided over by his majesty's consul general, at which the American consul general was also present with the Japanese and Chinese commanders, it was proposed to establish a neutral zone between the Chinese and Japanese troops to be occupied by troops of neutral powers having forces in the international settlement.

"His majesty's consul general has now been informed that the necessary arrangements should be made for the British troops to coöperate if the neutral zone can be established and the United States government has been requested to take similar action. His majesty's government is also urging the Japanese and Chinese governments to accept the scheme for a neutral zone and issue immediate instructions to their troops accordingly."

It is understood that the communique voices the British viewpoint that the international settlement at Shanghai must be protected in such a way as to prevent a breach of any sort.

NEW FIGHTING GRIPS SHANGHAI AS TRUCE FAILS

Many Are Killed in Heavy Gunfire.

and running pell mell up and down the streets are many ambulances. Some of them are mere delivery trucks carrying Red Cross banners. They are rushing the dead and wounded to morgues and hospitals.

I saw three large auto trucks carrying wounded Chinese civilians from the Chapei district.

Many American and British women, who are social leaders here, are now clad in Red Cross garb. They are seen dashing about the streets in motor trucks on errands of mercy to Chinese women and children.

Fighting Follows "Peace" Parley.

The new fighting in Shanghai followed a day of negotiations between United States Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham, British Consul General J. F. Brennan, Brig. Gen. Fleming, commander of the British forces; Rear Admiral Koichi Shiosawa, commander of the Japanese fleet of 34 war vessels in Shanghai harbor; Wu Teh-chen, Chinese mayor, and a representative of Gen. Tsai Ting-kai, commander of the 19th Chinese army, opposing the Japanese at Shanghai.

The conference opened at 10 a. m. yesterday in the offices of the British consul general and lasted until 12:30 p. m. It was resumed at 3 p. m. and lasted until 6 p. m. The conference was called by the British and American consuls acting under instructions received from their respective governments.

Upon the conclusion of the meeting the only statement issued was that "the armistice signed at 8 p. m. on Jan. 29 is expected to continue pending receipt of further advices from Tokio and Honanfu [new capital of China]."

Calls Outlook "Discouraging."

Cunningham, who has taken part in all the meetings between the Chinese and Japanese officials since the trouble began, said that the outlook is most discouraging. He added that he hoped for a more favorable development within the next three days when the Japanese are expected to receive a reply from Tokio.

In the meantime the Chinese government, which has transferred its seat to Honanfu from Nanking, more than 500 miles inland, has apparently decided not to declare war against Japan, but will use Chinese manpower to the utmost to resist the Japanese.

It is understood that today's conference centered on a question of withdrawal of the opposing troops to a specified distance, thus creating a neutral zone along the railway tracks skirting the northern border of the international settlement. This area would possibly be patrolled for a certain period by British and American forces.

One report said that the Japanese demanded that the Chinese withdraw several miles from the neutral area. The Chinese countered by asking that the Japanese naval force be withdrawn. The question of so-called plain clothes men carrying arms also figured in the discussion, the Japanese demanding that the Chinese withdraw snipers while the Chinese requested that the Japanese recall the horde of reservists and so-called gangsters who have been parading the streets carrying baseball bats which they used freely on the Chinese population.

It is understood that the British and American consuls also pressed the Japanese to withdraw their reservists wearing civilian clothes and who carry pistols and short swords. They have been responsible for great disorder within the areas patrolled by British and American forces.

Report Japanese in Hankow.

Dispatches from Hankow today said that Japanese marines have landed there and are taking positions in the Japanese concession. The bluejackets, the dispatch said, are erecting barbed wire barricades.

An unconfirmed report today said that Japanese forces had executed 20 Chinese within the yard of the Chinese Christian church in the Hongkew area. The Japanese, the report said, caught 28 Chinese on the church grounds Saturday night. Eight, it was said, escaped and the rest were killed on the spot.

One Chinese pedestrian was killed late yesterday by Japanese snipers in a street adjacent to the palatial Cathay hotel, located on the Bund and Nanking roads and occupied by several hundred guests, including travelers from all over the world.

Shots Strike Hotel.

More than twenty revolver shots were fired into the streets from the roofs of buildings yesterday afternoon. Several shots struck the Cathay hotel and one passed through an open window into the room occupied by A. E. Tipper, British resident of Tientsin He was uninjured.

Within a few moments a number of Japanese reservists suddenly appeared near the Garden bridge in front of the British consulate and the Astor hotel and opened fire. Two Chinese were wounded and one killed.

Firing by the Japanese reservists was responsible for a wild rumor that a machine gun from a Japanese gunboat stationed in the river adjacent to the Japanese consulate had opened fire on the densely crowded Bund. The Japanese consulate denied the report.

The excitement quickly extended to the guests of the Astor hotel, causing a general exodus across the Garden bridge spanning Soochow creek into the area of the settlement guarded by the British and American forces.

Sniping, consisting of pistol firing near the Cathay hotel, was resumed shortly after 11 o'clock last night despite efforts by the British controlled police department which searched all buildings and roofs in the vicinity.

Planes Circle City.

Japanese activities on Sunday again opened with airplane reconnaissance, seventeen bombing and scouting planes circling over the city and its environs. No bombs, however, were dropped.

After the airplane reconnaissance, Japanese Consul Kuramatsu Murai ordered all Japanese residents to evacuate the section of the international settlement patrolled by British and American forces. He said he feared Chinese snipers.

This caused further confusion in the streets. Hundreds of Japanese civilians evacuating the Anglo-American area met thousands of terrified Chinese who were fleeing from the Hongkew district.

Martial Law Proclaimed.

The Shanghai municipal council, the administrative body of the international settlement, has proclaimed martial law, beginning today at 10 p. m. No one will be allowed on the streets between 10 p. m. and 5 a. m. without a special pass.

The council also created an emergency commission with three chief duties: first, to mobilize the man power of the foreign population, requiring all able bodied males to serve in the volunteer corps; second, to organize the food and fuel supplies; third, to take steps pertaining to safety of residents and prepare for a possible evacuation.

Many Chinese Slain.

SHANGHAI, [Monday]—Feb. 1.—(AP)—Fighting early today broke out in the northern district of the city. It lasted more than an hour. Then there was a lull—a development seized upon by some observers as indicating a cessation of hostilities and interpreted by others as only a temporary break.

The situation within the international settlement was infinitely more serious than at any time since the hostilities broke out.

Sunday was a bloody day. There were outbreaks of rifle fire in the downtown area of Hongkew and in the French concession, with a loss of many Chinese lives and fewer Japanese.

Marines Seize Japanese.

A serious outbreak occurred in the east Hongkew district, near the wharves of Japanese steamship interests. Heavy casualties were suffered here by both the Chinese and Japanese. Most of those killed in these affrays were bystanders caught by stray bullets.

United States marines have arrested twenty-seven Japanese "volunteer reservists" in the American area of the international settlement, where great numbers of Japanese continue pursuit of Chinese refugees and snipers.

Chinese newspapers today quoted E. Koechlin, French consul general as saying that French authorities would oppose any movement of Japanese troops into the French concession here. French military authorities refused to permit the Japanese officials to send troops into the concession to guard Tungwen college, Japanese institution. French marines will guard the college.

France Adds Its Strength.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—(AP)—France has joined with the United States and Great Britain in representations to Japan that the international settlement in Shanghai be respected, it was officially announced tonight. A French armored cruiser now at Saigon, China, and other naval units in far eastern waters will sail soon for Shanghai to protect French residents there, the government added.

AMERICAN MINISTER LEAVES PEIPING WITH HIS WIFE AND STAFF

NELSON JOHNSON. [Harris and Ewing.]

Outlying sections of north China reported tonight that business is going on as usual, railways are operating, and there are no disorders anywhere.

Chinese authorities in the northern sections have forbidden demonstrations against the Japanese.

Chinese Reported Driven Back After Attack.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Feb. 1 (Monday).—A train carrying the vanguard of the Japanese brigade under Gen. Hasebe was derailed and overturned about ten miles southeast of Harbin yesterday, according to a Harbin dispatch. The rails had been tampered with.

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, Feb. 1 (Monday).—(AP)—L. M. Karakhan, soviet Russian acting commissar for foreign affairs, informed Japanese Ambassador Hirota today that Russia might be compelled to protest against the entry of Japanese troops into Harbin, Manchuria, the ambassador informed the foreign office here. In authoritative circles here it was stated the advance on Harbin will be continued.

TOKIO, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A savage engagement resulting in heavy casualties was fought near Harbin, Manchuria, today between Japanese forces and Chinese soldiers attached to Gen. Ting Chao, commander of the Chinese Eastern railway guards.

News dispatches said 400 Chinese were killed in a conflict lasting several hours and listed the Japanese losses at 21 killed and 38 wounded. The Chinese were said to have been driven back.

After a preliminary artillery bombardment in which a number of shells struck a Japanese military train, the Chinese attacked the railway station at Shuang Chen, south of Harbin, and conducted a ferocious bayonet charge against the Japanese defenders. They were repulsed and a lull in hostilities ensued.

Fight at Close Range.

The Rengo [Japanese] News agency correspondent at Shuang Chen described the fighting as the hottest at close range since the occupation of Manchuria.

Under the personal direction of Gen. Hasebe, the Japanese fought hand to hand at dawn with an enemy force numbering about 3,000 men. The general was in the thick of the battle at all times, once within 300 yards of the Chinese, and kept shouting a Japanese proverb, "So long as I am alive, boys, you are safe."

Chinese Near Victory.

In attacking the railway station where Japanese were sleeping the Chinese advanced rapidly by the use of rifles, with the apparent intention of annihilating their adversaries. The Japanese failed to halt the onrush until the Chinese had almost reached the station, in front of which they came to grips.

In view of reports that Gen. Ting was concentrating for a renewed assault, the Japanese command was anxiously awaiting the arrival of reinforcements promised for tomorrow.

A Japanese detachment under the command of Gen. Jiro Tamon, hero of the march on Tsitsihar, was expected to arrive at Harbin tomorrow over the Chinese Eastern line to protect their nationals from the inroads of Gen. Ting's troops and from a repetition of recent sanguinary rioting.

Officials of the railroad, jointly owned and operated by China and Russia, were reported to have agreed to the use of the branch of the line between Changchun and Harbin for the transportation of Japanese troops to the north, and the manager has gone to Changchun to make arrangements.

Soviet Grants Permission.

The board of directors previously refused to permit Japanese troop movements over the line, but the soviet government pronounced its approval provided Chinese authorities in Peiping and Nanking agreed. Whether this permission was obtained was not revealed.

His fellow Boy Scouts, with members of the Glen Ellyn and state highway police forces, were turned out yesterday to search the vicinity of the suburb for Jack Entler, 15 years old. He ran away from home Saturday after being reprimanded for falling behind in his studies at Glenbard High school, where he is a second year student. The youth is a son of Claude L. Entler, 402 Taylor avenue, Glen Ellyn, an engineer for the telephone company. The boy is small for his age, standing 5 feet tall and weighing 90 pounds. He wore a leather coat and high shoes when he left home.

CHINA CHARGES JAPAN STARTED RUMORS OF WAR

Tells League It Was a "Tokio Trick."

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Jan. 31.—The Chinese delegation today charged that the Japanese were guilty of starting the rumors of the Chinese declaration of war that so confused the league of nations at the beginning of its efforts to investigate the conflict in Shanghai.

HUGH S. GIBSON.

"The Japanese did this as a means of further befogging the issue which, as far as the league is concerned, is plain," Dr. W. W. Yen, Chinese delegate, said.

The Japanese here loudly retorted that the situation in China clearly reveals that no government there has sufficient authority for the league council to automatically accept the invocation of article XV., to set the emergency machinery for such an investigation into motion, and to attempt to find a definite solution even though the article requires its unquestioning acceptance.

China Stirs League to Action.

It is pointed out, however, that for the council to investigate is one thing and for the council to decide on measures of redress is another. It appears, however, that the Chinese are ready to set all the machinery of the league going, even if it falls to pieces.

Under Article XV. they are entitled to submit the matter to the league assembly. They are also considering a formal appeal to the signatories of the Kellogg pact.

Delegations from 64 countries arriving here for the international disarmament conference were dismayed to learn that the council's deliberations on the Sino-Japanese disturbance are destined to go on. The arms delegations may even "steal" the show if China persists in her course of experimenting with the usefulness of the league.

China Charges Atrocities.

Dr. Yen again asked the league council to take "effective measures" to prevent Japanese aggression and preserve peace. He submitted three notes charging Japan with atrocities at Shanghai. The atrocities were mentioned in connection with the burning of Chapei, the native city, and the air bombardment in which "countless civilians" were killed.

The American disarmament delegation of 45 members from Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson to the secretaries held their first meeting today. It was in the nature of a roll call.

"Lord Mayor" of Shanghai Forecasts Japan War Move

Fort Fairfield, Me., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Japan's attack on Shanghai has long been expected by Stirling Fessenden, American lawyer who is "secretary general of the municipal council of the international settlement" in Shanghai and was forecast by him in letters to his mother, Mrs. Laura E. Fessenden of Fort Fairfield, who made public the letters today. Mr. Fessenden is known as "the Lord mayor of Shanghai."

Excerpts from the most recent letters from Mr. Fessenden to his mother follow:

"Oct. 8. The terrific feuds in China, the Japanese invasion of Manchuria, and Great Britain going off the gold basis have had such reactions here that I have lost count of time. The feeling between the Chinese and Japanese is tense, with the result that we are living on a powder magazine which a spark may explode at any minute."

"Not Understood by League."

"The situation is not rightly understood in America, nor by the league of nations," said another letter. "Japan is not indulging in 'bunk,' but means business and doesn't care a rap about America. She knows that America won't actually do much of anything beyond talking.

"The situation between the Chinese and Japanese is becoming more and more tense and serious and greatly increases my worries and responsibilities as chief executive officer of the municipal government of the international settlement. However, I enjoy tackling difficult situations. It gives a zest to life which one doesn't get under the monotony of normal conditions."

It is apparent in a letter of Dec. 30 that Mr. Fessenden could see that the Sino-Japanese crisis was coming to a head.

"Aside from the Japanese-Chinese situation, which is now tantamount to a state of war," he wrote, "there has been a tremendous upheaval in the Chinese government at Nanking, which increases our problems and difficulties. So far there have been no serious clashes between the local Chinese and Japanese, and you need have no worry as to my personal safety. Shanghai is well protected and defended.

"I should imagine that public sentiment in America is more with China than Japan. The majority of foreigners in China sympathize to a great extent with Japan, although they do not believe the protestations that emanate from Tokio, or trust the Tokio government.

Two Sides to Most Cases.

"There are usually two sides to most cases. The Chinese government is weak, corrupt and anti-foreign. Japan is greedy, unscrupulous and arrogant. China has done much to exasperate Japan and there is a deep racial hatred between them. These conditions inevitably lead to trouble.

"If China persists in disregarding treaties she will find herself at war with Japan.

"Japan is immeasurably stronger than China in military power, but weaker economically. China cannot fight Japan in any serious manner from the military point of view, but is strangling Japanese trade by a nationwide boycott. When the whole thing will end no one knows."

Mr. Fessenden has lived in Shanghai since 1903. He is the third American to be chief executive officer in the city since 1854.

Druggist Defies 2 Bandits; Hit with Gun, Robbed

When two bandits confronted Raymond F. O'Brien, 40 years old, in his drug store at 4300 Lake Park avenue last night, he calmly announced: "Put down your guns; I won't give you my money." One of the robbers hit O'Brien on the head with his gun butt. Two minutes later the gunmen fled with $300 from the druggist's till.

FRANCE TO LET LEAGUE SETTLE WAR IN FAR EAST

Will Take the Lead When Geneva Shows Way.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 31.—With Great Britain and America seemingly drawing closer together regarding Japan's military invasion of Shanghai, the foreign office today announced that France intends to confine its activities in the orient to the league of nations.

"Because Joseph Paul-Boncour is president of the league council it is necessary that France take the lead in any move by the league," a spokesman said.

According to the foreign office, Paris is not viewing the events at Shanghai with indifference or even with pro-Japanese sympathies. The foreign office has vigorously denied that France is doing anything but coöperating heartily with the British and the Americans in their efforts there.

Secret Alliance Charged.

It has been openly charged in the communist organ Humanité and by communist deputies on the floor of the chamber that France has a secret military alliance with Japan whereby the Nipponese are assured a free hand in Manchuria, while Japan will allow France to do as she pleases in south China — provinces bordering French Indo-China — where France's commercial and strategic interest is almost as great as Japan's in the north. No palpable facts, however, have ever been introduced in support of these charges.

On the other hand, France for several years has been playing a lone hand in the orient as far as other occidental powers are concerned, and she nearly always sees eye to eye with Japan on far eastern questions. Close and cordial relations have long existed between the French and Japanese armies and the sentimental tie was strengthened by the war in which Japan was a French ally.

In certain quarters, particularly British, emphasis is laid on the exchange of officers between the French and Japanese armies. A qualified authority of the ministry of war said there are a number of Japanese officers in the French superior school of war here and that a few French officers attached to the Japanese army for study each year.

Common Military Practice.

It is pointed out that the same arrangement existed between France and many other countries, including many "neutrals" like Sweden. The fact is that it is a common military practice except with the British. Information from a reliable American source here is that officers are also exchanged for study between the Japanese and United States armies.

A war ministry official has formally denied that any French officers attached to the Japanese army or Japanese officers attached to the French army held posts of "combat or command." He added that the number did not exceed "two or three on either side."

He also denied that any French officers are with the Japanese forces in China or Manchuria and repeated an official denial issued several weeks ago that any French military operations are contemplated or are proceeding near Indo-China.

Asked if the same exchange arrangement prevailed between the Chinese and French armies as between the French and Japanese, he said "No!"

What the "No's" Say.

Those who insist that there is no Franco-Japanese military entente argue that the native population of Indo-China is attached by powerful sentimental bonds to the great mother of Asiatic civilization and is innately hostile to the "upstart" Nipponese.

Paul Reynaud, colonial minister, who recently returned from an inspection of France's far eastern possession, pointed out this fact to the chamber of deputies a few days ago. In a secret hearing before the colonial committee he is said to have warned that ravoring Japan against China might cost the loyalty of the natives of Indo-China—something extremely serious in view of the unrest already existing in that colony.

It is learned that the anti-Japanese boycott has been maintained almost as firmly in Indo-China as in China proper, owing to the influence of Chinese merchants there.

Arguments of Other Side.

Here are some arguments tending to show that a Franco-Japanese military understanding, formal or informal, really exists:

Japan is France's best customer for Indo-Chinese rice. Last September before the attack on Mukden the officially subsidized military monthly review Militaire published an article which the communists allege justified in advance Japan's invasion of Manchuria.

The article mentioned that it was not impossible for France to be dragged in to protect her interests in Manchuria, notably in the Russian and Chinese owned Chinese Eastern railway. Reference to the railway is highly significant in itself because the French officially are not interested.

The railway, however, was built with money loaned to the czarist government of Russia and, since the bolsheviks repudiated the loan, many Frenchmen regard the railroad as being French property.

Aid Japanese Aviation.

It is known that French instructors, at least in the past, helped to train Japanese aviation forces. The socialist paper, Populaire, last month reported that the Japanese placed a large order for munitions with a French firm on condition that the French press would support the Japanese.

But much more important is the fact that Japan is the only big power to support the French thesis of security in the disarmament discussions.

In the Manchurian dispute the argument that Japan was enforcing her treaty rights carried great weight with the French. But what is said to be the most damaging evidence of all is the attitude of the French press, which aggressively supported the Japanese during the league's negotiations and termed them the bulwarks of civilization in the orient and the greatest protection against the bolshevik menace.

28 IN RUM PLOT CASE WILL HEAR FATE TOMORROW

Thirteen defendants who pleaded either guilty or nolo contendere, and fifteen others who were found guilty by a jury last week in the midwest liquor conspiracy case, will be sentenced tomorrow by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley. At the conclusion of the trial Judge Lindley imposed sentences ranging from two months' to two years' imprisonment on fifteen defendants in the case. Fines of $100 to $1,000 were also imposed on these defendants.

A majority of the alleged leaders of the syndicate—Robert W. Besse, former state's attorney of Whiteside county; Mike Meyers of Aurora, Paul and Tony Cinquinna of Chicago, and Richard Price of Waterloo, Ia.—remain to be sentenced tomorrow.

The syndicate, according to evidence produced at the trial by Prosecutor Daniel Anderson, manufactured and distributed thousands of gallons of alcohol throughout the central west from 1926 to 1930.

Only four of the original sixty defendants in the case were freed by the jury. Eight of the defendants could not be apprehended when the case was brought to trial, three won severances, and two were dismissed.

Former Sheriff Convicted on Hog Stealing Charge

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—The first conviction for hog stealing occurred in Adams county Saturday when a jury found E. O. Palmer guilty of grand larceny. Palmer was sheriff of Lewis county, Missouri, for three years. He stole a hog from Nina Virginia Grieser of Long Island. The jury placed the value of the hog at $20.

It's big NEWS
even in this brilliant year of automobile sensations

IF YOU have looked over the new motor cars offered for 1932 you know that never before has the automobile dollar bought so much beauty and comfort and performance.

If you have listened to explanation of the new-model features you know, too, that safety and silence keynote 1932 automotive engineering.

Because millions of dollars have been invested in developing higher speed, more powerful engines, stronger frames, simpler controls, better brakes — sure, safe traction in tires is more than ever desirable. Because other millions have been invested in perfecting sound-proofed bodies, balanced and cushioned engines, silenced carburetors, quiet gears — silence now assumes additional importance in tires as well.

Goodyear Offers the First Silent Non-Skid Tire

It is easy to quiet a tire by putting "sled-runner" ribs in the center of the tread, so that it runs on continuous tracks of rubber — but that tire lacks the power to grip and hold when brakes say "STOP."

On the other hand, a tread with husky blocks of rubber in the center to grip the road is likely to "drum" when it whirls against smooth highways. Automobile makers have long wanted both safety and silence — hence their heartfelt welcome of the new Goodyear Silent All-Weather, which they call "the smartest piece of tire engineering in years."

This remarkable tire — the first Silent Non-Skid — preserves all the traction in the center of the famed All-Weather Tread — yet blanks out all the noise — by such a skillful adjustment of design that only a keen eye can discover the difference.

If you want to know how soothingly silent — how luxuriously smooth — how completely safe the 1932 motor car can be, just take the wheel of any one of the Goodyear-shod new models awaiting your pleasure in the showrooms!

Safety with Silence

Non-skid treads are vital to safety, and the new Goodyear Silent All-Weather gives you that safety, yet ends all noise and vibration by the shifting of a fraction of an inch of rubber in the husky blocks of the design, so that blocks of the same size never follow each other. The result is the quietest, smoothest-running non-skid tread that ever gripped a highway

65 NAVAL SHIPS OFF FOR HAWAII SHAM WARFARE

U. S. Will Hold Greatest Peace Maneuvers.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31. — [Special.]—Sixty-five ships of the battle force began moving out of the San Pedro-San Diego area one minute after midnight tonight and by tomorrow Admiral Richard H. Leigh will have his powerful attacking fleet assembled at sea to begin the greatest peace time maneuvers ever attempted by any naval force.

In the final phases of the two war games between Hawaii and the California coast, more than 150 surface ships, 300 aircraft and approximately 42,000 men will be simultaneously engaged.

Reiterating his statement of last week, Admiral Leigh said no changes in the United States fleet's coming maneuvers are contemplated as result of the troubled situation in Shanghai.

Detroit First to Sail.

Just after midnight the cruiser Detroit, flying the flag of Rear Admiral William H. Standley, commanding the United States fleet destroyer flotillas, sailed from San Diego. Following her from the southern port were twenty-seven destroyers; the aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga, the latter flying the flag of Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commanding aircraft and carrier divisions of the United States fleet; cruiser division three (the battle force's latest acquisition), in command of Rear Admiral O. H. Woodward; five giant V-type submarines of submarine division twelve, under Capt. W. H. Friedel, and a half dozen tenders and auxiliaries.

Starting the sortie from San Pedro at daylight will be twelve auxiliaries of the base force, headed by the U. S. S. Argonne, flying the flag of Rear Admiral H. H. Hough.

At 8:15 a. m. will sail the nine ships of the dreadnaught squadron, in command of Vice Admiral Luke McNamee, aboard the U. S. S. West Virginia, and also including the force flagship, California, flying Admiral Leigh's four starred flag.

Transports Sail Today.

Also sailing from San Diego tomorrow morning will be the navy transport Henderson carrying a full equipped expeditionary force of 600 marines, while from San Francisco will sail the army transport St. Mihiel, carrying 600 troops of the 30th infantry and 76th field artillery, with 101 horses and mules and all guns and equipment for effecting a landing on a hostile coast.

At noon tomorrow all the above units will assemble at a rendezvous off San Clemente island and thenceforth until the fleet swoops down on the island of Oahu about Feb. 10 its westward movement will be shrouded in secrecy.

Becomes "Blue" Fleet.

At 5 a. m. on Feb. 6, the battle force becomes the "blue" fleet, which before midnight of Feb. 13 must attempt to land its soldiers and marines on the coast of Oahu against the concerted defensive efforts of all army and navy forces on the island.

After a month in Hawaiian waters, basing on Lahaina roads, on the island of Maui, the "blue" fleet will slip away from Hawaii sometime after midnight of March 8 and, still with its convoy of troop ships, "will attempt to seize a foothold on the west coast defended by the scouting force, or "black" fleet commanded by Vice Admiral Arthur L. Willard.

POSES AS BROTHER TO ESCAPE

Cornelius Montague, alias Alfred Russell, charged with the kidnaping of Dr. and Mrs. Max Gecht, who walked out of the county jail yesterday after exchanging clothes with his brother.

Stanley Montague, alias Stanley Russell, who was permitted to visit the county jail and exchange clothes with his brother, who was charged with kidnaping and who made his escape.

warden. It was said by the jail authorities that there was nothing unusual in the admittance of three adults and a child on a pass for two adults.

Sheriff Meyering's View.

Sheriff Meyering indicated that none of his subordinates would be suspended as a result of the escape of Montague.

"With guards getting only $142 month and not being paid since October," he said, "it's a wonder we don't have more jail deliveries. Many of these men and their families are in want and I think it creditable that they have made as good a record as they have."

State's Attorney Swanson declared he was "thoroughly disgusted with the whole matter." He added: "I am going to investigate further and shall surely take the matter before the grand jury if the situation warrants it."

Brother Confesses Plot.

Stanley Montague, who seemed to be intoxicated, admitted that he had been a conspirator and that he had dyed his hair on Saturday. He said the man who entered the jail with him and Cornelius Montague's wife and accompanied the kidnaper in his escape was not the man Casey named in the letter but Frank Montague.

According to Investigator Roche, the escaped prisoner had confessed that he had once been connected with a gang headed by Murray Humphries, a Capone lieutenant. This caused Sheriff Meyering to theorize that perhaps Capone gangsters wanted to get Montague out of jail and take him for a ride to stop his talking to prosecutors.

Prosecutor Laird said that the man now in jail faces a term of one to five years in prison for aiding the escape, and also a fine of $1,000. The law allows, too, that he may be made to stand trial for the escaped prisoner's offense, with life imprisonment as a maximum penalty. Under Illinois law kidnaping for ransom is punishable by death.

Assistant Sheriff Frank Wright, who wrote letter requesting the brothers be allowed to see each other.

AUTO DISPLAY DRAWS CROWDS DESPITE COLD

Women Study Innovations of New Models.

BY HAL FOUST.

Thousands braved the cold over the week-end to visit the 32d National Automobile show at the Coliseum. Notwithstanding the severe weather, there was no drop in attendance from the gate receipts of 1931 and 1930, according to the management. The exhibition will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. until Saturday night.

Women comprise a large portion of the crowds parading through the decorated aisles of three hundred 1932 automobiles. There are more exhibits of a technical nature this year than ever before, and the women are showing an intelligent interest in the demonstrations of mechanical innovations.

Wind Tunnel on Display.

One manufacturer has a miniature wind tunnel, built by scientists of the University of Detroit. It demonstrates the advantages of the new stream line bodies in overcoming head winds at high speeds.

Another exhibit consists of a stock car tilted at an angle of 45 degrees. It is dramatic proof of the low center of gravity in the 1932 car, an important safety factor.

Mechanical Parts Shown.

There are cut away chassis giving a view of the insides of engines, transmissions, and differentials. There are cars mounted on rollers so that the driver can step on the gas for maximum speed from his rear wheels, but without going anywhere. These are used in demonstrating the ease of the new gear shifts whether in free wheeling or conventional gear.

The women are studying these mechanical improvements, and their interest is also held by the decided downward trend of prices. Manufacturers, both in their production and their marketing, recognize that the wife is the purchasing agent in a large number of households.

Auto Show Notes

Four hundred Pontiac dealers will attend a luncheon at the Palmer house this noon. W. L. Pavlovski, Chicago zone manager, will outline the 1932 merchandising campaign.

Hudson-Essex has an exhibit in miniature of its 1932 models. Twenty toys are replicas of stock models. The display is open to the public in the Blackstone hotel.

Byron C. Foy, president of the De Soto Motor corporation, after receiving reports of attendance at the automobile show during the severe cold weather, expressed confidence in the immediate future of motor car sales in the Chicago territory.

The Nash factories at Kenosha are receiving heavy shipments of materials for their new models, which will be announced about March 1.

SCHOOLS SKIMP ON READING, BUT KEEP THE FRILLS

Teachers Charge Crowding of Primary Classes.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The school board plans to authorize this week the spending of $93,814,730 during 1932. There appears to be no reasonable hope of getting half that sum in taxes and loans this year.

The budget as framed contains $1,000,000 or more of waste in school plant operation, in the opinion of the D. F. Kelly committee, although the trustees will try to convince the committee the waste isn't there.

The budget, according to one school principal, denies a fair opportunity to teach beginner pupils the fundamentals of how to read, and on its face it permits continued instruction in tap dancing, beauty culture, and how to play "golf to music."

Conditions in Primary Rooms.

Frequently during the budget discussions there have been pleas of "Don't wreck the schools" and "Give the children of the poor a chance," yet this principal charges that not enough teachers are provided to teach the 6 and 7 year old pupils of her school to read in the allotted time.

"In the primary rooms, where the children should learn to read," writes this principal, "one-third of our children are retarded," which means they have not learned to read satisfactorily. The principal says that part of the cause is the "fearful crowding." But the budget contemplates more crowding when the second half of the school year begins this morning. Instead of providing more teachers to teach the pupils to read, the budget eliminates $1,035,000 for expansion of the teaching service.

Crowded High School Classes.

In the proposed expenditure of $93,814,730, the board has done little to curtail the so-called "fads and frills" except to eliminate a docent and $1,200 worth of free rides for pupils to the Art institute. In contrast, the budget contemplates more crowding this morning in the so-called basic high school subjects.

The trustees were informed of the high school conditions last Friday by Miss Dorothy Weil, head of the Federation of Women High School Teachers. This organization has just completed an inquiry of 21 junior and 11 senior high schools to ascertain what chance the pupils have to learn English, mathematics, science, languages, and social studies. Their figures indicate that the board, by this budget, is denying a fair opportunity to pupils in these basic subjects.

This organization's inquiry shows in the junior high schools—seventh, eighth, and ninth grades—there are 92 teachers who average 220 pupils a day, or about 44 to a class; 182 teachers who average 240 pupils, or 48 to a class; 64 teachers who have 260 pupils daily, or 52 to a class; 30 teachers who have 280 pupils daily, or 56 to a class; and 16 teachers who are forced to teach 300 or more pupils a day, or 60 to a class.

Senior High School Classes.

The investigation also shows that in the senior high schools 60 teachers instruct 150 pupils per day, 299 teachers instruct 175 pupils, 234 teachers instruct 200 pupils, 67 teachers instruct 225; 14 teachers have 250 pupils, and four teachers have 275 pupils, or an average class of 55. With the influx at the beginning of the second semester this morning the average will increase.

Irvin Wilson of the principals' organization has told the trustes in public on two occasions that the effects of some of the cuts in the proposed budget will be felt for 25 years.

With more than 2,300 teachers on the secretary's list of substitutes asking for work, the budget provides for the training of still more teachers at public expense. To date Trustees Savage and Mrs. Hefferan have vigorously opposed President Myers' recommendation that the Normal college be closed for a year at an estimated saving of $225,000 because the superintendent reports there are 1,756 Normal graduates holding certificates who haven't yet had a chance to get into the public schools. This number, in the opinion of the president, is a sufficient supply for two years.

Debts Total 134 Millions.

The board's proposed budget of $93,814,730 is to be piled on top of $134,000,000 of unpaid liabilities of former years. More than $90,000,000 of these debts are against the educational fund.

So far as supplies, materials and equipment have contributed to the $90,000,000 of debts in the educational fund, Trustee McJunkin has estimated there is a waste of $500,000 a year.

AVIATION NOTES

Passenger and mail schedules on American Airways routes south of Chicago will be speeded up effective today, with savings in time of from 15 minutes to 1 hour. The routes are from Chicago to St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans, Fort Worth, Tex., and to Atlanta, Ga.

Overnight air express service from Chicago to Iowa and South Dakota points will go into effect tomorrow, the railway express agency and United Air Lines, operator of the route, announced yesterday. The passenger and mail planes will leave Chicago airport at midnight. This will be the first air express to South Dakota.

Flying Forecasts

Special flying route forecasts for the period from 9 p. m. Jan. 31 to noon, Feb. 1:

Cleveland-New York—Generally clear sky except partly cloudy near Cleveland, fresh west to northwest winds diminishing up to 1,000 feet and strong west to northwest diminishing at 5,000 feet.

Railroad Employe Since Age of 9; Retires at 73

Henry Dissell, 73 years old, said to have been the oldest employé of the Burlington railroad in point of service, was retired on a pension yesterday. For the last fifteen years Dissell had been engineer of a suburban train running between Chicago and Aurora. Previously he had been an engineer for twenty-nine years. He had been employed in some capacity by the road since he was 9 years old. His home is in Aurora.

CALL 13 MORE FOR WARNINGS ON SMOKE LAW

Thirteen buildings were listed yesterday by Frank A. Chambers, chief city smoke inspector, as among the contributors to Chicago's smoke. Representatives of the buildings have been summoned to appear tomorrow at Mr. Chambers' office for a warning. Those summoned are:

Jacob Rothschild, 1936 Clifton Park avenue.
G. & H. Wet Wash laundry, 6633 South State street.
Northwestern Wet Wash laundry, 2500 Fullerton avenue.
Dependable Gas and Oil station, 3320 Grand avenue.
Birck & Fellinger company, 200 East Marquette road.
Mrs. M. Schultz, 1942 Lincoln avenue.
G. Reavley, 1527 North Park avenue.
Mr. O'Brien, 1527 North Park avenue.
E. Bartman, 1527 North Park avenue.
Leiter estate, 418 South Wabash avenue.
Congress Bank building, 506 South Wabash avenue.
N. Newberger, 1320 North Ashland avenue.
Vanderkloot Steel company, 2611 South Halsted street.
Liepold & Hicks, 1439 Jarvis avenue.

Methods of firing furnaces to eliminate the emission of dense smoke, which, in Chambers' opinion, represents a waste of fuel, are explained at the hearings.

Bandits Beat Herrin, Ill., Grocer; Rob Him of $1,300

SPEED APPEAL OF JARECKI TAX LEVY DECISION

Busch Charges Other Side Seeks Compromise.

Attorney Francis X. Busch, representing the city in an appeal from a decision which invalidated $120,000,000 of unpaid taxes, announced yesterday the filing of motions tomorrow with the hope of mringing an earlier decision from the Supreme court. The appeal is from a decision by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki voiding the 1928 and 1929 tax assessments.

F. X. BUSCH.

By virtue of Judge Jarecki's opinion the levy of taxes aggregating $480,344,000 for the two years is declared invalid because of fraudulent methods of valuation and because only three-quarters of a billion dollars of personal property was put on the rolls when testimony before Judge Jarecki showed the existence of $16,000,000,000 of personal property in Cook county. Of the $480,000,000, taxes amounting to $360,000,000 have been paid.

Says Others Seek Compromise.

The successful attack on the levy was made by Attorneys Roy D. Keehn and Morris Shaffer. Their coöperation is required to expedite an early Supreme court decision, Attorney Busch explained yesterday.

"Keehn and Shaffer are hopeful of a compromise such as the horizontal slashing of 25 per cent off the taxes levied against their clients," said Busch. "They have a contract calling for 20 per cent of what they save and they are hopeful of cutting $5,000,000 off their clients' tax bills."

Judge Jarecki's decision was given on Dec. 31.

Hope to Speed Case.

"We will appear on Tuesday, which is the first day of the February term, and ask leave to file our abstracts and briefs," Mr. Busch said. "Then, if the other side [Keehn and Shaffer] would file its answer within the next 15 days we could make oral arguments and get a decision by March 1. But they have shown no disposition to coöperate for an early decision. Legally they have until March 15 to answer and it is our opinion they hope to take advantage of the anxiety of the city and county to straighten out this tax situation to force some compromise.

"But I can say that the city and county cannot compromise. To do so would invite the same thing with the 1930 taxes. We must go ahead to a decision."

HUSBAND TRIES SUICIDE; SAVED.

Relief Work Leaders to Urge Action on State Loan Today

Hopeful for the success of their legislative program—which they say is essential if the city is to continue any sort of charitable work—officials of the Joint Emergency Relief fund left for Springfield last night to be on hand when the third special session of the general assembly convenes at 4 p. m. today.

At that hour a series of five bills will be introduced which provide for the issuance of between 18 and 19 millions in state tax warrants—a sum the fund authorities maintain they must have to house, feed and warm the poor through the winter and the coming summer. The relief stations will close if aid does not come from the assembly, the leaders say.

Mayor Ready to Aid Bills.

Mayor Cermak said yesterday that he would be glad to go to Springfield in the interests of the bills, "if I am needed, although I have plenty to do here."

"We need financial relief to pay our employés and the school teachers, but we also need millions to care for the poor and needy," the mayor said. "As to which of the two is most essential, I am unable to say but I should like to ask the legislators what they would do if they had no warm clothing, no shelter, and no food. That is the situation in thousands of our families."

Charity Leaders Leave.

Edward L. Ryerson Jr., president of the fund, will be present when the assembly convenes. He did not go to Springfield last night, but Edward J. Blair, Wilfred S. Reynolds of the Council of Social Agencies, Joel D. Hunter of the United Charities, Msgr. William A. Cummings of the Catholic charities, and Samuel A. Goldsmith of the Jewish charities preceded him. Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton and Attorneys Henry Cutler and Cyrus Adams will also be on hand to explain the provisions of the bills.

A synopsis of the bills was issued by Mr. Cutler yesterday. Although the plan calls for a "paper increase" in the tax rate of 25 or 30 cents, the tax will never be extended or collected. On this point the statement reads: "This plan briefly contemplates that the ultimate payment of the notes and bonds will come from the county's share of one cent of the gas tax and that no ad valorem (general property) tax will ever be extended and collected therefor."

Issue Digest of Measures.

A digest of the measures follows:

Bill No. 1—Creates Illinois Emergency Relief commission of seven members to be appointed by the governor and selected from different sections of the state, to serve without compensation.

Bill No. 2—Levies a state-wide ad valorem tax of $25,000,000 to provide money for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. Notes are to be issued not to exceed 75 per cent of the tax levy.

Bill No. 3—Amends the present statute to permit anticipation of the $25,000,000 tax above referred to not to exceed 75 per cent of the tax, by issuing notes against said tax notes to be issued and sold as soon as legislature passes law levying $25,000,000 tax.

Amend Gas Tax Law.

Bill No. 4—Amends gas tax law of 1929 so that out of the one cent gas tax allotted to counties sufficient money shall be set aside to pay principal and interest of bonds to be issued as below indicated.

Bill No. 5—Is a law authorizing $20,000,000 in state bonds to pay notes, above referred to, to be issued in anticipation of the $25,000,000 tax, which law shall be submitted to the voters of the state at the next general election to be held in November. This law provides for the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay the bonds and also contains a provision that the bonds shall be paid from the county's share of the one cent gas tax.

The second special session is expected to adjourn sine die this week inasmuch as the subjects included in its call were again included in the call for the third special session. In addition to the poor relief, the assembly was asked by Gov. Emmerson to give attention to slashing the pay rolls in the interest of reduced costs of government.

Bandit Apologizes, Then Robs Manager of Store

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Apologizing for what he proposed to do, but explaining his family needed the money, a middle aged man robbed A. R. Phillips, manager of a grocery here, last night, taking about $125 in cash and $55 in checks.

ASK LOUISIANA RIVAL 'GOVERNOR' TO QUIT HOTEL

Roy Heidelberg, manager of the hotel, said:

"Some things about the controversy over the governorship we did not like and tonight we saw fit to ask Dr. Cyr to leave, which he has done."

"We have merely moved from a temporary to a permanent location for our offices," said Leon Gary, secretary to Dr. Cyr.

Cyr and Alvin O. King, contenders for the governorship, have had nothing to say regarding their controversy since Dr. Cyr yesterday described the present situation as "an insurrection."

Dr. King held the fort today in the executive mansion. Senator Huey P. Long, who bequeathed the governorship to King when he went to the Senate, stood on the side lines in his hotel apartment in New Orleans and later left for Washington.

2 GUN HERMIT KILLS CANADIAN MOUNTED RANGER

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 31.—(AP)—A patrol of Royal Canadian mounted police set up their portable radio set today and flashed out the story of how one of their members was slain in a battle with a mad trapper on the rolling barrens of the Upper Rat river country yesterday.

Victim of a ruse, the dispatch said, Constable E. Millen walked into the fire of Albert Johnson, two gun hermit whom the "mounties" have been pursuing a month for wounding another member of the force.

Quartermaster Sergeant Riddell wirelessed that the patrol had come upon Johnson in the thick bush country 30 miles north of where the Rat river flows into the rushing Mackenzie.

Johnson fired and the patrol took cover. When he next appeared Carl Garlund, a volunteer, drew a bead on him and pulled the trigger. Johnson appeared to fall and the patrol believed him wounded or killed. Suddenly he fired and Millen went down, mortally wounded.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

A PRIMER ON RAILROAD ECONOMICS.

The negotiations between the railroad presidents and the spokesmen for the labor unions have called attention to some of the fundamentals of railroad finance.

There has been in this country for fifty years a feeling that the railroads were the enemies of the people and therefore in need of disciplinary punishment. That punishment could most easily be administered through reductions in railroad rates and therefore through reductions in railway earnings. At some times the enmity toward the railroads has been more virulent than at others, but it has been present in greater or less degree for so long that it has become a habit of mind with countless citizens.

There is no reason to doubt that the railroads did much to earn their ill will, but it is not the intention here to apportion the blame. That is another story. The fact is that many men in railroad service and a large part of the general public have come to think that if the railroads are allowed only enough money to keep out of the hands of receivers, which is to say enough money to meet their bond payments and other fixed charges, the railroads will be treated as well as need be.

The animosity toward the railroads was focused upon the phrase "the public be damned" which was said to summarize the attitude of most railroad executives a generation ago. The reply on the part of the public was in kind. The public, including probably a majority of railroad workers, took the position "the stockholders be damned." In the intervening years railroad executives have come to understand that the damning of their customers is poor business, but it is doubtful if even now, with the facts revealed by the wage negotiations readily available, the public has learned that it cannot starve the stockholders without paying a disproportionately heavy penalty for so doing.

And yet that is an inescapable fact. The solvency of life insurance companies and savings banks is dependent upon the security of the billions of dollars' worth of railroad bonds which these institutions hold. This security, in turn, bears a direct relationship to the value of the stocks which lie above the bonds in the railroad financial structure. If the public wants its insurance companies and its savings banks to be able to withstand the blows of adverse business conditions it must provide railroad bonds with an adequate protective cushion of earnings on railroad stocks.

If that protection is narrowed, the fact will be instantly and automatically reflected in the price of railroad bonds. And that, in turn, can only mean a threat of insolvency to insurance companies and banks. The little advantage that shippers and railroad labor might gain at the expense of railroad stockholders will be lost many times over in the collapse of the institutions which guard the savings of those same shippers and railroad men, together with the savings of every other provident citizen of the republic.

How far this process has already advanced in this country is evidenced by the government's ruling that, in estimating their assets, banks may calculate their bonds at cost, though it is recognized that those same bonds have greatly depreciated in market price. The meaning of that provision for the savings depositor is all too clear. If there should be a concerted withdrawal of bank deposits the banks would be forced to sell their bonds to realize cash; and the price which those bonds would bring would not be the fictitious price in the banks' balance sheets, but the price obtaining on the day of sale at the New York Stock exchange.

The current difficulties are further reflected in the weakening of the legal safeguards for investment of trust funds. The rather widespread rule hitherto has been that trust funds may be invested in the bonds of those companies which have earned at least one and one-half times their interest over a considerable period of years. That is a sound rule, but it has been relaxed under pressure of necessity and to that extent the soundness of insurance companies has been impaired. The changing of the rule did not improve the position of the policy holders. The only thing that can do that is an increase in railroad earnings which will be large enough to raise the price of the bonds.

Earnings must be large enough not only to pay bond interest and reasonable stock dividends but to permit a gradual reduction in bonded debt. It is only by the payment of dividends that the railroads can finance their capital outlay in part with stock; and it is only by being able to retire their bonds that the market price of the bonds can be maintained at par beyond any likelihood of serious depreciation.

These are fundamentals which are almost too obvious to require mention but which seem to have been overlooked by the public and the politicians. If the railway wage conferences have served to emphasize the necessity for earnings available for railroad stocks, the negotiations have performed a most useful service, apart from any settlement of the wage controversy which may have been reached.

OUTLAWRY OF WAR, ETC.

Mr. S. O. Levinson, on numerous occasions, has told how he came to the conception of the outlawry of war, the idea which later was embodied in the Kellogg peace pact. When war broke out in 1914, Mr. Levinson has explained, he, as a lawyer, found himself puzzled as to its legal status. To his amazement he found that war in international law as it then stood was an entirely lawful procedure. If a quarrel of any sort arose between nations one country or the other, or both, could declare war without in any way violating the law of nations.

This appeared to him to be a perversion of justice and morality. He regarded war as an avoidable evil, and it seemed to him that the best way to prevent it was to pronounce it unlawful. He has lived to see virtually every nation in the world a signatory to the Kellogg pact.

And he has lived to read of, if not to see, Japanese airplanes which dropped bombs on the noncombatant Chinese population of Shanghai. He has also lived to read of Japanese armies sweeping through Manchuria. He has read of the burning of Shanghai and the free flow of blood.

It is not suggested that Mr. Levinson's conception has been wholly in vain. On the contrary. Whereas, under the former dispensation Japan might have declared war upon China and thereby have been discouraged by the rules of war from bombing civilian areas and unfortified cities, Japan did not declare war She only fought it and she has fought it to date without regard to the well defined rules.

These facts are mentioned not from any desire to mock Mr. Levinson and his many well intentioned followers but merely to point out that war is a fact, whether lawful or not. War cannot be exorcised with pious incantations.

It might be observed, in addition, that if Mr. Levinson is somewhat puzzled at the turn which events have taken in the far east he does not stand alone. The sponsors of the Washington treaty which deprived the United States of its naval supremacy and of its bases in the western Pacific in exchange for a nine power consultative pact must share his dismay. It now appears that a consultative pact, far from encouraging defensive action against a determined war maker, is no more effective than the powers signatory to the pact wish it to be at the moment when danger arises. The mere fact that England, France, Italy, and the rest have agreed to consult is no protection to China or any one else. If they have consulted, the procedure is indistinguishable except, perhaps, in its ineffectiveness from previous consultations of the powers under somewhat similar circumstances.

It seems scarcely necessary to mention that the league of nations, of which Japan is a leading member, is also supposed to keep the peace; but its solemn compact has also proved a futility in the present circumstances.

It would appear, then, that all treaties are, potentially, scraps of paper. All treaties are merely expressions of the hope at the moment of signing that when the contingencies covered in a treaty arise the signatory nations will behave as the treaty prescribes. Some nations, to be sure, are somewhat more sensitive about observing their commitments than others. Japan will assert her claim to be regarded as one of the more sensitive for, so far as the Kellogg treaty is concerned, at least, she has not violated it. She has not declared war.

Editorial of the Day

NO BRITISH NOTE TO JAPAN.

[London Times.]

The British government have acted wisely in declining to address a communication to the Chinese and Japanese governments on the lines of Mr. Stimson's note. In this document the American secretary of state informed the two far eastern powers that his government would not recognize any treaty or agreement between them which might impair its rights and those of its citizens under former treaties, and in particular under the nine power treaty of 1922; and that it would also refuse to recognize "any situation or agreement" brought about in Manchuria by means contrary to the Kellogg pact. In effect the note was a warning to Japan. The nine power treaty binds its signatories, China and Japan being among them, to respect the sovereignty, independence, and territorial and administrative integrity of the Chinese republic, and to maintain throughout its territories what is conveniently described as the policy of the "open door" to the commerce and industry of all nations. In invoking its clauses the American government may have been moved by the fear that the Japanese authorities would set up a virtually independent administration in Manchuria which would favor Japanese interests to the detriment of the commerce of other nations. It is clear that the foreign office does not share these apprehensions and that, although the nine power treaty provides for consultation between the interested powers, it was not in fact consulted before the note was communicated to Nanking and Tokio. In the circumstances it was fully justified in limiting its action to a request for a confirmation of the assurances given by Mr. Yoshizawa to the league council in October and by the new Japanese prime minister a fortnight ago, to the effect that Japan would adhere to the principle of the "open door" which her government claims to be defending in Manchuria.

There is no doubt that these assurances will be repeated—all the more readily since the principle of equal opportunity for foreign commerce and industry in China has been challenged by the Chinese Nationalists on several occasions since 1922, while the party which organized the boycotts, first of British and subsequently of Japanese commerce, is now in nominal control of China. Nor does it seem to be the immediate business of the foreign office to defend the "administrative integrity" of China until that integrity is something more than an ideal. It did not exist in 1922 and it does not exist today. On no occasion since the nine power treaty was signed has the central government of China exercised any real administrative authority over large and varying areas of its huge territory. Today its writ does not run in Yunnan and in other important provinces, and, while its sovereignty over Manchuria is not disputed, there is no evidence that it has exercised any real administration there since Nanking became the Chinese capital. It is at least doubtful therefore whether the American note will have the effect which the state department desires. Drafted without consultation with other governments and influenced to some extent it may be, by those considerations of domestic politics which are paramount in the states this year, it may yet conceivably clear the confused Manchurian situation. But, as our Washington correspondent fears, it may equally cause confusion elsewhere by clouding the atmosphere in which congress is to discuss naval questions; nor have the American government perhaps reckoned with the risk that their action may encourage the new Chinese government to continue to postpone the opening of direct negotiations with Japan. Indeed, this uncertainty about the ultimate consequences of the Stimson note is another practical justification of the refusal of the British government to follow Washington in rather a speculative lead.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT IS SO AMUSING to us income tax payers to read the news from Washington. One published Saturday was especially diverting and full of good hearty laughs It is about the private elevator of Secretary of Commerce Lamont, who has his own strictly private elevator in the new and extremely expensive department of commerce building. There are oodles and oodles of elevators in the building, but, of course, none of us taxpayers could expect a secretary of commerce to mingle with the common herd in the ordinary or garden elevators, so he has one in which nobody can ride but himself or on his personal order. A young woman is chauffeur for the private elevator at a salary said to be something between $1,080 and $1,380 a year. This doesn't seem so humorous at first, but watch it carefully and it gets funnier and funnier. Of course, there are days when the secretary of commerce is on vacation or out at the golf links or touring around the country departmenting of commercing and so the young woman elevator chauffeur doesn't do anything but read the current magazines and newspapers or go home. That's the comical part, fellow taxpayers; read all about Secretary Lamont's private elevator very carefully and finally you simply scream with happy mirth. Oh, ha ha ha!

THE OLD BUS.

The great Auto Show is on,
And, say, how we dread it!
For the nimble salesmen
Will show us
Beautiful cars
So lovely they will Take away our breath.
Cars of shades and colors
That would make a peacock
Look around at his spread-out tail
And then hunt up a lawn mower
And cut the dam thing off.
Cars lined with Rarest silks and
Brocades and spun gold.
Cars that move as silently
As a Democratic candidate
For the presidency.
Cars that start if you
Press a button
And stop when you wag
Cars that glide from High
To Low
Like molasses flowing onto
Hot buckwheat cakes.
Cars that go a hundred miles
An hour
As easily as you walk across
The room.
Cars in which you work
The clutch merely by Thinking about it.

And then I turn away
From all the new models
And go around to the alley
Where I left my old car
Hitched.
And I wait until nobody is around
So they won't see me climbing
Into it
And know it's my car.
And I wish I had on green
Whiskers that I could wear
While I drive home,
Because I would be so ashamed
For anybody to see me
And know that old bus
I was driving
Is mine.
And I feel worse and worse
Every block.
And finally I get back Home
And hunt up the janitor and
Say to him with a fine
Gesture of true
Benevolence:
"Here, Bill, I am going
To give you my Old car.
Take it with my Blessing."
And the janitor will say:
"Oh, the hell with that
Pile of scrap iron.
I don't want it, because
I've just bought me a
New model
Kazookoo
Automatic
Soundless

IT'S HARD TO MAKE up our minds whether to go to war with Japan or China. Of course, we've got to go to war with one of 'em, but which one. We open the newspapers and find the Japs are chasing the Chinese out of China. Hurrah! we will go to war with the Japs and make 'em get back where they came from. Then in the next paragraph we read the Chinese are holding an American sea captain for ransom and are going to chop off his head unless ten million berries are handed right over. Hurrah! we will go to war with the Chinese and teach 'em to leave Americans alone. Which leaves us at war with both Japan and China, a very interesting but somewhat embarrassing situation.

THERE'S ALWAYS something exciting to watch down in New York. Now they go down to the docks to watch the longshoremen trundling gold onto the big ships that will haul it to France and other points east.

WELL, NOW, YOU VISITORS from California, lured here by our wonderful mild winter climate, we will admit that it is just a wee bit chilly right now. But it's so unusual. Why, it hasn't been this cold in Chicago for fifty years! Too bad you just happened to come at the wrong time. R. H. L.

SAFE CANNED GOODS.

ABOUT twelve years ago the California canned fruit industry was about to be wiped out by reason of fear of botulinism. Some canned olives had become infected with the bacillus which causes this poisoning, and a fair number of people had lost their lives from eating them. The people became panicky. Not only did the general run of people stop eating ripe olives but legislation against them was breaking out in various parts of the country.

The California canners took steps to protect their industry. Before safe practices were worked out there were several outbreaks due to eating many different kinds of canned and bottled foods produced in different parts of the country.

Eventually the industry worked out safe practices and installed them. California went beyond the other states in creating a bureau charged with the responsibility of seeing that the safe practices were carried out in detail. Dr. K. F. Meyer, who has been connected with this work since its beginning, advises all other states in which there is a canning industry to follow the lead of California and thus to permit their products to have a reputation for safety. He says that there has been no outbreak of botulinus poisoning caused by eating foods commercially canned since 1925.

The same cannot be said, however, as to the security and safety of home canned products. The temperature to which these products are heated in canning is not high enough to kill this heat resisting bacillus. Products that are sour or that are put up in vinegar or other sour juices are not dangerous.

For instance, canned tomatoes or canned orange juice is not dangerous even though the article to be canned is not of the best and the canning is poorly done. The very dangerous home canned products are string beans and corn. These are made more dangerous by the custom of making a cold supper out of a can of string beans garnished with a salad dressing and served cold.

Dr. Meyer advises every housewife who is serving home canned vegetables that are not put up sour to examine every can closely for evidence of spoilage before using the contents, and to examine the vegetable carefully when it is emptied from the can. And then, even more important, the contents should be boiled thoroughly before using. So great is the danger of botulinism from eating raw home canned string beans, corn, and some other nonsour vegetables that Dr. Meyer advises housewives not to home can. His advice is that they preserve by drying, or that they pickle in ten per cent salt brine, or in acidified or sour brines.

FOOD FOR TEETH.

L. W. C. writes: Is it possible to correct teeth by proper diet in a person over 20? If so, what foods will aid in repairing the gums and cavities caused by gum recession?

REPLY.

A diet rich in vitamin D and also in vitamin C is of service in treatment of the gums and teeth in adults. What such a diet can do if pyorrhea is well developed, the cavities are extensive, and the person is mature in years is far less than in different circumstances.

The vitamin C foods are fruits and vegetables and their juices, and fresh foods generally.

The vitamin D foods are cod liver oil, irradiated foods, and ergosterol.

Lime foods are of service. Of these, the best are milk, cheese, and other milk products; salads, greens, and nuts.

CONSTANT HEADACHE.

A. D. writes: A man of 60 has constant headaches and pains over the eyes. His blood pressure is 200. Is the condition hopelessly serious? What about diet, labor, etc.?

REPLY.

Probably the headache is due to arteriosclerosis, the cause of the high blood pressure. By partial fasting and other dieting, the use of laxatives and other medicines, his physician can reduce the blood pressure temporarily and ease the headache. But the probability is that his pressure will rise again and the headache will return. In cases of a certain type the results of treatment are longer continued.

Nothing is more harmful to the man than fear that his case is hopeless. Emotions head the list of harmful agencies in high blood pressure.

APARTMENT LEASE.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I signed a lease for a year. Since then my two children have lost their jobs and my wages have been reduced, so I am not able to keep the apartment. 1. Can they garnishee my wages for rent? 2. Can they do this if I move? 3. How much of my wages could they garnishee? I am only making $75 a month. J. B. S.

1. Yes, after taking judgment against you.
2. Same.
3. Your exemption is $20 a week if you are head of a family.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LIABLE FOR BALANCE.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise me through your column as to the following: My company is transferring me to the south and my lease does not expire for several months. 1. Can the owner garnishee my wages for the unexpired term of the lease? 2. Can he prevent me from moving? 3. Can he hold my furniture? 4. I have been told that a lease does not hold good when a tenant leaves the city. J. E. S.

1. Yes, after taking judgment against you.
2. Not if your rent is paid to date.
3. Same.
4. There is no such rule.

ROSEHILL SCHOOL BUILDING.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Friend of the People.]—The Rosehill school building at 6014 North Clark street is in bad shape. It is an eyesore as well as a menace to persons. Can't something be done to have this old building torn down? O. F. M.

We have had the matter of razing the abandoned Rosehill school at 6014 North Clark street up. The city has requested that this building be removed, and John C. Christensen, architect of the board of education, informs me that he has arranged to have the building razed, and will ask the board for its approval for this work at its next meeting. JAMES R. QUINN. Alderman of the 50th Ward.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

This nation has had other serious financial depressions, as the following excerpts from The Tribune files reveal. Each of these periods of hard times has been followed by periods of great prosperity.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 22.—The panic has had a most disastrous effect upon the freight transportation business and well informed men state that the shipments of freight from Boston to the west during October and November will not aggregate one-third the amount shipped during the corresponding months for the last ten years.

1894.

Chicago, July 3.—"To hell with the government! To hell with the courts!" was the response of a mob of 2,000 rioters at Blue Island when United States Marshal Arnold read the injunction issued by United States Judges Woods and Grosscup restraining them from interfering with the Rock Island and twenty other railroads. Then the rioters howled defiance at the marshal and his deputies and promptly violated the injunction by throwing a box car across the track and stopping all traffic for the night. The marshal immediately reiterated his demand for United States troops and it is the general belief that Uncle Sam's soldiers will be on the job today. The Northwestern railroad went into the hands of Debs' followers and it is not improbable that the road will be practically tied up this morning. In many cases the strikers refused to permit passengers on marooned trains to have food.

Chicago, July 4.—With the dawn of the Fourth of July the 15th United States infantry, two companies of the 7th cavalry, and a battery of the 1st artillery arrived in Chicago to uphold the United States court's mandate against President Debs and his A. R. U. strikers. The soldiers came from Fort Sheridan and were sent to Blue Island, the stockyards, and Grand Crossing, the centers of the most violence in the strike. The troops are in command of Col. Crofton, commandant at Fort Sheridan. The Nickel Plate road was added to the list of those tied up by the strike. Every employé on it struck and all trains were abandoned. At a meeting of the A. R. U. a boycott was declared against THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the Herald, and the Inter-Ocean because of the position they have taken in discussing the strike.

New York, April 28.—Directors of the Pennsylvania railroad reduced the annual dividend rate from 6 to 4 per cent yesterday by declaring a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the $50 par value stock. The new dividend rate is a 29 years' low.

1921.

New York, May. 3.—A reduction of about 20 per cent in wages for day labor, effective May 16, and an equitable adjustment of other rates, including salaries, at the plants of the United States Steel corporation, was announced by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors. It is estimated that between 150,000 and 175,000 employés will be affected by the cut.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 1, 1916.

CHICAGO.—President Wilson announced to a Chicago audience which jammed the Auditorium that the United States, so far as the navy is concerned, is in a state of preparedness for any emergency that might befall. He described the plan for building up the army, regular and volunteer, and expressed his belief that the plan would carry. He declared: "Rulers, not public opinion, brought about the present war. I thank God there is no man in the United States who has authority to bring on war without the consent of the nation. Another year has been added and no man can competently say whether the United States will be drawn into the struggle or not."

LONDON.—A raid by six or seven Zeppelin airships took place last night over the eastern, northeastern and midland counties of England, according to the war office.

NEW YORK.—This dispatch from London is believed to refer to yesterday's Zeppelin raid, the details of which have been withheld by the British censor: "Eleven deaths were reported in England yesterday. Five of the tragedies occurred in London streets. Three of the victims were soldiers."

WAR NEWS.—Paris has received confirmation of the report that Erzerum has been surrounded by the Russians and that the forts of the city are under bombardment.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 1, 1902.

PITTSBURGH.—Edward and John Biddle, murderers condemned to death, escaped from the Allegheny county jail and Mrs. Peter Soffel, wife of the warden, aided their escape and fled with them. They were overtaken by pursuing officers in the wilds of Butler county and after a desperate battle the two murderers and the woman, riddled with bullets and buckshot, were captured. The trio escaped in a sleigh. When they were overtaken the murderers called upon Mrs. Soffel to flee and save herself, but she refused to desert the man for whom she had abandoned her husband and children, stood up beside him in the sleigh and blazed away with her two revolvers at the officers, who poured in a steady fire as they advanced. Edward Biddle, shot through the lungs, fell beside the sleigh, while John, his ammunition exhausted, and riddled with buckshot, started to flee, but fell. Mrs. Soffel, seeing her two companions gone, turned a gun upon herself and fired a bullet into her breast. She had become infatuated with Edward Biddle during his incarceration in the jail.

CHICAGO.—The new parental home at Bowmanville, intended to provide a place for habitual runaways from Chicago public schools, was opened with thirteen little boys in knee breeches, who rode out to the school in a black bus from Judge Tuthill's court as the first occupants. The departure of the truants from the court was made against the protest of parents and relatives and amid shrieks and sobs from the boys.

EDIFYING.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Is it not edifying to observe that the administration's inconsistent policies of weakening our navy, while at the same time hunting for trouble with Japan, are enthusiastically applauded by all weak minded Americans?

Do they expect to reproduce the combat of David and Goliath? Well, that was a long while ago, before battleships and airplanes were invented.

As Mr. Wilson's disastrous shortsightedness should have taught us, a dollar spent for preparedness is more potent than ten spent during emergency.

But what do a few thousand or more American lives amount to so long as politicians can "save at the spigot"—our army and navy—while they "waste at the bunghole"—Hoover dams, agricultural "relief," improving unused streams, etc.? G. P. T.

FOR WHAT?

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Farewell to arms—that is, until 1932. It won't be long now until our young men will find themselves involved in that greatest of dramas—war. "Twenty-Five Thousand Americans and $115,000,000 of American Capital Threatened by the Japanese!" scream the headlines. "And what," quoths this humble observer, "are these American citizens and moneys doing in China but trying to exploit the Chinese in a much more effective but no less honorable way than the Japs?"

At least give the Nipponese credit for being aboveboard in the matter. We, who preach the Monroe Doctrine and raise mountainous tariff walls to exclude outside competition, slam the door of immigration shut on orientals as being undesirable and then send our hot air merchants over to gyp them as much as possible.

If American citizens and capital wish to go abroad for the purpose of personal gain, let them do so at their own risk. Meanwhile, let's not be propelled into war by a league of jealous European nations, but stay at home and tend to our own knitting, of which we have plenty. The government is denying aid to thousands in this country, and yet our state department is paving the way for an infinitely greater expenditure in a costly war. And for what?

G. RAMSHAW.

SUGGESTION.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Why send warships to China when the pacifists say they can stop all war? Why not send some of our dyed in the wool pacifists to Tokio to invoke the Kellogg pact, nine power treaty, and the rest of the peace treaties? We were assured that the Kellogg pact would prevent all war; now is the time to prove it. 100% AMERICAN.

FOR A BOYCOTT.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Your cartoon in this morning's TRIBUNE, "Fanning It," is quite right. We ought to do something more than waft a fan. I would suggest wafting the fleet and all our air forces toward Manchuria, and toward Shanghai, or as an alternative I would suggest a national boycott of Japanese goods.

The boycott method has never been given a good trial, and, despite the lobbying of American exporters in Washington, I think it is worth an experiment. I urge a nationally imposed prohibition of the import of Japanese merchandise into the United States. I think that would do much to make Japan see the light on her occupation of Chinese territory. If Japan has a right to occupy Manchuria, why not Alaska? Everybody but a politician knows that the Chinese railroad competition is only a blind. Everybody knows what Japan means when she talks about bandits. Why let her get away with it?

Japan wants control of the Pacific. She has found the United States at every crossroads when she has tried to wedge herself into China. Now she has got the United States in a position where she thinks we will not dare to act. And with our present flaccid, flabby, stuffed shirt, ineffectual administration in Washington I doubt if we will dare. I got to thinking about Roosevelt the other day. The Japs would not have put this raw deal over on "Teddy."

And never forget this: It is not only the Japanese dislike of America we have to take into account. It is also the American dislike of the Japanese and our distrust of Japanese policy. This dislike on our part is going to bear fruit in the future. It is cheaper to act now. It would have been cheaper to have acted two months ago.

SYBIL WORTHINGTON.

16 FOOT CLEARANCE.

Hannibal, O., Jan. 19.—I want to make a vehement protest against your recent editorial statement that a 16 foot vertical clearance is ample on all inland waterways. I have lived along the Ohio river all of my life and know that such clearance would not even be sufficient for most cargo barges of the type not equipped with propelling machinery. It is ridiculous to even think that efficient towboats could be operated with such a low clearance, for there would not be headroom for the necessary machinery. Passenger boats would likewise be ruled out entirely and the only craft able to use the inland waterways would then be rowboats and canoes.

Any vessels that might be constructed to carry freight on a stream having only sixteen feet in clearance would be so inefficient and expensive as to nullify the advantages of water transportation. Millions of dollars are now invested in inland waterway craft of height sufficient for satisfactory performance and it does not look like a worthy cause to attempt to render this investment useless and at the same time ruin forever the usefulness of our inland rivers, a priceless natural resource. J. MACK GAMBLE.

WHAT THE CONGRESSMAN SAID.

Calamus, Ia., Jan. 23.—You are rendering our country a mighty fine and patriotic service in your hammering away at congress for reductions in governmental expense rather than increased taxation. If there is enough of this hammering perhaps even a congressman or senator may hear it.

We have written ours. Only one reply and this, when read between the lines, states something like this: "I like your vote and support, but when it comes to reducing costs, this is something else again." J. F. MUELLER.

FOGGY WEATHER HINDERS SEARCH FOR LOST PLANE

Abandon Hope for Lives of Eight Aboard.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Wet, foggy weather handicapped the search today for the missing Century Pacific air liner which, with its pilot and seven passengers, disappeared between Bakersfield and Los Angeles late Friday and is now believed to have crashed in the rugged terrain surrounding Lockwood valley.

Ground parties penetrated the district and a few airplanes combated the fog, but the major air survey was suspended due to low visibility. The valley is 20 miles southeast of Lebec.

Hope has been abandoned for the lives of those aboard the plane, including Frank Dewar, chief deputy sheriff of Los Angeles, and three women.

Army Planes Called In.

Participation of the army air corps in the search was officially interrupted at noon, when Col. H. H. Arnold ordered eighteen planes, ten pursuit ships and eight bombers, to return to March field at Riverside from the Grand Central airport here and the Alhambra flying field.

The weather forecast was for continued unsettled conditions, but Col. Arnold said the army planes would be in readiness to take off for Lebec at 7 a. m. tomorrow if the degree of visibility justified.

Four airplanes left the government emergency landing field at Tejon, and one, piloted by C. F. Lienesch, cruised over the peaks where repeated reports and a process of elimination have tended to place the crash. Lienesch reported extremely bad weather conditions.

Organize Search Parties.

The story of a Century-Pacific flyer who said he believed he saw human figures on the mountain also is being investigated.

Snow from a foot and a half to two feet in depth covers the region.

Two hundred and thirty men have been organized to search from Lebec as soon as weather conditions render a general survey practicable.

Besides Dewar, who was returning after an investigation of a kidnaping case at Bakersfield, those in the plane were J. V. Sandblow, 41, Los Angeles pilot; Marie Sweeney Combs, 18, Hollywood usherette; Nita McGrath, 32, Berkeley; Mrs. Margaret Fickeisen, wife of a San Diego business man; Spencer Swain, 71, Pomona; J. H. Polhemus, 55, San Francisco coffee exporter and importer, and W. H. Smith, 40, retired business man, of San Francisco.

Gunmen Carry Off Gold Bullion Stock of $55,000

Attleboro, Mass., Jan. 31. — (AP) — A night watchman told police that six gunmen entered the Horton-Angell company plant early today and, after binding him, carried off gold bullion, wire, and rolled stock. Officials of the company estimated the loss at between $55,000 and $60,000.

UNIONS AND RAIL PRESIDENTS SIGN 10% PAY CUT PACT

Dramatic Scene as Labor Announces Decision.

proposals and arguments which have been ably and forcibly presented in behalf of the railroads, we feel compelled to reiterate our previous opinion that as a matter of pure right and justice the railway employés could not be called upon to agree to a ten per cent reduction of their meager earnings. Nor do we wish to give any assent to the theory that wage reductions are to be regarded ordinarily as the appropriate means to promote prosperity. We cannot believe that the public welfare is advanced by reducing the purchasing power of labor.

Agree to Take the Cut.

"But, with a profound sense of our responsibility to the workers whom we represent and to our country, we have weighed the urgent needs of the railroad industry and the demands of the public welfare in this present unparalleled situation against the individual sacrifices requested of the railroad employés. In the hope that our action may improve the health of our industry, may improve the cooperative relations of management and employés, may stimulate a revival of business, and may advance the general welfare, we have decided to accept the proposal of the railroads to the employés whom we represent, that—

"Ten per cent shall be deducted from each pay check for a period of one year, beginning Feb. 1, 1932.

"Basic rates shall remain as at present.

Two Conditions in Agreement.

The unions attached two conditions to their offer. The first was that the railroads would withdraw the legal proceedings, instituted before the negotiations began, aimed at forcing a 15 per cent wage reduction. This condition was immediately accepted by President Willard, who said that the formal thirty day notices which had been sent out would be withdrawn.

The second condition laid down by the unions to the presidents provided:

"That the railroads whom you represent will agree that, without attaching any limitation upon the use of funds derived from this pay roll deduction, the participating railroads will make an earnest and sympathetic effort to maintain and increase railroad employment."

This condition caused the presidents' committee to retire to its private suite for a conference. After 15 minutes the committee returned and Mr. Willard announced that the railroads would make the concession.

Then followed a virtual "love feast," with expressions of esteem being exchanged by President Willard and Mr. Robertson.

"We men on this side of the table," said Mr. Willard, with a smile, "desire to compliment you gentlemen on the patience, tact, statesmanship and unselfish patriotism you have exhibited during these negotiations.

Willard Praises Union Men.

"You might have obstructed and delayed the settlement of this problem for months and forced us to take a long and tedious course which would have left bitterness and partisanship where now there is friendship and harmony.

"Even so, you would have been following the railway labor act as set down by congress, providing for an unwieldy adjustment of labor problems. But you recognized and took advantage of a great opportunity to join in a great constructive movement.

"I wish to emphasize our sincere admiration for the remarkable leadership which you have displayed, and I know I voice the sentiments of my committee colleagues in saying this.

"I am going to ask them now to rise in token of their esteem for you——"

The eight presidents rose, smiled and bowed as Mr. Willard went on:

"And together we say to you (emphatically): 'We thank you!'

A prolonged burst of applause came from the audience of 170 union chairmen, and Mr. Willard and his colleagues sat down.

Mr. Robertson replied briefly that the unions had acted in good faith, hopeful that their sacrifice would not prove in vain.

Later Mr. Robertson told three points which he said had strongly influenced the unions' decision. They were:

"1. A desire to do all within their power to aid in lifting the nation out of the worst depression of business we have ever experienced.

"2. A desire to show the capacity of organized labor to do a big thing in a constructive way to advance the general welfare, even at the expense of personal sacrifices that would deter narrow-minded persons.

"3. A desire to encourage our friends, and not to encourage our enemies, in the railroad industry and elsewhere."

DEMOCRATS PICK BENDIX TO MAKE CONGRESS RACE

Mayor Cermak announced yesterday that the Democratic organization had chosen Vincent Bendix, well known capitalist, inventor, and manufacturer to make the race for congress in the 10th district, which is now represented by Congressman Carl R. Chindblom, Republican. This district comprises a part of the north side of Chicago, the northern suburbs and all of Lake county.

Mr. Bendix has a home in Lake Forest, as well as a residence at 209 Lake Shore drive. He is also the owner of the old Potter Palmer mansion at 1350 Lake Shore drive. He has not been active in politics. Mr. Bendix is 50 years old. He was born in Moline and started to study law but changed to mechanical engineering. His name is outstanding in connection with automotive inventions.

DRY LAW REPEAL IN 13 WORDS IS ASKED OF SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Thirteen words would settle the prohibition question, according to the joint resolution which will be presented to the senate tomorrow by Senator Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.].

ROBT. F. WAGNER. [Fotograms.]

The thirteen words are "The 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States is hereby repealed."

The Wagner resolution provides for a popular expression of opinion on the prohibition question by requiring the amendment to be ratified by conventions in three-fourths of the states.

"Rarely in the history of government have hope and realization been so far apart as in the uphappy experiment with prohibition," said Senator Wagner today. "It was intended to abolish the saloon; it has created the more dangerous speakeasy. It was intended to destroy the liquor traffic; it has only transferred that traffic into the hands of the lawless for their special enrichment. It was intended to develop a nation of abstainers; it has brought up a generation without knowledge of temperance. It has sustandard."

Police Fire on "Gandhite" Mob; Kill 3, Wound Six

JAMMU, Kashmir, India, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Three natives were killed and six were wounded today when police fired on a disorderly Nationalist mob. Anti-government demonstrations which reached serious proportions last week have grown into a general insurrection at Rajauri and Nowshera, where looting and pillaging have been reported. The disturbances extended over a wide area.

AT THE COLISEUM this week you will find on display the new wares of America's greatest industry.

Every person who hopes to see business stage a sound and early recovery should consider what this brilliant array of new cars can do to make that recovery come true.

The automobile was responsible above any other single product for the prosperity of the last decade.

Now, do you realize what it means to the future?

Just to maintain the annual registration at its present level, the motor car factories of this country will have to build another 23 million cars in the next seven years.

Merely to replace the automobiles which wear out in the next five years, the industry will have to duplicate the mighty production records of 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929—starting now.

THE SATURDAY

"AN AMERICAN

Single Factor

Prosperity

on the Automotive Industry

51.4% of all upholstery leather—

35,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth—

85% of all gasoline—

And in 1930 the automobile industry paid the railroads $500,000,000 for transporting over 3,330,000 carloads of freight—and a billion dollars was paid by motorists in taxes.

It is literally true that men who work in steel and iron, in aluminum, lead and copper—men who bring ores from the earth—men in lumber camps and lumber mills—men who roll out plate glass for car windows and tan hides for upholstery—men who work on railroads—can buy more food, clothing, shelter and the pleasures of life when people are buying automotive products.

The recovery of every business today is waiting for the recovery of every other business—a start must be made somewhere—is there a better place to start than in the greatest industry of all?

Because the annual value of automotive products is greater than the value of any other industry's products—

Because the automobile provides employment for one out of every ten wage earners in the United States—

Because 20 per cent of all annual retail sales in this country are for automotive products—

Because the lion's share of the business in a long list of other industries depends directly on the sales of automobiles—

Any increase in the demand for automobiles means an increase in business activity—there is nothing else you can buy which directly supplies work to so many people.

The nation's motor car manufacturers have registered their confidence in the future by investing millions in new inventions, new developments and new designs—they are now displaying the greatest values which ever bid for a motorist's dollar.

See the 1932 cars themselves at the Chicago Automobile Show.

An investment in a new automobile is a sure way to hasten the return of prosperity.

EVENING POST

INSTITUTION"

BUSINESS URGES HALT ON SOARING VETERAN RELIEF

Demands Less Costly but Fair Policy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—In connection with an analysis of present expenditures on world war veterans of more than one billion dollars a year, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States voiced vigorous opposition today to further cash allowances on adjusted service certificates and to further pensions or other forms of relief to veterans for disabilities not incurred in line of duty.

SILAS H. STRAWN. [Matzene Photo.]

The report, which Silas H. Strawn, president of the chamber, said is part of a general study of government expenditures by a special committee, urged the adoption of a permanent uniform policy respecting military pensions and veterans's benefits as part of a program to curtail the cost of the federal government.

Definite Policy Needed.

Summarized, the conclusions of the committee are as follows:

The magnitude of the expenditures for military pensions and relief "emphasizes the danger of mere drifting, and therefore a policy relative to these military grants should be developed and the necessary expenditures for the effectuation of such policy be fitted into a general plan for federal expenditures." The following principles, among others, should be considered in developing this policy:

1. Notwithstanding the fiscal burden which will be placed on the government, any man who has served in the military forces and who, because of disabilities incurred in the line of duty, has had his earning power reduced, should have generous treatment and should be amply reimbursed for such loss of earning capacity.

"2. It should be recognized that payment of pensions and granting of other forms of relief to ex-service men who have incurred no disability in the line of duty presents an entirely different question, and careful and mature consideration should be given to the extent to which pensions and aid will be granted to this class of ex-service men."

Shows Growth of System.

It is pointed out by the committee that the amount spent for war service and relief in the fiscal year 1931 was $1,013,041,905 or one-ninth of the total which has been expended for this purpose from 1790 to 1931. The 1931 expenditures, the report states, represent about 24 per cent of all federal expenditures for that year and constitutes one of the principal factors, if not the most important factor, in the government cost problem.

After tracing the growth of pension payments resulting from the different wars in which this country was involved, the committee says:

"The volume of benefits accorded world war veterans has exceeded greatly those given veterans of previous wars for a similar period of years. In eleven years over five billion dollars have been spent for world war veterans while the entire cost of all pensions for war service in all previous wars during 141 years has been 9 billion dollars. The number of world war beneficiaries receiving disability compensation alone is twice the number of civil war pensioners on the rolls eleven years after the civil war. The cost for world war relief for 1931 is estimated at 800 million dollars out of total veterans' expenditures of $1,013,041,905.

Hospitalization Cost Mounts.

"The great cost of world war benefits is increased very materially because of the extensive hospital services given to veterans and this may assume colossal proportions if the present trend continues. Also the expense of medical examinations, the overhead cost of life insurance and administration of very complicated legislation adds substantially to the administrative costs.

"For the fiscal year 1930 administrative expenditures (including printing and binding) of the veterans' bureau were $41,739,295, or 9 per cent of the total expenditures. In the same year the pension bureau disbursed $220,947,434—nearly all for civil war and Spanish war pensions—and the cost of administration was only $1,272,203, or slightly more than half of one per cent.

"This situation suggests economies through simplifying the forms of benefits provided for world war veterans, thus reducing the overhead personnel and organization now used to administer the activities of the veterans' bureau."

WINSTON CHURCHILL WILL GIVE HIS FIRST TALK HERE TOMORROW

Winston S. Churchill, former British cabinet minister, will speak tomorrow night at a dinner in the Union League club on "The World—Facing Disaster." He will make a similar address next Sunday afternoon at Orchestra hall.

Mr. Churchill was scheduled to speak in Chicago more than a month ago, but was struck by an automobile shortly after he landed in New York and suffered injuries from which he recovered only recently.

The son of an American woman, the late Lady Randolph Churchill, Mr. Churchill traveled to all parts of the British empire as a war correspondent when barely out of his 'teens. He entered parliament at 27, and was a cabinet minister when he was 34. He was first lord of the admiralty at the outbreak of the world war, was minister of munitions in the Lloyd George coalition ministry during the war, and has served in Conservative cabinets since then.

Spain's Action on Jesuits Is Protested by Vatican

MADRID, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Catholic circles said today that Msgr. Tedeschini, papal nuncio, had presented a Vatican note to Premier Manuel Azana protesting against the recent dissolution of the Jesuit order in Spain.

WARNS RUSSIA "WHITES" PLOT TO FORM STATE

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Soviet Russia must watch developments in the far east with the closest attention, Premier Molotov told the seventeenth all-union conference of the communist party today, for "white" Russians in Manchuria are plotting the establishment of a buffer state and a break with the soviet union.

"The latest events at Shanghai," he said, "bear eloquent testimony to the policy of the imperialists which, inevitably will lead to new wars. In China the dividing line between peace and war is being obliterated and China and Japan are conducting actual hostilities without a formal declaration.

"The soviet government would not be fulfilling its obligations if it permitted this state to be lulled into a false sense of security by loose talk and generalizing resolutions on the international situation. We must be prepared to protect our own interests."

New "Alkaline Way" to Relieve

SOUR STOMACH and ACID INDIGESTION

Most stomach troubles such as Sour Stomach, Acid Indigestion, Gas on the Stomach, and Heartburn are caused by EXCESS ACIDITY. Think back and diagnose your own condition when you suffer from stomach troubles. Have you been eating too many acid forming foods such as meat, bread, eggs, cereals and pastry? Have you been keeping late hours, over-working, over-eating or eating irregularly? Then it is a sure sign you are suffering from EXCESS ACIDITY and the best way to get relief is to correct this excess acid condition. Here is the new "Alkaline Way"—the safe, harmless way to do it.

The New Alkaline Way

Build up the Alkaline reserve in your body with ALKA-SELTZER Tablets. These new Effervescent Alkaline Tablets make a perfect anti-acid drink. One or two Tablets in a glass of water give you a bubbling glassful of the vital alkaline minerals you need to sweeten the stomach, relieve gas and correct excess acidity. There is nothing equal to this new alkaline way to relieve stomach troubles. If you are subject to digestive disorders of any kind, don't fail to try ALKA-SELTZER Tablets.

..Venereal Disease..

This information concerning a serious disease problem is sponsored by the Public Health Institute as a public health measure

TIMELY MEDICAL CARE IS THE GREATEST PROTECTION AGAINST "VENEREAL DISEASE"

An old proverb proclaims that—"procrastination is the thief of time." It is even more serious than that when it's a question of health. For individuals who fail to heed the first signs or symptoms of beginning disease often expose themselves to dangers which may destroy their future health and happiness. Social diseases, syphilis and gonorrhea are particularly outstanding in this respect. Health authorities declare that when neglected or improperly treated few diseases cause as much pain and suffering as these. Of the two diseases syphilis is the more dangerous and destructive. Although beginning locally and for a time limited to a local infection every tissue of the body is subject to its attack. The whole human organism may be involved—the central nervous system and the deeper organs bearing the brunt of this assault.

ADEQUATE MEDICAL SERVICE AVAILABLE TO ALL

Adequate medical treatment is imperative at the earliest stages in order to protect the individual from further complications which may eventually lead to permanent disability. Strenuous efforts are now being made by all health agencies in Chicago to protect the community from the ravages of "Social Diseases"—syphilis and gonorrhea. Infected persons and those who have been exposed to infection should seek reliable medical care immediately. Those who cannot afford the services of a private physician can find good medical care at several low cost clinics. Free clinics are available to those without funds. Co-operation of the public is earnestly requested.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH INSTITUTE

is incorporated for public service, not for profit, under the laws of the State of Illinois. It is an institution dedicated to the object of combating venereal diseases in this community—through organized effort of all social agencies dealing with this problem. Its main clinic for men is located at 159 North Dearborn Street, between Randolph and Lake Streets, a branch clinic at 129 East 31st Street, and the women's and children's clinic, at 72 East Randolph Street.

SWANSON'S 1931 REPORT SHOWS JUSTICE SPEEDED

Cost to Taxpayers Less; More Convictions.

Speedier justice at less cost to the taxpayer is the theme of the annual report of State's Attorney Swanson for the work done by his office in the year 1931. The report, made public yesterday, shows that a great majority of the criminal cases are tried within 30 days, a goal for which courts and prosecutors have been striving for years.

JOHN A. SWANSON. [Melvyn Sykes Photo]

The annual report of the prosecutor not only deals with his prosecution of crime, which has been raised to an 80 per cent conviction basis, but also discloses that the civil branch of his office has helped to fill the empty treasury of the county by prosecution of tax litigation and forfeitures, and fines and costs assessed against defendants in criminal cases. The amounts thus obtained were more than the cost of maintaining the prosecutor's office, according to the report.

Cash Returned to Citizens.

Gullible citizens of the community, who fell into the hands of bucket-shop owners and other shady business enterprises, had returned to them $2,446,519 in 1931 through the blue sky division maintained by the prosecutor.

The prosecutor points out that his office was confronted during the last year with a task never before faced by any state's attorney. He referred to the bank situation, which has thus far brought about 83 indictments charging various crimes against 62 bank officials. He pledges a vigorous prosecution of all bank cases where criminality is discovered and calls attention to the fact that a special staff working under the direction of Attorney Edwin J. Raber is working on the Bain bank chain and is nearly ready for action.

Forces Bank Collections.

In connection with the bank failures the prosecutor reports that he has established an extra legal department under Assistant State's Attorney Henry Ayers to force collections from debtors of the closed banks who are reluctant to pay up. This department has so far collected $200,000 for the depositors without a penny of overhead to them in the way of legal fees or other court costs, the report says.

The speeding up of justice was accomplished through a series of Supreme court decisions obtained in the last year by the prosecutor's office in collaboration with Chief Justice Harry Fisher of the Criminal court and the Illinois Judicial Advisory council, the report says. The money saving to the taxpayers was accomplished in the same manner through the decisions, which allowed the reduction in the jury venires.

Pending Cases Reduced.

Through the shearing of the legal red tape by the decisions, which changed laws of a century, the reduction in pending cases from 1,936 in 1928, when Swanson took office, to 602 at the start of the 1932 court year was accomplished, which makes for speedier trials.

The economy was effected through the reduction from thirteen to eight judges, made possible by the decision which allows the judges to hear felony cases without a jury. The saving in jury fees is estimated at $250,000 per year. A tabulation showing that the prosecutor and the courts have increased convictions 23 per cent in the last three years while at the same time handling 12 per cent more business, with greater economy, is shown as follows:

Year Ending Nov. 30,	1928.	1929.	1930.	1931.
Sentenced to penitentiary or death	628	1,004	991	758
Sentenced to Pontiac reformatory	356	506	425	427
Sentenced to House of Correction	546	457	420	667
Sentenced to county jail	115	103	302	119
Probation	515	675	587	770
Total guilty	2,154	2,774	2,625	2,810
Total not guilty	560	735	613	797

The first column above covers the figures for the last year of Robert E. Crowe's administration.

The report explains that more probations were allowed last year by the judges because the records show that many first offenders, family men in many cases, were apparently driven to crime by the economic conditions.

Appeals Standard Raised.

The standard of efficiency in the department, which has charge of appeals to the Supreme court, has also been raised, the report says, as shown by the fact that 71 per cent of affirmances was obtained as compared with only 60 per cent for the prosecutors of the 101 other counties throughout the state. In addition to the decisions which helped unsnarl the legal red tape are those in which the first bombing conviction ever obtained was upheld, as well as convictions against Aaron Moshiek, master forger, and Dr. Amante Rogetti, notorious abortionist.

In the part of the report dealing with the tax litigation, Prosecutor Swanson points out in a yearly table the fact that he collected and turned over to the county treasurer $9,285,085.26 in his three years of service as compared with $7,923,961.47 from state's attorneys in the eight preceding years. His blue sky division has recovered for the public $9,072,509 in the three years in which it has been operating.

COUZENS RULES DETROIT THROUGH CITY ATTORNEY

Mayor Virtually Shelved in Economy Program.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—To put in a program of municipal economy, Detroit's corporation counsel, Clarence E. Wilcox, has all but supplanted Mayor Frank Murphy as the actual executive and head of the city government. His assumption of powers not ordinarily associated with that of legal officer is believed to have been inspired by United States Senator James Couzens.

JAMES COUZENS.

Senator Couzens became mayor of Detroit in 1919 and immediately appointed Mr. Wilcox to the post he now holds. Hand in hand the two fought the hot battles that eventually brought about municipal ownership of the Detroit street railways. In 1923 Frank E. Doremus was elected mayor and Mr. Wilcox returned to private practice but was back in the chair as corporation counsel again in 1928 when a new mayor, John C. Lodge, returned him to office.

When Mayor Murphy was put in office recently he is reported to have gone to Washington to confer with Senator Couzens and to have suggested then that he might remove Wilcox and another department head, Henry W. Busch, commissioner of parks and boulevards. It is understood that the senator told him that any such procedure would result in a definite break between them. Messrs. Wilcox and Busch continued in office.

Mayor Opposes Salary Cuts.

In his campaign last November, Mayor Murphy made many speeches and in almost all of them opposed the reduction of salaries of city employes. His argument was that if the city government slashed its pay roll industry would follow the lead and a wholesale reduction might take place. The city government should not take that step, he declared.

When Mr. Murphy returned from his Washington conference it was immediately noted in the city hall that Corporation Counsel Wilcox became mayor—in every respect save that of bearing the title. When the city council wished something of the mayor—Mr. Wilcox appeared with the answer. The same was and is true of his appearance for the city controller, the treasurer, and upon several occasions for other department heads. It seemed apparent that Senator Couzens had decided to take a large hand in settling the city's problems.

As early as last July Mr. Wilcox predicted that trouble lay ahead and the council committee on efficiency and economy discussed a program then which, politicians say now, would have avoided much of the present difficulties. This program was shelved because of the mayor's campaign.

Program Is Shelved.

Mr. Wilcox explains now that the reason for the shelving lay in the desire of the mayor to wait for the arrival of the December tax collection period, having the hope then that taxes might come in more rapidly than had been anticipated. They failed to come in rapidly. It seems likely to observers now that the program of reductions—or some like system of economy—will be revived under the guidance of the corporation counsel.

Many of Detroit's financial problems today are traceable to bonds issued and projects voted when Senator Couzens was mayor, it is admitted. The decision of the latter to assume control of the present administration was largely due, it also is admitted, to his determination to make a success of the municipally owned street railway.

Ousts Motorbus Company.

For that reason, according to the observers, Corporation Counsel Wilcox opened and won the fight for the ouster of the Detroit Motorbus company from the streets of the city. He also advocted that the city sinking fund lend $4,000,000 to the street railway so the line might pay off the debt to the Detroit United Railway, which was incurred when the senator was mayor. The salary reduction program also is understood to have the senator's approval and support.

Policeman Dies as Result of Fall While on Beat

Sheehy had been on the police force for 18 years and had been assigned in the Maxwell district for the last ten years.

URGES GARRETT AS PARIS ENVOY IF EDGE LEAVES

PARIS, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The widely read newspaper Intransigeant, on the assumption that Ambassador Walter E. Edge would succeed Charles G. Dawes as American ambassador to London, said Ambassador John W. Garrett, now at Rome, would be a welcome choice for the Paris post.

Mr. Garrett, for a long time a resident of France, has succeeded admirably at Rome, the newspaper said. It expressed the hope that he, "in taking up the interrupted tradition of the lamented Ambassador Herrick, will be for his compatriots the enlightened advocate of France.

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

Hot Rivets and Cool Smokes

A rivet missed . . .
And down it hissed
Red hot . . . a danger and a menace.

The Charming Cheat

By Clara Sharpe Hough

SYNOPSIS.

Ricardo Dane visits New York in search of his aunt, Miss Filomena Stanley, his mother's half sister. Ricardo's mother had recently died and left him heir to the ranch and mountain land in Romeu valley, California, where he had spent most of his life. He intended to find his sole remaining near relative and bring her back to Romeu valley. He had understood this to be his mother's dying wish. His aunt, an actress, had been out of favor with the family, although his mother had sent her checks.

Ricardo locates a Filomena Stanley, but instead of the aged aunt he'd expected he finds a beautiful young aunt. She is living in a Bohemian studio with a Follies girl named Frances. Ricardo readily believes this lovely creature, who acknowledges the relationship. His arrival was fortunate for Filomena, who had been out of work for weeks and was in a sad state financially. Ricardo showers her with gifts and moves her into a better apartment. He moves into the same building on another floor. Webster Sutton, a college friend of Ricardo's, visits New York. He and Eunice Greenway, a girl from home who is studying in New York, are entertained by Ricardo and his aunt. Eunice is a friend of Ricardo's fiancée, Rachel Beatty. She heartily disapproves of Filomena.

INSTALLMENT VII.

A GLORIFIED INTERLUDE.

Ricardo was mystified, for there was unveiled hostility in Eunice's tone as she made this apparently innocuous remark.

"O, of course," he agreed, I'm—I'm glad you ran in. Come again, any time."

"Here, you mean?" asked Eunice. She hesitated. "I don't think I shall really." This time her remark was certainly pointed.

"Don't think I'm a prude, or anything like that, Dick," she went on in apparent explanation. "It's just—well, I should hate to tell Rachel—you wouldn't really want me to tell her——"

"Tell her anything you please as far as I'm concerned," interrupted Ricardo with some warmth, "but I don't see just what you're getting at, and I don't see——"

"O, don't you?" asked Eunice. "Web, is that my coat?"

"There's a looking glass right in here," offered Filomena, hospitably laying a hand on her bedroom doorknob.

"My bedroom," explained Filomena sweetly, throwing open the door to reveal a ruffled blue taffeta bedspread and a gilt framed mirror above a dressing table covered with feminine litter.

"Tell her to tell Rachel?" asked Web politely.

Eunice glanced absently within, then allowed her gaze to rest a moment on Ricardo's hat and riding whip carelessly tossed on the chair beside the bedroom door. She smiled, one of those sweet, incredulous smiles, and said again, "Good-by, Dick. I'll tell Rachel I saw you," and moved toward the door.

"Look here," began Ricardo belligerently, "if you'll just tell me what all this is about——"

"I was only wondering," said Eunice slowly, "if Rachel has a new piano or if——"

"Guess we'll trot along home," offered Jarny.

Frances exclaimed that she must comb her hair and went into the bedroom, where Filomena followed her.

So when Web came back from the elevator, Ricardo in his riding boots, was alone at the window, his back to the dusky room.

From beyond the closed bedroom door came the indistinct murmur of voices.

Web sat down on the divan and mixed himself an experimental drink.

From the window Ricardo said:

Web did not answer.

"Who asked her to pry into my affairs?" asked Ricardo.

Web lounged back on the black divan that had so sweetly set off Filomena's blond charms.

Ricardo crossed the room to stand before him.

"Who asked you to pry into my affairs either?" he asked aggressively. Web laughed. "I always pry into your affairs, Dick. Don't get upstage with me about it. I'm just naturally curious."

Ricardo did not laugh in reply. "Your friend, Eunice, is naturally curious, too, isn't she? Well, you can tell her from me it's none of her business who pays for my pianos. And you can tell her——"

"Tell her to tell Rachel?" asked Web politely.

"And I'd just as soon sock you in the eye as not," pursued Ricardo.

Ricardo gave the littered little table a savage kick. It was stoutly set on wrought iron legs and did not overturn. But the little beaten silver flask crashed upon the painted tiles, and a squat little Italian teacup clattered to the floor. He looked at it resentfully.

He sat down on the divan. "Give me a light," he requested. "Listen here, Web. You've got everything wrong. I was mad enough to throw that girl out of here—she needn't go shooting off her mouth like that if she is one of these pure women. And the point is, she's got it all wrong anyway. I don't know why you had to——"

"Wait a minute, can't you? I know it's none of my business. I know it's none of Eunice's business anyway. She was thinking about Rachel, I suppose. But I've known you long enough—I hate to see you being trimmed, Dick. I've no more real right than Eunice has, of course, to be asking you——"

"O, to hell with Eunice! If it hadn't been for her—— Web, she is my aunt. There's the whole thing. I'd have thrown you out half an hour ago if it wasn't for that. But I want you to get it through your thick head once and for all. It was all right at first for you to think it couldn't be true. I didn't think it could myself at the beginning.

"Dick, you mean you actually believe yourself that this—this girl who says she's your mother's sister—that she is your mother's sister?"

"Of course she is. She's her half-sister, that is. You see, it was like this. My grandfather——"

Web laughed suddenly, ignoring the amours of Ricardo's grandfather. "You did move her into this apartment, didn't you?"

"Well, why not? The poor girl was living in one of these studios down in the village. She——"

"And you did buy her the piano? That's what got Eunice's goat, of course. She's always wanted a decent piano herself, and when she saw this one—well, she went off half cocked, of course."

"She needs it," protested Ricardo, "she's studying music you see, and she——"

"You put up for the music lessons, too?"

"Yes, but——"

"How about the fur coat and silver slippers and what not?"

"Of course I bought them. Hang it, Web, I've got the money. Why shouldn't I spend it? And if I want to spend it on her——"

"Exactly. I had the old-fashioned idea that they usually paid for it. But New York's one jump ahead of me. Here they get away with——"

"Web, I told you she's my aunt," said Ricardo solemnly.

. . . . . .

Ricardo came back from the station with a distinct feeling of relief that he would not have to see either Web or Web's unpleasant girl friend again. Eunice would scarcely expect to be looked up on an subsequent occasion. Web's farewell words had irritated him but not really angered him. Not giving him time for reply or retort, Web had said, going through the gate:

"I was an awful ass to say what I said, of course, Dick. She's a damned pretty kid and it's your own business. So long."

Web then was persistent in misjudging him and in hideously misjudging the loveliest of all creatures. He let himself into Filomena's living room again, a bit disgruntled at the thought. He was a bit uneasy, too, because it was quite possible Web would go to Romeu before he got home, and in that case he would see Rachel.

It could not be denied that Eunice's mention of Rachel had gone a little under the skin. To have written Rachel, "My aunt is living in an apartment near me," hardly revealed the true inwardness nor even the true outwardness of the matter. He had had an uneasy feeling that if he could see Rachel it would be all right. But to write anything to Rachel was—well, difficult. Now this disagreeable female, Eunice, would probably write to Rachel that he had bought a three thousand dollar piano for a chorus girl. It was exactly the sort of thing Eunice would do. Rachel, told this cock-and-bull yarn, embroidered as suited Eunice's imagination (and what a foul imagination the girl had), would believe that he was behaving not only like a cad but like a rah-rah college boy on a holiday, and that he had not an atom of intelligence in his head.

If he could talk with Rachel he could tell her—and he intended to tell her, of course. She would understand. At least, he hoped that she would understand. He was beginning to feel that the existence of Filomena was a thing almost impossible for others to understand. The very presence of such an exquisite creature in his own life gave the whole period of his stay in New York an aspect of unreality. It was like some interlude, some happy phase between the ordinary months of existence. It was like the day of a party where there was cake with candles on it and ice cream, with school days sandwiched humdrumly either side of it.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Seeks Overcoat, Size 44.

"For some time I have been interested in a man, 65 years of age. He is well educated but just isn't able to find any work and he is not accustomed to being dependent upon charity. I wonder if you can find an overcoat for him, size 44.

"MRS. A. H."

Poverty is especially hard on a person of this man's type, but he is displaying remarkable courage and bearing up nobly. Won't you see that he enjoys warmth during the remainder of the winter by donating the overcoat he needs so badly?

We Eat Fewer Cereal Products Than Our Ancestors Required

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you think that the pursuit of the slender hip and waistline is a matter in which the lady herself is the only one affected, you may be interested to know that the farmer, too, is paying for that slim silhouette. In fact, the combined madeover hips and waists of the last decade have done more than a little to aggravate the farm problem.

In support of this, we have computations made by Dr. Arthur E. Albrecht of the New York state department of agriculture to bear us out. Every one of us, he reports, male and female, eats on the average 143 pounds a year less of wheat and other cereal products than did people in the era of hour glass figure fashions.

Look at our breakfast table alone, as compared with that of an older generation. A glass of orange juice, thin toast, perhaps a strip of bacon and an egg and a cereal, lighter than air, at the most. Our luncheons have come to be calorie counting games, the prizes going to those with the lowest score. And dinners are but meager reminders of the "good old days."

Not that we are regretting the passing of the loaded down table. We are just commenting on it. And wondering, betimes, how on earth and where on earth all those courses were stowed away.

Among our latter day advantages, gastronomically speaking, is the popularity of milk as a beverage. Milk is by way of becoming the national drink, with orange juice and tomato juice close runners up.

We eat more fresh vegetables—green things, that is. More salads, more fruits. The report is that we consume 200 extra pounds apiece of milk products, each year. Thus, the vitamins, largely contained in fruits and milk and leafy vegetables are abundantly partaken of.

So, if the silhouette is lean, it is still well supported with the dietary fashion change of recent times.

And it has to be admitted that women—and men—on the new feeding system maintain their youth years longer than did their ancestors of the overloaded dining table.

Official Contract

By Charles True Adams

(International bridge authority; author of "Official Contract at Sight.")

If you are out in deep water with a man and he gets all doubled up with cramps it is rather silly to tell him to swim for it. The logical thing is to pull him ashore.

Now in contract bidding if your partner has told you that he has done everything in the line of bidding that he can possibly do it is up to you to decide then and there whether you wish to bid in the game. To bid less than game and expect something further from the partner is like asking your friend to swim with cramps. But perhaps you can see what I mean to greater advantage in yesterday's play-a-problem. This was the hand:

NORTH (Dealer)
♠—J,9,4
♥—A,K,10,6
♦—10,7,3

WEST	EAST
♠—K,10,8	♠—7,3,2
♥—9,5,2	♥—8,7,3
♦—A,6,4	♦—J,9

SOUTH
♥—Q,J,4
♣—K

North dealt and passed. East passed. South bid a diamond. West passing, North took out with a heart and East then interposed a bid of two clubs. Here is where South must make up his mind. His partner, North, passed originally. He can have nothing further, then, in the way of strength than shown by his take-out bid. He can hardly be expected to rebid when he was unable to make an original bid. Therefore, if South wants the game he must bid it. Having adequate support in hearts and more than enough assisting strength, he at once jumped the bid to four hearts and all passed.

East opened the ♣ A, dummy's K came up, West played the 3, and North the 4. East then led the ♣ Q, dummy trumped with the 4, West played the 7, and North the 6. Dummy then led the ♠ 5, West played the K, North the 9, and East the 2. West returned the ♥ 2, which declarer took with the ♥ K, the J falling from dummy. Declarer then led the ♣ 8, which he trumped in the dummy with the ♥ Q. Dummy led back the ♠ 6, which declarer took with the ♠ J. North, the declarer, then led out the ♥ A, followed by the ♥ 10, clearing the trump suit. North then led the ♦ 3, East played the 9, dummy the Q, and West took with the A. West returned the ♣ 9, which North trumped with the ♥ 6. North now led the ♠ 4 to dummy's Q, dummy taking the last two tricks with the ♠ A and the ♦ K for four-odd—game—bid and made.

North's play is an example of skilled technique. No opening can defeat the contract if North will lead a low spade from his dummy the first time he is in that hand.

PLAY-A-PROBLEM: SOLITAIRE OR PARTNERS

Play this hand tonight at your bridge game. Keep a record of the bid and play in the spaces provided. Numbers in the bidding squares are for successive rounds. Check your results with tomorrow's answer.

To play "Solitaire": Record the bids you think each hand would make in the bidding squares. After the final declaration has been made start the play, leading from the hand at declarer's left. As you play each card cross it off of the diagram and record it in the proper square, as S. 3, H. K, etc. In the last column indicate the hand which won the round and lead from that hand on the next round.

Just Follow These Rules

1. Each day for 36 consecutive days (except Sundays) the Chicago Daily Tribune will print a Washington Bi-Centennial Crossword Puzzle. In each puzzle an historic event in Washington's life will be named. You are invited to solve the puzzle and name the event.

2. The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00 in Cash Prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete sets of puzzles in accordance with these rules. Note: This means that you do not necessarily have to solve each of the 36 puzzles correctly to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank highest.

3. This offer is open to everyone—men, women, boys, and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.

4. Puzzles are to be submitted only in complete sets. Do NOT send in each puzzle separately. Hold all puzzles until you have the complete set of 36. Then send them to "Crosswords," Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. All entries must be in by midnight 15 days after Puzzle No. 36 has been printed.

5. Each entry must be sent by First Class Mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Postoffice Department. Make your entry simple and neat. Neatness will count.

6. You need not buy the Chicago Tribune. You may copy or trace the puzzles and send them in. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.

7. The judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

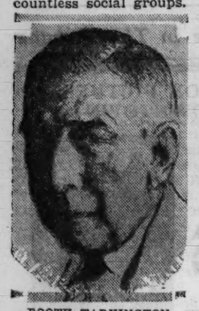
'Mary's Neck' Gentle Satire of the Seaside

Mingling Illinoisans and Some Bay Staters.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Mary's Neck," by Booth Tarkington. [Doubleday-Doran.] Published today.

ONE of the qualities which American literature has of its peculiar and delightful own is that of, spoofing gently and charmingly the "culture" of one of its countless social groups.



BOOTH TARKINGTON.

The English are more in earnest in their satire, more studied, the French more cutting, more ironic. The Germans do not spoof much in their literature. They flay.

The gentle literary poke in the ribs, the good natured guffaw at the particular kind of fools that American mortals can be, is a special characteristic of American fiction.

Booth Tarkington is perhaps our leading novelist of just that genre of writing. "Seventeen" is a state of mind as well as an age to the entire reading public through his picture of it. The middle west in its fluidity is known to many through his works who never watched the sun set west of Albany or rise east of Sacramento. Persons and places as well as states of mind have been made more real through his special gift of making delightful fun of them.

Mr. Tarkington is at his merriest tricks in "Mary's Neck." In it he shakes an amused finger at the popular American summer resort on the Atlantic coast which is the abode of "important" and "influential" people who own their cottages. The story is told by Mr. Massey, president of the Logansville [Ill.] Light and Power company, who has been shanghaied by his wife and two daughters [in their teens] into spending a summer on the Massachusetts coast at the exclusive "Mary's Neck." Through his eye the reader amusedly watches the panorama of the clash between the summer visitors and the natives, the clash between the summer visitors themselves, and the clash between the summer visitors and a very temperamental prima donna, as well as the special clashes of a "yearning" highbrow [but beautiful] young girl with the local lack of culture and the local young.

The reader has a definite idea of Mr. Massey, kindly, old fashioned in the nicest sense of the word, and with not too much of any kind of culture, except the culture of human friendliness. Just what Mr. Massey looks like, Mr. Tarkington made plain in a letter which he wrote to his publisher when he returned the original sketches for the book jacket, a letter which Mr. Doubleday received just as he and I were going out to tea one day last December and which he let me read. I begged him for a copy of it.

Booth Tarkington didn't entirely like the artist's idea of Mr. Massey and he drew a picture of what he thought his main character would look like. "Mr. Massey would need a new head somewhat as indicated," he wrote, "and with no mustache. He isn't a 'rube' type, but a midland small town man of rather old fashioned sort still quite prevalent. People who look something like Mr. Massey are Will Irwin, Thomas A. Edison, Robert G. Ingersoll, Senator Moses, George Fawcett, Col. Smith Russell, Henry Ward Beecher with a haircut, President Hoover, Augustus Thomas, Stanley Baldwin, and Harry Leon Wilson, but not Julian Street."

Through such eyes a summer at "Mary's Neck" is a hilariously satiric picture. It begins with the family's passion for antiques and Mr. Massey telling about it in a series of chats in which he manages almost with genius to get the names of everything just a little wrong. The discovery that the natives of "Mary's Neck" are almost a race apart from the townspeople of Logansville, Ill., is a picturesque one as made by Mr. Massey. And the summer unfolds before the reader a series of unimportant but diverting events.

Not only the events—and the background—but the people themselves take on color in Mr. Massey's descriptions. There is Mrs. Massey bent on doing the right thing socially by her two lovely young daughters, the daughters themselves, Clarissa and Enid, to whom one of the local lads, the omnipresent Eddie, exclaims petulantly when she insists on being very highbrow, "Why can't you act like you look?" Eddie himself is a delight. There is his guest and hated rival, Mallowfield Turpie. There is Dr. Gilmerding, a lecturer on the strange habits of Ogilluwayas, whom Enid imports to educate the colony and who plants himself as a guest until Mr. Massey strategically manages his departure. There is Mme. Parka, the prima donna, and of the locals, especially Ananias Prinsh Sweetmus, whose name gives the family a little trouble.

"Mary's Neck" is spoofing of the lightest, gayest kind. There is no cloud on any horizon except the comic one of Enid's sudden falling in love. There is none of the touching quality that "Alice Adams" had. There are only laughs, not tears.

"Mary's Neck" is not the great American novel, but it may well be the great American antidote of the month to the blu-hues. It is the choice of the Book of the Month club for February.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—One of the participants in the two day aerial search for the missing Oakland to Los Angeles Century Pacific air liner containing eight persons was Clarence Brown, the film director, who several years ago enrolled as a member of the Los Angeles air police, and was summoned like all other aviators of that force to drop his regular business, which in Brown's case is $250,000 a year, and fly back and forth over the mountains until the missing craft should be found.

Brown covered 500 square miles from Santa Maria to the ridge route mountains, but couldn't spot the wrecked plane. Brown was an aerial instructor in the United States army in the war.

It's probably a coincidence, but the decline of the Fox studios as box office monarch of Hollywood set in about three and a half years ago when that studio's executive quarreled with Madge Bellamy, then at the height of her popularity as result of Fox's "Mother Knows Best," and terminated her contract. At the same time they decided to let Tom Mix go.

Now Miss Bellamy is back in Hollywood after over a year in Europe, and the star of "Silk Legs" is preparing to reënter movies as an independent actress.

Her "Mother Knows Best," which many interpreted as the story of Elsie Janis and her mother, but which might even have been Madge and her own mother, will be remembered by all movie fans as one of the deftest and best paying of the early talkie musicals. It was right after her hit in this picture that Fox let her go.

Foy appeared as witness for Fanchon and Marco. Elliott Barrett, Miss Parshelle's attorney, questioned him about his experience and standing in theatrical affairs.

"I produced over 1,400 short subject films," Foy said.

"Name one," Barrett challenged.

"Well, I produced 'Happy Days.'"

"Name another."

"Well, you would think I could think of at least two out of 1,400," Foy said, "but I can't at the moment. However, I produced six short reels recently starring Babe Ruth."

"Well, you say you don't think the Bee Hive idea was original. Do you think the idea of starring Babe Ruth was original?"

"Well, I never thought of comparing Babe to a bee hive," came from Foy, "but now you mention it, it isn't a bad idea."

"All right. What do you think of this song, 'Where the Golden Poppies Grow'? It goes:

"'There are flowers rare, blooming everywhere,
"'Each an emblem of its own;
"'Each flower we love

"You want me to tell what I think?" Foy broke in. "I think it's childish. Am I right?"

"No, you're wrong. Now, what about this one?

"'Where flowers are fairest I found the rarest
"'Butterfly of my dreams;
"'Though I could not capture, my heart you enrapture,
"'And I'll wait forever, it seems.'"

"What do you think of that, Mr. Foy?"

"What do you think of it yourself?" said Foy.

Good morning!

How come all the fuss about Clark Gable and not more ado over James Cagney? Well—it'll only be a matter of time before the latter, who can be tougher, more lovable and funnier at the same time than any other man playing for the screen, will have his popularity innings. Always supposing, of course, that his producers don't get their signals mixed and start in to miscast him.

In "Taxi" this red headed recruit from the sidewalks of New York has a rôle perfectly tailored for his needs. He is cast as a roughneck independent taxi driver who bucks the Consolidated Cab service, an organization that starts out to monopolize corners which, for years, have furnished livings for independent owners.

In the war that ensues, Pop Reilly, whose stand is outside the Fish Grotto, a restaurant where his daughter Sue waits table, has his cab smashed. Pop kills the slugger who wrecks him, is sent up for ten years, and dies in prison.

Matt Nolan battles on, despite the pleas of Sue, who marries the fighting Irishman and lives on pins, needles and broken glass, figuratively speaking, worrying about and trying to keep him out of trouble. For Matt's fists are always clenched. He takes "NOTHIN' from NOBODY!" and when his kid brother is bumped off by the Consolidated's agents, well—you can imagine some of what happens, but not all. [Unless you're a champion imaginer.]

With all its merciless realism, "Taxi"—adapted for the screen by Kubec Glasmon and John Bright, who wrote "Public Enemy"—has lardings of pretty romance and flashing humor. Lines are pithy and delivered with a bang—especially so far as Cagney's concerned—and situations are believable. The acting is all A1, though Loretta Young is rather too hothouse for the rôle of Sue and Polly Walters trying to act and talk funny after the manner of Zasu Pitts, is far from being a hot imitator.

Direction was neat and the action zips along excitingly from start to finish.

This is one of the hardest-boiled movies you ever saw in all your lives—and there's not an ounce of gangster or beer-running stuff in it.

Yanks May Watch Sun's Vagaries from Mountain in Africa

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Knowledge to make long range weather forecasts possible may soon come to mankind from the same Mount Sinai where the Bible says Moses received the Ten Commandments.

Mount St. Catherine, which many scholars believe was the Mount Sinai of the Bible, is being considered by the Smithsonian institution as the site for an observatory to study the sun.

The institution, making the announcement today, said it is seeking the highest, driest accessible spot in the eastern hemisphere to study small variations in the sun's radiation that are believed to cause major changes in the weather.

Mount St. Catherine, rising 8,540 feet out of the desolate desert of the Sinai peninsula, is being investigated by Alfred F. Moore of the Smithsonian staff.

The Smithsonian institution is seeking a new site for a solar observatory to replace one just abandoned on Mount Brukkaros, southwest Africa, where haze and high winds made observations unsatisfactory. Other observatories are at Washington, Table Mountain, Cal., and Mount Montezuma, Chile.

Weather forecasts months and years ahead are believed possible on the basis of rises and falls in the radiation sent out from the sun.

CIVIC ORCHESTRA PLAYS NEW WORK OF CHICAGO COMPOSER

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Those who had in hand the organization of the Civic orchestra of Chicago thirteen seasons ago may well have been proud of their efforts yesterday afternoon. Playing for the first time of the present season at Orchestra hall the orchestra drew the largest audience of its career, and for that matter played about the best concert.

It was a stimulating sight. Here is an orchestra of full symphonic dimensions, composed of young musicians who have been brought together to get training in the routine of symphonic orchestra playing, and under the highly capable baton of Eric DeLamarter playing a complete program in an entirely professional manner.

There was new music and old. Beethoven's "Leonore" overture, the third of the series, opened the program. But three numbers bore the label of a first Chicago performance, Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Sadko," Moussorgsky's Scherzo in B flat, and a suite by Robert L. Sanders, Chicago composer, written while he was living under the terms of his fellowship at the American academy in Rome.

In addition the orchestra has made long strides into the difficult art of accompanying. Henry Jackson, a talented and trained pianist, played Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto, and Agatha Lewis, a talented and trained soprano, sang Bach's solo cantata, "Praise God in All Lands," both to orchestral accompaniment, and with no less success than the orchestra itself had garnered.

This orchestra rates as one of Chicago's definite and excellent achievements.

A newcoming pianist, Robert Goldsand, gave a recital at the Playhouse yesterday afternoon and disclosed gifts of no mean order. He is a particularly good Mozart player, as the Sonata in B flat indicated. It is true that he included on his program Chopin's Variations on "La ci darem la mano" from Mozart's "Don Giovanni," a work which many of the Chopin editors have seemed willing to forget. One hazards the opinion that it is a piece of the early nineteenth century intended for the agile of fingers and the innocent of heart. But Mr. Goldsand also included "The Children's Corner" by Debussy, and such later modernists as Stravinsky, Schoenberg, and Prokofieff, and won excellent opinions.

Dean Hoover Warns of Metal Shortage in Century, Perhaps

Stanford University, Cal., Jan. 31.—(AP)—An end to the age of metals is foreseen by Prof. Theodore J. Hoover, dean of the Stanford school of engineering and brother of the President.

Envisioning a startling change from the current complaints about overproduction of many commodities, including those from underground, Dean Hoover said today a dearth of metals would come upon the world, first probably becoming apparent with respect to gold and tin.

"Substitutes will be found," he said, "for each metal and mineral in turn as it becomes scarce, but a program for a dwindling mineral supply is inevitable.

"My guess is that the first signs of this pinch will become evident to a thoughtful person within a century, if they are not even now discernible."

Dean Hoover said the world was using its supply of minerals and metals at the annual rate of 1,000,000,000 tons, or 1,000 pounds for each man, woman and child on the face of the globe.

Despite this rate of consumption, he stated, "the price at which these minerals and metals can be sold is very close to the margin of profit."

Progress in the art of recovering metals from ore "keeps just about even with the decrease in ores of easy treatment," Dean Hoover said.

"There are in this country whole mountain ranges or rocks which contain 25 per cent aluminum. Now, 25 per cent would seem a very high grade ore when we remember that we are profitably treating copper ores which assay less than 1 per cent.

"But this 25 per cent aluminum ore in billions of tons in those mountains has no value whatever at the present price of aluminum.

"The mining industry is a hazardous, poorly paid business, working on a wasting asset. Every ton of ore taken out of a deposit leaves it one ton poorer.

"The day will come when there will be no taxes at all on mines; in fact, the day will come when a bonus will be paid on every ton of ore mined, so avid will be the human race for metals."

Jewish Charity Votes Budget of $1,479,570

Will Add to Sum Later During Year.

As a start toward the tremendous burden of relief work in prospect for 1932, an appropriation of $1,479,570 was announced yesterday by the board of directors of the Jewish Charities of Chicago for its affiliated agencies. This amount is part of an estimated budget for the new year of $2,869,193, and is made, it was emphasized by Sol Kline, acting president, in the face of a probable deficit of least $245,000.

"In making this appropriation," the official stated, "we have to contemplate a deficit of at least $245,000, but should the demands for relief continue at the present rate, our deficit may rise as high as a half million dollars.

"Like all other social work organizations, we have suffered severely in internal income in our hospitals and orphanages, and in the general income of the Jewish Charities from subscription. On the other hand, our load of work, particularly free work in clinics, schools, hospitals, orphanages, homes for the aged, and above all, in the family welfare society, has come up tremendously.

"We have, through a thorough budgeting system, been enabled to save almost $200,000 beyond savings due to a fall in the price of commodities; but this saving has been wiped out, and hundreds of thousands of dollars, in addition, added in the way of deficit, on account of the tremendous increase in the number of families that require our services.

"The Joint Emergency Relief fund has been of great service. Without it we would have failed to care for our problems. However, it supplies much less than one-third of the amount of money which the Jewish Charities has had to raise to supplement its institutions, and therefore the burden of the major part of the work still falls upon the Jewish community."

Samuel A. Goldsmith, executive director, reported that during the year 1931, 5,533 families were cared for by the Jewish social service bureau; that 119 individuals were helped through the industrial workshops, and 1,321 through the Hebrew Sheltering home. In the field of child care, 182 individuals were cared for by the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans; 288 by the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphans' home; 743 by the Jewish Home Finding society, and 343 by the Jewish Child Welfare council.

At Michael Reese hospital, the report also stated, 150,463 patient days' care was given.

THE STAGE

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER."

An operetta founded on Shaw's "Arms and the Man"; score by Oscar Straus, libretto by Bernauer and Jacobson; adapted from the German by Stanislaus Stange. Given at the Erlanger theater Jan. 31, 1932, with Vivienne Segal and Charles Purcell as stars.

THE CAST.

Nadina	Vivienne Segal
Aurelia	Sarah Edwards
Mascha	Marian Palmer
Lieut. Bummerli	Charles Purcell
Capt. Massakroff	Edmond Mulcahy
Col. Casimir Popoff	John Dunsmore
Maj. Alexis Spiridoff	Allan Rogers
A dancer	Theo Von Tassel

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

HERE, in a charming and expert revival, is one of the best operettas that ever came out of central Europe, "The Chocolate Soldier," founded upon one of Shaw's most amusing and least purposeful comedies, composed by the brilliant Oscar Straus, and endowed with that soaring, immortal song hit called "My Hero." It comes to life, some twenty-three years after its first American vogue, with an air of freshness and up to date gayety, as a thoroughly contemporary affair. It offers persuasive reasons for a visit to the Erlanger theater.

One does not feel that the musty fragrance of a vintage classic hovers over this lyric frolic, which tells a story that Shaw wrote six years before the dawn of the twentieth century. One does not need to sentimentalize over it as a "period" piece. Somehow or other the process of "dating"—the pernicious anæmia of the stage—seems to have been suspended in the case of "The Chocolate Soldier." The hand of time has not passed its withering touch over the smiling surface of this graceful, intelligent, and rapturously melodic work.

The reason for this survival of vitality is not to be found, I believe, in the fact that the libretto is an adaptation of Shaw's "Arms and the Man." That play is now food for the bookworms. The elixir of life in the veins of "The Chocolate Soldier" is, I suspect, the lyric sparkle and exultant melody of its "My Hero" number.

This number has been kept in circulation ever since "The Chocolate Soldier's" birth, back in 1909. Unlike other song hits of international fame, such as "The Merry Widow" waltz, it has never faded out of the popular consciousness. But it calls for a voice of operatic brilliance, so it has not been mauled about by inferior singers. The curse of boredom, which blights most song hits, never fell upon it.

"My Hero" is the "Celeste Aïda" of "The Chocolate Soldier"—it comes in the first half hour of the performance. According to the formula for operetta composition, it should have been reserved until the climax of the second act; but Oscar Straus was in an inspired and generous mood when he wrote the music for this enchanting piece. "Every number a hit" was his motto, so he tossed off "My Hero" in the first scene, and let it stay there, to put a glamour over everything that was to come.

When Vivienne Segal, now on a blithe vacation from her labors in the cinema factories, picked up the framed picture of her military idol and quietly began her hero worship, I was wondering if she could rise to this vocal tour de force. She seemed like a shy little ingenue, whose light voice would not be equal to a prima donna's fireworks.

But when Vivienne had finished she had established a new "My Hero" tradition. She sang that song for all it is worth, surpassing her former achievements in operetta. In this number and through the rest of the performance she is everything that the rôle of the Bulgarian charmer in "The Chocolate Soldier" calls for.

Charles Purcell, in the title rôle, is a case of the right part meeting the right man. His singing is excellent, and his characterization of the light hearted Serbian lieutenant is skillful and amusing. Miss Segal and Mr. Purcell are genuine stars in this revival. The others in the cast are also decidedly effective.

INDIANA STATE PARKS HAD 566,188 PAID VISITORS IN 1931

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Contrary to expectations, Indiana's state parks, in the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30, 1931, showed an increase of 15.4 per cent in gate receipts over the previous year. The gain in attendance was the greatest since 1927. The increase in attendance was 87,179 and total paid attendance was 566,188.

Dunes state park on the south shore of Lake Michigan had the largest attendance, with 201,422, compared to 178,772 last year; Turkey Run park in Park county, second, with 131,601 admissions, against 121,164 last year, and Clifty falls on the Ohio river was third, with 121,078 in 1931, against 90,083 in 1930. Since the first gate admission was charged in Turkey Run in 1919, 2,899,813 persons have paid admissions to state parks.

4 Year College Pre-Law Work Called Mistake

Survey Indicates Waste in That System.

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR WILLIAM L. EAGLETON of the University of Chicago law school concludes from a survey announced yesterday that the fourth year of academic training for pre-legal students is a waste of time.

The inquiry, conducted by Prof. Eagleton and Nelson B. Henry, associate professor of education, covered the scholastic achievements of more than 1,000 students entering the law school from 1924 to 1930. It shows that students with only three years of liberal arts training fared much better in the law school than those with a bachelor degree, indicating that the fourth year was not only a loss of time but a definite handicap for the student about to enter law school.

"The survey indicates that the fourth year accomplishes only one purpose—increased expense to the prospective lawyer—and so far as legal education is concerned is so much wasted time," Prof. Eagleton said.

The survey showed that 61 per cent of the three year students obtained their law degrees, while only 47 per cent of those with four years of pre-legal training finished law school. It also showed that 60 per cent of the entire class ranged (in grades) above the middle man of the four year group, while only 45 per cent of the class outranked those of the three year groupd. Thus, to keep 100 men above the point at which students are eliminated, the law school would have to train 167 in the four year group, as compared to 135 in the three year group.

Prof. Eagleton was asked whether the students in the four year division may not have been inferior in mental equipment to those in the three year group. He said the survey showed their grades before entering law school averaged aproximately the same as those of the three year students.

Prof. Eagleton admitted that the survey is of value only as far as the student's success in the law school is concerned and may or may not have any bearing on his future success in or fitness for his profession. Such information cannot be obtained, he said.

The survey was made with a view of testing the advisability of requiring four years of college training for admission to the law school. That practice is growing among universities in an effort to improve the quality of lawyers and eliminate the undesirables from a field already overcrowded.

Prof. Eagleton said the four year requirement would limit the number entering law school, but would merely result in restricting legal education according to wealth. He also foresees the danger of law diploma mills arising from such a requirement, similar to the evil now faced by the medical profession.

"The avowed purpose of the four year requirement," he said, "is to produce better lawyers. If it accomplished this it would be desirable, regardless of the increased cost of education. Instead, it results in the increasing cost of legal services and does not produce more thoroughly equipped lawyers."

Intelligence tests, legal aptitude tests, and personal interviews were pronounced more desirable than the four year requirement by Prof. Eagleton.

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE WOULD TAKE OVER HUNT FOR TREASURES

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Copyright: 1932: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—The Carnegie institute is interested in the discoveries at Monte Alban, near Oaxaca, and has offered to undertake vast explorations in that zone, paying expenses and turning over to the Mexican government all archæological objects found in the ruins during the excavations. The zone embraces about 12 square miles, of which Monte Alban forms the center, and the buildings cover untold centuries of construction and reconstruction by numerous races.

It seems probable that the Carnegie institute will obtaine the concession, as the Mexican government has no money to devote to it. The numerous engraved stones recently found in the Monte Alban region have hieroglyphics apparently much older and unrelated to any hieroglyphics found in either Zapoteca or Maya codices.

An archæologist just returned from Oxaca declares the engraved stones apparently are much older than those of the Mayas, but indicate that the Mayas learned their culture from Oaxaca, either from the Mixtecas or the Zapotecas, or from both.

The Carnegie institute proposes to take copies of everything found during the excavations so as to form complete exhibits as the work progresses. It is not stated where the institute will exhibit the copies of their findings in the Untied States. It is said here that the institute plans to spend at least $2,000,000 on the Monte Alban exploration and reconstruction, and proposes to leave the vast Indian city as it was in the days of its glory.

Alfonso X. Caso, government archæologist, has been ordered to bring more than 300 objects found in Monte Alban to Mexico City for safety, where they will be used for study.

Mirror Buttons, Spangles, Too, Spring Vogue

PARIS, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Silver spangles and mirror buttons flash brilliant points of light to brighten the new spring evening frocks. Chiffons and other sheer materials testify that a warmer season is at hand.

Redfern is showing much chiffon, in prints and solid colors, and also the new mat crêpes. Evening chiffons frequently use a fine smocking. Pleated sapphire net is a feature of the house and wool lace and cotton lace both are shown for evening.

Lace and tulle are featured by Germaine Lecomte, the tulle in some instances made up in a cape to be worn with an evening dress. One lace dress is allover white Valenciennes and has a puff sleeved lace jacket. Blue Venise lace and black lace also appear.

Printed crêpes for both day and evening wear are popular at that house, in a pattern of large white flowers on a colored ground. An ermine bolero with puff sleeves is an attractive novelty. And the short velvet coats still are in vogue for evening. Straighter evening skirts are favored, slashed high on one or both sides.

Short evening coats are found also at Redfern, in velvet. Shoulder capes bordered with chinchilla vary the evening wraps, and there is one sable capelet lined with ermine. Evening flowers and spangles are used effectively.

Coats at Redfern have widely adopted the popular deep armhole. They are belted and are worn with separate fur cravats of beaver or shaved lamb. Both wool and silk are shown for street and afternoon dresses. There are puff sleeves and flared sleeves, and as a new note long sleeves are buttoned to short ones. Suits have a semi-fitted jacket.

Fur collars seem to have deserted coats to appear on dresses. Germaine Lecomte is showing the dresses with fur collars and uses both elbow and three-quarter length sleeves. Dot printed organdie blouses appear again.

Light geranium red, green, and the ever present white and black are prominent at Redfern. Germaine Lecomte favors purple, navy, mustard, and again white and black.

Smart Paris Hikes in Velveteen Suits

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Mme. Gabrielle Chanel, the celebrated "Coco" Chanel, has reinstated velveteen as a material for practical walking suits. She has always loved this sturdy fabric, using it for morning, afternoon and evening, but her new velveteen walking suits are one of the best efforts she has made with the material so dear to her heart.

One of the secrets of chic is the surprise element. That is, the use of something in a different way and the way in which Chanel has employed velveteen to make suits with jackets which are pocketed and cut like a man's tweed coat makes chic with a capital C.

The velveteen walking suit from Chanel is shown in our sketch today. She makes it in red, dark green and dark blue velveteen according to the client's fancy.

The jacket of this suit is hip length, and while it is belted, it is not snugly fitted, getting more chic because of its casual, easy fit. The sleeves, as you see, partake of this general easiness, also, being cut a la bishop with rather deep cuffs held close to the wrists by steel buttons. The pouch pockets, four in number, are plated and their flaps are buttoned down with steel buttons.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The lines of this pretty dress are smart and slenderizing, and it will be stunning made up in one of the sheer woolens. A black and white tweed mixture, with plain red for trimming, and a belt matching the color of the trimming is one suggestion. Any of the heavier silk crêpes will make up beautifully in this design.

The pattern, 3448, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Spy Hunter Lectures Here Soon for Charity

Author of "Mati Hari" to Talk Feb. 17.

THE group of young men and women interested in the Lower North Community council have decided not to give a dance as their annual benefit this year, and are planning to sponsor two lectures instead.

Maj. Thomas H. Coulson of the British military intelligence, author of "Mata Hari," is to give his lecture, "Spying on Spies," on Wednesday, Feb. 17. On Tuesday, March 1, Mary Hastings Bradley will give a talk on "Black Queens." Mrs. Bradley's topic is a new one which has never before been elaborated on in any of her numerous travel talks.

Both lectures are to be held at 11:30 o'clock in Increase Robinson's gallery in the Diana Court building. Afterwards the Vassar House tearoom in the same building will serve a special luncheon.

Mrs. George Jaeger Jr. is chairman of the benefit committee and Miss Elinor Farwell and Mrs. Arthur Farwell are her principal assistants. The other members include Mrs. Robert P. Bates, Mrs. Cyrus Bentley, Mrs. A. A. Carpenter, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. James B. Herrick, Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, Mrs. Albert A. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson, Mrs. William B. Storey, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler Jr., Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. John Paul Welling, and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester.

Chicago Girls Going to Yale Prom Feb. 26.

Miss Betty Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Brown, and Miss Chloe Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius B. Watson, are, so far as we have heard, the only two Chicago debutantes who have yet received the coveted invitations for the annual Yale prom on Feb. 26. Miss Brown at the moment is cruising in the West Indies with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Warner of New Haven and their daughter, Miss Betty Warner, who came to Chicago in December for Miss Brown's debut ball. After the cruise Miss Brown will visit her aunt, Mrs. Rensselaer Cox, at Mountain Lake, Fla., before going to New Haven for the ball.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish of Glencoe will have as her guest for the next fortnight Mme. Cornelia Sorabji of India, who is to speak on Wednesday at the Chicago Woman's club on "The Position of Women in Changing India." Mme. Sorabji's conception of India's national problems is said to be much opposed to that of Gandhi's.

The Winnetka branch of the Infant Welfare society is starting its yearly drive for funds with which to maintain its welfare station at the Chicago Commons. Plans will be made at a luncheon today at Mrs. Carl Kelley's residence on Indian Hill road. Mrs. Harve Badgerow is chairman of the welfare committee, which includes Mrs. J. Lawrence Onderdonk, vice chairman; Mrs. Dudley C. Palmer, treasurer; Mrs. William W. Darrow, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Luther H. Barber, secretary.

J. B. Forgans to Give Dinner Tomorrow Night.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Forgan will give a small dinner tomorrow night at their residence in Lake Forest for Mrs. John P. Hazen Perry of New York, who goes to the Forgans today for a visit after a gay round of gayety in Winnetka as the guest of the William B. Hales. The Forgans also have planned a dinner for Saturday night and Mrs. Laurence O. Wilson will be a luncheon hostess on Wednesday. There are several other things in the offing for the popular ex-Winnetkan in Lake Forest this week, but these are all that are settled definitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Hurley, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piez will be among the Chicagoans present at the dinner President and Mrs. Hoover are to give for the new Democratic speaker, John W. Garner, tomorrow evening at the White House. The Wrights will leave tonight for Washington and return on Thursday to make final preparations for their departure on the 10th for a long holiday which will begin at Miami Beach and Havana. Later they will spend several weeks in Mexico City before boarding a train for California.

Miss Harris' School Pupils Plan Party.

The boys and girls of Miss Harris' school, where so many young fashionables are learning their ABC's and everything that they will need to enter college, are planning a mothers' and daughters' and fathers' and sons' dinner for Friday night in the ballroom of the Webster hotel.

Before the dinner there will be a reception for the parents and the teachers and afterwards Ellery Walker will talk about "Around the World on One Leg."

The proceeds from the affair will go to the Joint Emergency Relief fund, for which the school has given numerous benefits this winter. On the committee in charge are: "Bud" Dering, Bradford Ripley, Gilbert Younglove, Curtis Rogers, Frank Bell, John Halla, and Paul Poll.

Mrs. Cabot Brown (Peggy Keeley) of San Francisco will arrive on March 10 to visit her father, James Keeley of the Ambassador, and her sisters, Mrs. Graham Aldis and Mrs. Luther S. Hammond Jr.

Mrs. William H. Kenly of 27 Scott street returned yesterday from a five weeks' sojourn in Boston and New York.

Mrs. Frank Payne of Hubbard Woods sailed on Wednesday on the Statendam for a West Indies cruise with Mrs. Burnham Lamb of Adrian, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan of Lake Forest, who have been at the Lake Shore Drive hotel for the winter months, are planning to leave soon for a holiday in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Strotz and Mrs. Paul Butler have gone down to the Louisville estate of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Todd, who are having a series of house parties during the mid-winter hunting season.

The Benjamin Leslie Behrs, who usually go to Aiken for the late winter, haven't made any plans as to when or where they will go this year. They will, of course, go east for the Maryland hunt cup race in late March or early April, and may embark on a holiday trip after that. Their debutante daughter, Miss Edith Behr, will accompany her parents to the Maryland meet.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. Harris departed yesterday for a month's stay in Palm Beach with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Max Von Schlegel of New York.

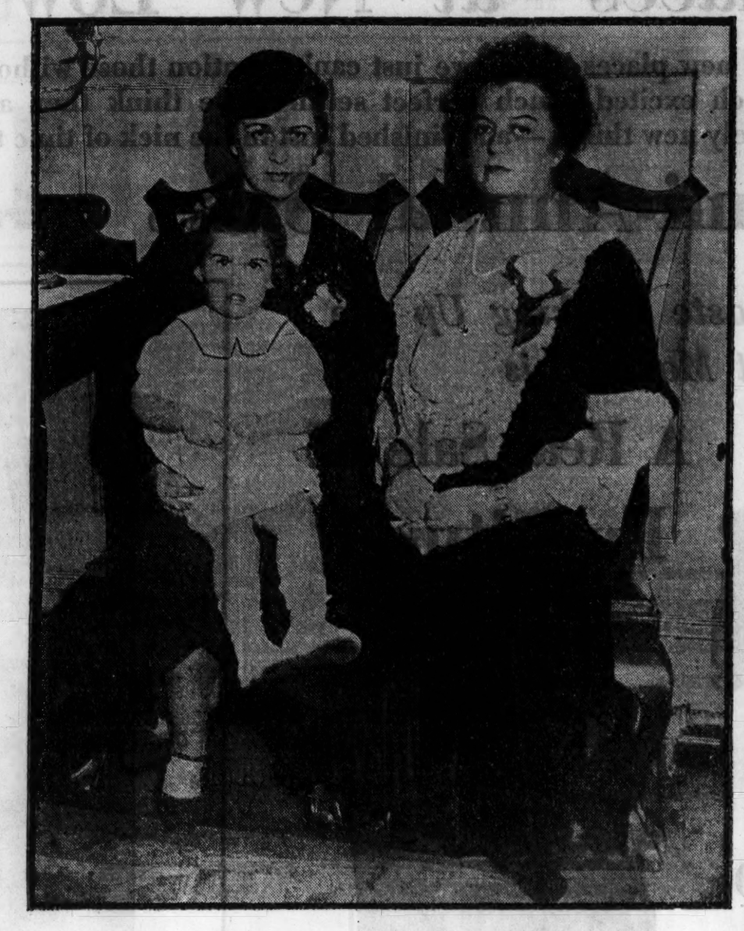
Prof. and Mrs. William A. Nitze, who went east in the early fall for a term of lectures by the professor at Stanford and Princeton, are expected to return to their south side residence this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, who went east for the wedding a week ago Saturday of Miss Catherine Hare and Mr. McLaughlin's brother, Frederic McLaughlin II., at Radnor, Pa., have been having a holiday in New York since the ceremony and will not be back at their Lake Forest residence until this week.

Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, mother of the bridegroom, closed her house at 1300 Ritchie place, when she went to Radnor, and now is in Florida paying a round of visits before she sails for Europe in March. Mrs. William P. Martin is with her and will go abroad with her, too.

Miss Harriet McLaughlin returned yesterday from the east and is at the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Herbert McLaughlin and his young wife, the former Corinne Brewer, are expected to return from their trip east today or tomorrow, and the bride and groom will return on the 21st of this month and will be at home at 1518 Astor street.

THREE GENERATIONS AT CHRISTENING



Mrs. Robert McCormick Adams with her daughter, Mervyn Winston Adams, and her mother, Mrs. W. L. Baum. The child was christened yesterday, being given her grandmother's name of Mervyn Winston.

URGES MORE CHURCHES AS WAY TO CURB CRIME IN CHICAGO

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The 95th annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago opened last night with a massmeeting at St. James' church, Wabash and Huron streets. The keynote of Chicago as a great missionary field was sounded by the Venerable Frederick G. Deis, archdeacon of the metropolitan area. The convention will continue until Wednesday noon. Other speakers last night included the Venerable Winfred H. Ziegler, rural archdeacon, and Bishop Thomas Casady of Oklahoma.

Archdeacon Deis estimated that a half million Christians are "lost" in the city due to shifting populations. To meet this condition he advocated an expanded local missionary program which ultimately will put an Episcopal church in each community in the city.

"The biggest missionary opportunity in the world lies right here in Chicago," he declared. "To combat the crime problem we must put a church in each neighborhood and see that the residents are definitely affiliated. Statistics show that the average age of gangsters ranges from 17 to 22 years. It is also noted that few, if any, gangsters ever went to Sunday school. It is evident that few of those who had church training in their youth turn out to be criminals."

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the various sessions of the convention. The woman's auxiliary will convene today at the Church of the Redeemer, 56th street and Blackstone avenue. Tonight the convention dinner will be held at the Victor W. Lawson Y. M. C. A. Following the annual charge of the bishop, the Rt. Rev. Dr. George Craig Stewart, on Tuesday morning, the business sessions of the diocese will open.

Stories of Wild Young People Scare Parents of "Naughty" Children

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Occasionally a shocking story appears in the newspapers. "Son of Wealthy Family Dies on Wild Party." Or commits forgery or murder. Or revolting details come out in the investigation.

At once certain people raise a hue and cry. They may be prominent people—they're usually men—and they burst into print, laying it all to the fact that children aren't taught to obey, nowadays, and that that's what will happen to them if they're not taught to do so!

Thereupon many young mothers get the horrors. They look at their normal, disobedient little sons and daughters and picture them in parallel dreadful situations and get panicky—and sometimes in their panic they write to me.

Now, if we took to heart all the prophecies of those who believe that all children are lost souls whose parents disbelieve in spare the rod and spoil the child and don't believe in instant obedience, we would be filled with apprehension.

We must gain certain results in managing our children. But the failure to do so does not mean a criminal and tragic end. There's so much more to it all than that. The whole story of these tragedies does not always come out. Neither do these alarmist critics remember that the participants in these sadly sordid episodes are often abnormal.

Young mothers should not allow themselves to be easily wrought up over these wise sounding, alarming generalizations as to what is wrong with youth and its parents.

Two Chicago Babies Given Noted Names

Mervyn Winston Adams One of Children.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

TWO of Chicago's young citizens received an important heritage yesterday afternoon when they were christened with the names of grandparents prominent for several decades in this town's civic and social affairs.

The curly headed baby daughter of the Robert McCormick Adamses was was named "Mervyn Winston" by Dr. Duncan H. Browne of St. James' after her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Wilhelm Ludwig Baum, the daughter of the late Frederick T. Winston. The two weeks' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith Gorham Jr., became Sidney Smith III., perpetuating the name of his grandfather, who heads one of the city's important legal firms as Mr. Winston did.

Intimate friends of the Adams and the Baums attended Mervyn's ceremony as they have five other christenings in the handsome old stone mansion of Dr. and Mrs. Baum at 1508 North State parkway. An elderly servant attached to Mrs. Baum's household for 40 odd years recorded the event in the old family Bible—in fact, every detail was the same yesterday, with one exception.

Little Miss Mervyn, already 20 months old, had outgrown the lovely christening robe worn by her brother and sister, two of her cousins, and her step-Uncle Mervyn. Nevertheless it remains a family heirloom as the material is the white embroidered batiste that fashioned the wedding gown of Mrs. Baum's great-great-grandmother, Garrad.

Dr. Browne officiated at the baptismal fount in the front of the "great" drawing room as when he named Kyle and Robert McCormick Jr., the two older Adams' children. Mrs. Baum was disappointed that Frederick Winston Lawrence, her sixth and youngest grandchild, could not come from Holland, Mich. to share Mervyn's christening. Both his brother and sister, Dwight and Grace were baptized in the Baum home a few years back as was young Mervyn Baum who once cautioned his mother to use care in spreading her name further.

"It's been alright so far," he said with hearty approval of little Mervyn Winston, "but you never can tell, there might be a bad one sometime."

Mrs. Laurence O. Wilson and Mrs. John Lewis Cochran became Mervyn Adams' godmothers yesterday and James Herbert Mitchell, her godfather. Baby Sidney Gorham's name giving ceremony was a simple rite at Mt. Carmel church with Msgr. Casey officiating. Mrs. Gorham, you will recall, was Miss Corrine McVoy before her marriage.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover attended the meeting in the Friends' Meeting House on Florida avenue this morning.

Mrs. Hoover yesterday afternoon was the honor guest at the wedding in this same meeting house of Miss Beatrice Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander D. Cox of Grafton, W. Va., and Lawrence Morlan, an official of the National Council for the Prevention of War, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Morlan of Salem, O. After the marriage rites of the Quakers the bride and bridegroom and their parents held a reception in the parlors of the meeting house and Mrs. Hoover remained for it and was the first to greet the bride after the parents.

The secretary of commerce and Mrs. Lamont will be joined tomorrow by their daughter, Mrs. Chauncey Belknap of New York, who with Mr. Belknap has been in the north and whose children have remained here with their grandparents since Christmas. Mrs. Belknap will remain several days and then take her children home.

The secretary of labor and Mrs. Doak have with them for a few days' visit Mrs. Walter McMenimen of Winnetka, Ill., in their country home in Virginia.

Comment on Pleasant Evening Due After a Girl Entertains You

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"When a man and girl spend a pleasant evening with each other, at home or out somewhere, and it comes times for leave taking, what is the nice and proper thing to say—'Come to see me again soon,' or, 'Let me hear from you soon,' or, is it up to the man to say, 'I'll see you again soon,' whether he means it or not?

"The man I refer to, who intimates he is very well educated, says just plain 'Good-night.' It seems rude and abrupt to me, especially when he has spent the evening at my home and I have served refreshments."

While it isn't necessary to subscribe to any set form of leave taking expression, the courteous thing is for both to comment on the pleasant evening, the man to express the hope that it will be repeated again. It is pretty disconcerting for a young lady who has entertained a young man to the best of her ability as a hostess to be dismissed with a curt "Good-night." The man either hasn't been around enough to learn the niceties or else he is just a natural born boor—or his interest in the lady involved is simply not tempered with any of the sentiment she hopes for. For her future direction she will have to discover for herself in exactly what category the young man belongs.

Ordinarily the young woman's parting words are to the effect that she has had a very pleasant evening. In more formal days she would not add that she hoped to see the young man again. But in our freer days when it is not forbidden to slip a word of encouragement she may, without too much pressure on the theme, hint her pleasure at a return engagement. The idea is not to press for an early future date—just indicate by tempered word that it would not be an unwelcome occasion to look forward to.

The query presented does represent the oft-confessed quandary that a young man not aware of the niceties of social contacts projects. The remedy lies in a better acquaintance with Emily Post's Bible, let's say, or in absorbing by observation what is done and said by people of charming social grace.

TO PLAY SATURDAY

Yascha Yushny's colorful Russian revue, "The Blue Bird," arrived at the Union station over the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad last night preparatory to a special three weeks' engagement beginning at the Studebaker theater next Sunday night. The company of more than fifty performers left Chicago shortly after arrival for midweek engagements at Decatur, Ill., and Evansville, Ind.

Yushny's revue has performed in all the principal theatrical centers of Europe for the last ten years. This is its first American tour.

The players were recruited from the Imperial theater, Moscow. Incidentally, it's just about 10 years ago since Yushny left Russia. As he explains it, a revolutionary leader said to him: "Moscow is really becoming too small for both of us; don't you think one of us ought suddenly to disappear?"

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Carola Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Mansfield of 3920 Lake Shore drive to Harold Richard Dwyer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Corwin of 70 East Walton place, was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock last Saturday afternoon at St. Mary of the Lake church.

The ceremony was followed by a reception and dinner at the Belden-Stratford hotel. Miss Margaret Roche was maid of honor for the bride and Miss Mary Dunn of Philadelphia and Miss Helen Jane McNellis served as bridesmaids. Edward O'Hara was best man.

Rev. D. S. Stark, New York, Gets Chicago Pulpit

He's Called as Rector to St. Chrysostom's.

The Rev. Dudley Scott Stark, vicar of Holy Trinity chapel, St. James' parish, New York, has been elected rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, 1424 North Dearborn parkway. This was announced yesterday by Frederic F. Norcross, senior warden of St. Chrysostom's church.

The Rev. Mr. Stark is a graduate of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and of the Episcopal Theological seminary, Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Norcross also announced that the Rev. John C. Evans, religious editor of THE TRIBUNE, who has been a member of the clergy staff of St. Chrysostom's during the past three years, will remain as associate. Dr. Evans will also continue his journalistic work.

Mr. Norcross stated that the Rev. Mr. Stark's success in New York has been outstanding, and that his rise in the ministry has been phenomenal. He is 38 years old, married, and has four children. Since his ordination in 1920 he has served two parishes. The Rev. Mr. Stark was rector of St. Mark's church, Mauch Chunk, Pa., for six years. He was then appointed vicar of Holy Trinity chapel, New York, seven years ago. This chapel has a membership of more than 1,200 persons and is heavily endowed.

During the past three years two successive rectors of St. Chrysostom's have been called to the episcopate. Shortly after his arrival in 1928 the Rev. Dr. H. P. Almon Abbott was elected bishop of Lexington, Ky. He was consecrated bishop the following spring. The Rt. Rev. Stephen E. Keeler, bishop coadjutor of Minnesota, succeeded Bishop Abbott and was the rector of St. Chrysostom's church nearly two years. Mr. Norcross stated that the Rev. Mr. Stark will begin his rectorate here on the first Sunday in March.

Don't be fooled! Yellow Teeth are NOT Natural

You can clean your teeth 3 shades whiter in 3 days

START using Kolynos—a half-inch of this double-strength dental cream on a dry brush, twice daily—and in 3 days you'll agree that dingy, yellow teeth are not natural. Your teeth will look cleaner—look 3 shades whiter!

Nothing in the world cleans teeth better than Kolynos. It's unique—unlike anything you've ever used. It contains two important ingredients that get remarkable results. One—the finest cleansing agent known—foams into every crevice, washes away debris, erases tartar and removes ugly stain while the second ingredient strikes at the source of most tooth and gum troubles. It kills millions of germs—according to test, 190 million in 15 seconds—germs that swarm into the mouth and cause decay, discoloration and lead to serious gum diseases.

Thus this double action of Kolynos cleans teeth right down to the natural white enamel without injury. It stimulates the gums and leaves the mouth cleaner, better looking and feeling fresher than ever.

If you want sound, white teeth and firm, healthy gums start using Kolynos—a half-inch on a dry brush morning and night. In 3 days you'll see for yourself that anyone can have attractive teeth. Buy a tube of KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM.

CONFINED TO ROOM THREE MONTHS
Gets First Good Sleep Free of Pain In Years

"I suffered for eight years . . . tried all kinds of medicines without results until I tried WENVO," says Mrs. L. E. Robinson, 323 E. 8th, Topeka, Kan. "Finally I became so bad I was confined to my room and bed for 3 months. Every joint hurt . . . knees, hips, ankles, wrists . . . I had to hold my hands on my pillow. I was discouraged but my daughter urged me to try WENVO. The first half bottle accomplished wonders. I got my first good sleep free of pain in years. Pain is rapidly disappearing and I feel well again.

"No Finer Remedy for Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism"

Says Robt. Hubbs, 409 Blake St., St. Joseph, Mo., "I suffered with muscular rheumatism so badly that at times it was necessary to have assistance to put on my shoes. My food at times would sour on my stomach . . . for weeks at a time I would have to follow a strict diet. I thought nothing under the sun would help me. Imagine my astonishment after I took WENVO, to sleep the whole night through — the rheumatism practically gone—eating a hearty meal of food I liked and not a bit of distress."

TRAINED NURSE PRAISES WENVO
Says No Other Health Builder Can Compare With This Marvelous New Medicine

Read these words of Miss Fay Sellers, trained nurse, 113 S. Kansas Ave., Topeka, Kansas, telling how WENVO restored her to health after three long years of suffering.

She says: "I couldn't eat or sleep — rest seemed impossible. A very light diet was necessary and I had to give up coffee altogether. Then I took WENVO. In only four months, I have regained my strength and vitality, sleep as soundly as a child, diet is forgotten. CRIPPLED RANGERS BEAT BLACKHAWKS, 3-0

HORNSBY AND VEECK TO SHOP FOR OUTFIELDER

Policy of New Cub Owner Told.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Winter trade winds began to blow again yesterday as soon as William Veeck, president of the Cubs, returned from a month's vacation at Phoenix, Ariz., and Catalina island.

Even before satisfying his curiosity as to how many signed contracts had been returned to the club offices in his absence, Veeck called Manager Rogers Hornsby on the phone and requested him to arrive here in time to depart this noon for New York, where the National league magnates meet tomorrow.

"Well, we want an outfielder and might find him," was Veeck's only comment when asked why Hornsby had been summoned to make the journey. When the manager was here last week he admitted there was nothing pending and that his presence in the east wouldn't be necessary. Something may have happened since then.

Explains New Owner's Policy.

President Veeck was far more communicative on the subject of Philip Wrigley's attitude toward the club inherited from his father, the late William Wrigley. There is no basis for the whisperings, already going on, that the youthful magnate, because of a supposed lack of interest in baseball, may dispose of his controlling interest and thus open the way for a wholesale shifting of the official personnel.

President Veeck discussed the club with P. K. Wrigley at Pasadena, Cal., prior to the William Wrigley funeral services there last Thursday and at that time he expressed himself as determined to do with the team as his father would have done.

Hack, Root, Signed.

"We will go right along as we have in recent years," declared Veeck. "It was the ambition of William Wrigley to build a world's championship team. His death, instead of altering the club's policy, will intensify the effort to reach the goal he set."

Veeck, after a hurried glance through the pile of signed contracts on his desk, said the club was in as good shape as in any previous spring.

Veeck personally signed Charley Root at Los Angeles, and went through the same ceremony at San Francisco with Stanley Hack, the youthful purchase from the Sacramento club. Hack is counted upon to play third base, and if confidence is of any value, he isn't going to disappoint anybody. That's the way Veeck looks at it.

Hack is a smiling six footer, weighing about 160 pounds. So as to be in the best of physical condition when he reports at the Catalina island camp two weeks from tomorrow, he has become addicted to tennis, which some of the old time, hard boiled players might believe was carrying it just a bit too far.

Waner Likely Prospect.

Just where Veeck and Hornsby are going to locate the outfielder they want is a puzzle. There are some good men on the trading block, but there is some question whether their owners would permit them to go to a strong team.

The logical man for the Cubs' purposes would be Paul Waner, who just now is sending back unsigned contracts as fast as he receives them from the Pittsburgh club.

Waner held out last spring long enough to avoid the arduous training camp duties and then discovered it was quite a job to get himself back into his real stride. This, along with previous transgressions, is supposed to have convinced Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirates' owner, that there is only one solution—a trade.

Another possible trade acquisition is Chick Hafey, the bespectacled Cardinal slugger who last season topped the National league. The St. Louis owners, with an endless string of talent made available by their extensive farm system, are not opposed to turning loose anybody boasting a fat contract. Hafey had one. He, too, caused his owner some annoyance by refusing to get into action until after the 1931 season was well under way.

"Don't Go Out Nights, Hack; You'll Catch a Cold"--Carey

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The underslung slugger, Lewis Robert [Hack] Wilson, came to town today to report to his new baseball bosses, declare himself well back on the road to physical fitness, and predict he would hit at least 45 home runs this year for the Brooklyn club.

HACK WILSON.

"I feel sure I will be set for as good a year as I have ever had," declared Hack as he caressed his 6 year old son, Bobby, and shook hands with his new manager, Max Carey, for cameramen.

"It's a great break for me to get with Brooklyn where I won't have to bat against that birdshot Dazzy Vance throws. I've been working hard down home, and I'll be ready to go after I get another fifteen pounds off, putting me down to 195."

To Get $15,000.

Tomorrow Wilson, who tumbled from favor at Chicago last season and came here by way of St. Louis, will sign a Brooklyn contract. He has already agreed to terms. It is understood he will get a one year contract for $15,000 with a bonus clause. This is less than half what he was paid by the Cubs in 1931.

Wilson's attitude about his downfall last year is that he may as well "write it off" and start all over again. He seems far from discouraged. He doesn't think the longer range of the fences at Ebbets field will hurt his home run production.

"If I hit 'em right they will go out of any park," said the Hack. "I hit two of my longest home runs there, including one last season into the upper deck of the left field stands. Right field is a good target for me there, too—the spot that Herman and O'Doul like."

Carey Advises Hack.

Wilson listened attentively to some good advice from Manager Carey as to how to take care of himself in preliminary training at Hot Springs. He nodded as Max warned: "Don't go out nights, Hack, and run chances of catching cold."

Joe McCarthy, Yankee manager, who was at Chicago the year Wilson set his record of 56 home runs, was among those welcoming Hack to New York.

"Wilson is a determined fellow," said Joe. "He is still young enough to play a lot of good baseball. I never had any trouble handling him. He ought to go well with Brooklyn, but you've got to figure that none of these full swingers are going to hit the deader ball the way they did the old one."

The Baseball Writers' association's ninth annual dinner, attended by representatives of nearly all sixteen big league clubs, was a forerunner to the league schedule meetings, to be held tomorrow and Tuesday. Annual awards of the Writers' New York chapter were presented to Wilbert Robertson, deposed manager of the Brooklyn club, for "outstanding service," and to Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, as the "player of the year."

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.
1:30 p. m.—Bozeman vs. Denton.
3:00 p. m.—Schaefer vs. Hall.
8:15 p. m.—Thurnblad vs. Layton.

Two favorites were repulsed in the world's championship three cushion billiard tournament at Mussey's amphitheater last night. First, Gus Copulos, of Eugene, Ore., was beaten by Len Kenney of Chicago, 50 to 32. Then Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago star, was upset by Frank Scoville of Buffalo, 50 to 36.

Kieckhefer's defeat was a surprise for the experts. Augie, with more than an even chance to win his tenth world's title, suffered his second defeat in seven games and now is tied with Art Thurnblad, another Chicagoan and the present champion, for second place. Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia holds first place with six victories and one defeat.

Scoville "Giant" Tamer.

Scoville, who has won five and lost five, has scored all his victories over stars. His victims in order were Allen Hall, Copulos, Jake Schaefer, Johnny Layton, and Kieckhefer.

Scoville took an early lead and never surrendered ground. Once he was in front, 20 to 9, and later by 33 to 22, 35 to 25, and 43 to 27. Scoville was in excellent stroke, while Augie could not get the ivories under control, as was evident from his high run of three. The Buffalo veteran had a high run of seven.

Kenney Distances Copulos.

Kenney's victory over Copulos dropped the sober Greek into fourth place with three defeats in eight games and his chances of winning the emblem are none too bright. Kenney, not brilliant but a plugger, refused to be disturbed by the crafty Copulos and went into such a large early lead that the issue was settled long before Kenney recorded his 50 points.

Both players went scoreless in the first four innings and with a run of 7 in the eighth Kenney took the lead at 12 to 1. In the 23d inning he was in front, 23 to 7, and 31 to 8 in the 25th inning. From this point on he played his careful game, marked by much defensive play.

Kenney and Scoville now are tied for fifth place with five won and five lost. They will meet in the last game of their schedules:

Unless Reiselt is checked the championship will be decided by Friday night. Reiselt will not play today and probably will not see action until tomorrow night. Score by innings:

OLYMPICS' "DEATH CORNER"

BOBSLED HURTLES 100 FEET IN AIR; 4 RIDERS HURT

Lake Placid, N. Y., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Capt. Werner Zahn, world war aviation ace and head of the German bobsleigh team, suffered a fracture of the left arm today in a crash on the treacherous bob run as the sleigh teams of eight nations defied a blizzard to attempt practice for the winter Olympic games.

With the dawn, the teams of the United States, Austria, Belgium, France, Italy, Rumania, Switzerland, and Germany took to the treacherous run down the steep sides of Mount Hoevenberg despite a blinding snowstorm and a temperature of five degrees above zero.

Sled Goes Over Wall.

Among the first teams to challenge the 25 curves and banks was Zahn and his three-man crew. Heading into the most difficult turn, a double bank known as Zig-Zag, the German sled was traveling at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour. Zahn, the steersman, headed into the bank to the right a bit too high, came out of it staggering, hit the bend to the left too high, and shot up and over the top of the wall, set at a 90 degree angle.

Zahn's sled broke down a portion of the wall and sailed 100 feet through the air, the four riders clinging desperately to the bob, before it smashed to splinters against a tree amid thick underbrush down the mountain slope.

Teammates Also Hurt.

Although Zahn suffered a fracture of the left arm just above the wrist, his three mates on the sled received only minor injuries. Dr. Hans Mehlhorn, the brakeman on the bob, suffered a fractured bone in his left hand. Heinrick Rossner, riding just behind Zahn, suffered a wrenched back, and the fourth rider, Charles Devine of Lake Placid, was badly shaken up.

All were cut and bruised, and several stitches were taken in cuts about Zahn's face. They were taken to the Lake Placid hospital, but all except Zahn were allowed to leave after their injuries had been dressed. Zahn's condition was not considered serious.

Olympics Promote Amity, but Not Among U. S. Bobsledders

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—Unofficial reports from Lake Placid suggest a cruel class war between the local bobsledders and the team of society bobsledders from Paris and St. Moritz who formed the first American Olympic bobsled team in the winter games at St. Moritz in 1928.

It was impossible to hold any competitive trials at Lake Placid this year, because the winter was mislaid, and Mr. Jay O'Brien, the chairman of the Olympic bobsleigh committee and captain of his own sled, picked himself and the other members of his old pioneer society crew as one of the American units. There are, however, a number of local bobsledders in the region of Lake Placid who think they are much better than Mr. O'Brien's crew, which includes Eddie Eagan, the society boxer from Denver.

Local Boy Has Tricks.

The Lake Placid locals include the four Stevens brothers and Harry Homburger, a youth of eighteen, who is said to have shortened the Mount Van Hoevenberg course considerably by a trick of taking off from the slide and flying his sled on certain portions of the course. His record at the helm of his sled, one minute and 52 seconds, is the course and world's record and it is believed that in the Olympic competition he will reduce this time by at least five seconds.

The four Stevens brothers are Paul, a ballast man weighing 235 pounds, a trapper and woodsman and a flyer of 15 years' experience; Hubert and Curtis, both captains of sleds, and Raymond, a passenger. Mr. O'Brien, in the absence of any official trials for guidance in his selections, picked Homburger's crew, which includes Paul Stevens, for one, and for the other picked his own team on the basis of the success which the society sled achieved in the St. Moritz Olympics, the only previous Olympic bobsled competition in which the United States has participated.

Americans vs. Americans.

Mr. O'Brien's team includes, besides himself, three other trans-Atlantic commuters, Billy Fiske, the captain and steersman; Eagan and Clifford Gray. The local bobsledders thought Mr. O'Brien showed questionable tact in selecting his own crew, even though they did win at St. Moritz, because they believe there are other Lake Placid crews which should be chosen first on the basis of their recorded performances on Mount Van Hoevenberg.

The local feeling was betrayed when Ralph J. Ury of Schenectady, chairman of the registration committee of the Adirondack district, on a technicality, suspended O'Brien, Eagan, Gray, and several others. They were soon reinstated, upon their compliance with the technicality which had to do with their certificates of eligibility. So already the Olympic games, which are conducted in the interest of international amity and respect, have failed in their purpose.

Even Finns Have Troubles.

The Americans can't even get along with the Americans, and over in Finland the Finns can't get along with their fellow Finn, Clas Thunberg, the great distance skater, who refused to represent Finland at Lake Placid because all nations represented there were out of step with him. Thunberg skates against the clock only and at Lake Placid the foreigners will have to do as the Americans do and skate against their opponents. Thunberg has had unpleasant experience of the American style of skating. He raced Joe Moore in Madison Square Garden a few years ago and was a tail Finn at all times.

I am told that the disrespect between the disappointed local bobsled crews of Lake Placid and the society crew is entirely mutual and this suggests exciting possibilities for the town is small and the places of social resort are few.

With the other members of the society crew I have no acquaintance, but I have met Mr. Eagan several times and if it were possible to decide the precedence for the bobsled teams by fist fighting, I am sure he would be glad to do it that way. He began fighting socially in Denver as an amateur at a time when Jack Dempsey was a new champion and one evening when Dempsey happened through Denver, Mr. Eagan was elected to box him slightly in an exhibition.

Mr. Eagan Erred.

In the course of the exhibition, Mr. Eagan, who is a smiling fighter, thought, as so many other amateurs have thought, when boxing champions.

"It would be a great thing for my prestige if I could slip one over on this great champion and knock him for a series of widening loops."

He thereupon let fly his best meadowbrook hunt or Junior league punch and missed, whereupon Dempsey brushed his chin with a left hook and grabbed him as he was about to fall. Mr. Dempsey waltzed Mr. Eagan around a few steps and brushed his chin again, also catching him again, and waltzing him around. After brushing Mr. Eagan's chin a third time and waltzing him one more whirl, Mr. Dempsey leaned close to Mr. Eagan's ear and said firmly, "Now, be nice, will you?"

Mr. Eagan was still very fond of fighting though and once fought his way around the world as an amateur in the company of some aristocratic young English boxers.

This Is All Irrelevant.

After his experience with Dempsey Mr. Eagan became a Yale boxer and an Olympic boxer.

But this is all irrelevant. It is not customary to decide boxing championships on bobsled nor bobsled championships with boxing gloves.

Clark Wins Texas Open Golf with 287

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., professional, won the Texas open golf tournament today with a 69 for a total score of 287. He replaced Abe Aspinosa of Chicago as champion.

At the start Clark was just a playing professional among many prominent stars. At the close of the first 36 holes, his 144 made some of the boys point him out at the lunch counter. On the first 18 today he slipped into the shadows again with a 74, but came back into the limelight with a 34-35—69 on the last 18 holes. First prize was $600.

Two Tie for Second.

Tied for second place with 288 were Gene Sarazen, New York professional, and Gus Moreland, Dallas amateur and Texas state champion. Moreland shot the best individual score of the day when he finished the last 18 holes in 67 strokes.

Paul Runyan, Westchester, N. Y., finished in a tie for fourth place with Dudley Bell of Houston, Tex., and Harry Cooper of Chicago. Each had 290.

Metz, Guldahl Tie.

Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., 144-143—287.
Gene Sarazen, New York, 145-143—288.
*Gus Moreland, Dallas, 149-139—288.
Paul Runyan, Westchester, N. Y., 143-147—290.
Dudley Bell, Houston, 148-142—290.
Harry Cooper, Chicago, 149-141—290.
Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn, 145-147—292.
Abe Espinosa, Chicago, 150-149—299.
Joe Paletti, Chicago, 158-145—803.
Alex Wilmot, Madison, Wis., 153-156—309.

Two Records Broken in A. A. U. Weight Tourney

Seven champions were crowned yesterday in the Central A. A. U. weight lifting tournament. Philip Grueber, 160 pounds, of the Chicago Weight Lifting club, broke the C. A. A. U. two arm military press record of 187 pounds by pressing 191½ pounds. Another record was broken when William Albert of the First German Sports club of Chicago, weighing 163 pounds, had a total of 983 pounds for five lifts. The old record was 968 pounds.

Notre Dame Picks New Junior Grid Coach This Week

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Selection of a successor to Jack Chevigny, junior football coach, who resigned yesterday, will be made this week, the Rev. M. A. Mulcaire, chairman of the athletic board of control, intimated today. Chevigny, however, has not formally resigned, Father Mulcaire said.

Harry Stuhldreher, quarter back on the Four Horseman team of 1924 and for six years coach at Villanova, is mentioned prominently as Chevigny's successor. Stuhldreher, according to reports, will come here as junior coach under Senior Coach Heartley Anderson and will have as his assistant in the backfield Marchmont Schwartz, star of last year's team. Although he has served his three years of varsity competition, Schwartz has another year of law study and will be here during the football season next fall.

HELEN BINA IS 2D IN ST. LOUIS SKATE CARNIVAL

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Miss Charleen Power of St. Louis defeated Miss Helen Bina of Chicago, captain of the women's Olympic skating team, in the one-sixth mile open race at the seventh annual silver skates carnival here this afternoon. The time was 32.6 seconds. Elsie Laskowitz of St. Louis finished in third place, just ahead of Elizabeth Dubois, Chicago.

Wallace Fee, Chicago, won the men's one-sixth mile race in 29.4 seconds. Harry Kaskey, Chicago, finished third in the one-sixth mile men's open, which was won by Adolph Furman, St. Louis, in 28.4 seconds. Wilbur Marks, Chicago, finished second in the one mile intermediate for boys, which was won by Truman Connell, St. Louis, in 3 minutes 20.2 seconds.

Kaskey finished second and Ed Stundl, also of Chicago, fifth, in the one mile men's open, won by Lamar Ottsen, St. Louis, in 3 minutes 27.7 seconds.

Miss Bina won the women's 440 yard race in 50.4 seconds, and also the 880 yard event, in 1:48.1. Elizabeth Dubois, Chicago, finished third in both these races.

Tony Agliano Whips Lou Avery in 10 Rounds

New Orleans, La., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Tony Agliano, of New York, won an unpopular desicion today over Lou Avery, of Oklahoma City, in a ten round lightweight bout. Agliano weighed 130¾, Avery, 135¾.

Fair Grounds Reduces Claiming Purses to $800

New Orleans, La., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Fair Grounds race track announced today a reduction in purses for claiming races from $1,000 to $800. The action, officials said, was made at the request of horsemen who sympathized with them over the "tremendous financial losses" experienced during the present meeting. The reduction, the officials explained, will not affect the daily feature races nor the stake races.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Those talented New York Rangers came to town alleged to be sore of limb and sick at heart—a pushover for our Blackhawk hockey boys.

Somehow, though, Bill and Bun Cook, among others, hadn't heard of their team's miserable estate. So a dirty trick was played on Maj. F. McLaughlin's eager fellows. The weary and downcast Rangers up and licked the Hawks, 3 to 0, much to the disappointment of some 12,000 noisy customers.

The Cook brothers threw down the pushover rumors with a greater lack of sympathy than the others. Bun passed to Bill for the first goal of the game and he did it again for goal No. 2.

Boucher Works Lone Handed.

The Cook brothers couldn't horn in on goal No. 3, for their line partner, Frank Boucher, got it in a purely solo effort. Frank got his in 2:00 of the third period, to the chagrin of the Hawk defense, which was pitiable.

Even so, you can't blame the Chicagoans much for thinking they were to face a softened New York crew.

In their last five games, the Rangers had allowed a total of 22 points to be scored against them, including six made by the Maple Leafs Saturday night in a 6 to 3 overtime game. And while we're statistical, you may as well know that it was the first whipping the Hawks have taken on their ice since Jan. 13 and the second since Dec. 13.

While there was a sight of hard skating at the outset of the contest, the scoring threats were not numerous until after the halfway point had been reached.

Hawks Start Threats.

When the game was about 12 minutes old the Gottselig-Ripley-Couture line forced Goalie Roach to make a miracle save to ward off a score, and a few seconds later Ripley carried the puck past the defense for another closeup bang, which Roach also met with his rapid boots.

Several other ambitious maneuvers in immediate succession apparently startled the Rangers and as the period went into its third quarter the New Yorkers were very obviously bent on results.

Bun Cook stole the rubber off the left boards in mid-ice, carried it across the blue line, then passed to his brother Bill. Bill loosed a blistering shot, which was much too fast for Goalie Gardiner and the unhindered rubber tangled in the back of the middle section of the cage. The time was 13:45.

Brothers Click Again.

The second Bun to Bill brother act clicked in 13:10 of the second period. George Boucher drew the first Hawk penalty of the game when 11 minutes of the session had been played and the Rangers launched a concerted offensive which they didn't ease when Boucher returned. Bun Cook finally got a chance to pass to Brother Bill right where Brother Bill wanted it. Gardiner charged out to smother Bill's effort, but Bill evaded his sprawl and lifted the puck home with grace and skill.

Frank Boucher made Graham and Abel look like a couple of State street lamp posts in scoring New York's goal No. 3. Frank skated right between Teddy and Taffy while they stood by to watch his clever stick handling. He then glided on to an easy goal.

Less than a minute later Boucher again skated through Ted and Taffy, but this time Gardiner was able to kick off his closeup shot.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Western conference basketball teams continue their truce this week as far as Big Ten competition is concerned with one exception. On Saturday night Chicago meets Iowa at Iowa City in the first of the series for tenth position.

Neither Iowa nor Chicago has won a conference game. Each has been beaten four times, and one or the other is certain to finish last in the standings.

Chicago's latest venture was last Saturday night when the Maroons took their fourth drubbing at Minnesota, 40 to 28. The game offered Licht, Gopher guard, an opportunity to increase his individual scoring, and he accepted with 13 points. Licht now has scored 39 points to lead the Minnesota team. Incidentally, Licht is tied with Poser of Wisconsin for fourth position in the Big Ten.

Gophers Strengthen Position.

Minnesota by its victory continued in second place, with an excellent chance to win, providing Purdue and Northwestern, title favorites, eliminate each other. The schedule gives Minnesota every opportunity, for the Gophers already have divided with Michigan, their foremost rival.

Joe Reiff of Northwestern, defending high scorer in the conference, continues to lead the 1932 parade with 56 points. Reiff has played in six games and so has Capt. Norm Daniels of Michigan, who is second with 50 points.

Reiff's competition, however, likely will come from Moffitt of Iowa and Wooden of Purdue. Moffitt is third in the standings with 45 points in only four games. Johnny Wooden has an average per game which is higher than Reiff's and equals that of Moffitt. Wooden has 34 points in three games. Wooden's threat to Reiff's leadership may rest in his ability to count from the free throw line. He has 12 free throws, which equal the number Reiff has made.

Marquette Invades Big 10.

Marquette university resumes rivalry with Big Ten teams this week. The Hilltoppers have defeated Wisconsin and Chicago this season, and on Wednesday night they play Purdue at Lafayette and Indiana university the following night at Bloomington.

Iowa faces Notre Dame tonight at South Bend, while Ohio State meets the Navy Saturday night before returning to the Big Ten race.

BUFFALO SEEKS HOCKEY LEAGUE REINSTATEMENT

The Buffalo club, which was dropped from the American Hockey league on Friday, yesterday opened negotiations for reinstatement, depositing a certified check for $10,000 with Thomas Shaughnessy, vice president of the league, as evidence of good faith in its effort to retain its franchise. Shaughnessy, however, told club officials it would be necessary for them to pay $2,000 back into the league and clear up indebtedness to players before their plea for reinstatement would be considered.

Notre Dame Battles Iowa Five Tonight

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's basketball team will go into action again tomorrow night against Iowa. The Hawkeyes have Howard Moffitt, the sophomore star, who is third in conference scoring. Moffitt, who has grown up with Iowa basketball as a native of Iowa City, is also a great team man. He shoots from any angle.

Big Ed Krause, sophomore center for the Irish, who has outplayed some of the best pivot men in the middlewest, again has his work cut out for him. He will jump against Alexander Rogers, 6 foot 3 inch football tackle, second high scorer in Iowa's conference games last year. Parker Bennett, three inches taller than Rogers, a sophomore, may also see action.

Notre Dame will again be without the services of Johnny Baldwin, guard, who still is confined to St. Joseph hospital in South Bend with bronchial pneumonia. Capt. Norb Crowe, who sank four baskets against Pittsburgh, will replace him again in the Irish lineup. Probable lineups:

CHICAGO ENTERS BID FOR A. B. C. MEET IN 1933

Delegates from Chicago to the American Bowling Congress in Detroit, March 18, were authorized yesterday to campaign Chicago for the 1933 A. B. C. meet at the regular midwinter meeting of the Chicago Bowling association.

If successful in getting the meet the delegates will assume the responsibility of guaranteeing 750 teams in the tournament.

E. H. Baumgarten, second vice president of the A. B. C., was selected as a committee of one to choose the delegates to the convention.

Central A. A. U. Handball Title Won by Platak

Joe Platek, representing Postl's Health club, won the Central A. A. U. 1932 handball championship Saturday night at Postl's courts. Dr. N. E. Zeitlin, also of Postl's club, finished second while Paul Simon took third place. Robert White of the National A. C. won the consolation prize.

BILL ASKS RAIL FUND TO BUILD WATER TERMINAL

Would Put Old Agreement Into Action.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A fund of $200,000 from the Santa Fé and Illinois Central railroads, which has been lying around unclaimed for two years, will be put to work in the building of a terminal for the Illinois waterway, if the legislature enacts a measure embraced in Gov. L. L. Emmerson's call for the third session of the general assembly which meets today at Springfield.

The second waterway item in the call is for an act relinquishing the Calumet-Sag canal to the United States government for use as part of the lakes to gulf water route.

Tract Comes to State.

The $200,000 of railroad money is coming to the state as part of the settlement of the "90 foot strip" cases involving old Illinois and Michigan canal lands. Through the settlement the state becomes owner of a 21 acre site for a northern terminal for the lakes to gulf water route near the old turning basin, close by the point where the old Bridgeport pumping station used to operate years ago. It lies at the junction of the main sanitary and ship canal and the Chicago river at South Damen avenue, formerly Robey street.

Advocates of immediate action on the $200,000 terminal project point out that it will give work to hundreds of men out of jobs without cost to the state, in addition to being a necessary preparation for the opening of the Illinois waterway.

Pressures are being applied to finish the waterway some time before next October instead of in the spring of 1933.

Connects with Rail Lines.

The site has frontage on both the sanitary ship canal and the Chicago river, and it is connected with all railroad trunk lines. Chicago's produce terminal and fruit auction house are at the spot, and terminal experts have pronounced it an ideal site.

Since 1908 the terminal as it stands has been used for handling the bulk of the lake-rail traffic in Chicago. Package freight and grain are transferred from boat to rail and from rail to boat. There is belt line railroad service, the Chicago River and Indiana railroad connecting with the 28 trunk line railroads in the Chicago switching district.

The state, in exchange for this terminal, surrendered its claim to about 29 acres of canal lands, title to which had been litigated for years. Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom was instrumental in getting for the state two stipulations in the settlement which was passed on by the Circuit court of Cook county Sept. 15, 1928.

Railroads Furnish Fund.

One was that the Santa Fé and Illinois Central railroads should furnish $200,000 to the state to enable further improvement of the terminal. The other was that under certain conditions the roads would build a connecting channel between the sanitary canal and the old I. & M. canal near Western avenue.

The Santa Fé and Illinois Central railroads agreed that, upon written request being made by the department of purchases and construction of Illinois, not earlier than one year from the date of the settlement, they would furnish, as the work progresses, the necessary funds, but not to exceed in the aggregate $200,000, to enable the department to improve the terminal facilities.

The bill to enable work to proceed provides that the plans must have the approval of the new regional port commission created by joint action of Illinois and Indiana. If the bill passes it is planned to use the $200,000 of railroad money for the construction of a barge-rail loading and handling stage and warehouse.

18 PASSENGERS HURT AS TRUCK HITS STREET CAR

Coroner Plans Safety Parley on Autos.

Eighteen passengers were injured late last night when the trailer of a huge truck, bound from Detroit to St. Louis, sidewiped a northbound Kedzie avenue street car at 27th street. All the injured were taken to St. Anthony's hospital. James Bain, 21 years old, of Detroit, driver of the truck, was held by police, who said they believe he probably became sleepy from his long drive just before the accident.

No one was critically hurt in the crash. Among those with severe injuries were Mrs. Margaret La Brec, 18, 735 North Ridgeway avenue; Mrs. Elsie Carroll, 30, 3525 Congress street, and Mrs. Cecilia Quinn, 19, 3602 South Winchester avenue.

Plans Safety Parley.

Coroner Frank J. Walsh, in announcing official statistics for motor deaths in Cook county during 1931, which showed a sharp increase over 1930 and the highest total in history, said that he would call a safety conference soon in an attempt to reduce automobile accidents in 1932.

The coroner's records attribute 1,297 deaths to automobiles during 1931. This is nine less than the day to day record kept by THE TRIBUNE, which showed 1,306 fatalities during the year. There were 1,100 in 1930. Pedestrians, the coroner's figures showed, accounted for 797, or 61.5 per cent of the victims. Other victims were classified as follows: Occupants of cars, other than drivers, 280; drivers, 196; occupants of other vehicles than automobiles, 24.

99 Hit and Run Deaths.

There were 99 persons killed by hit and run drivers during the year. Seventy-one were killed in grade crossing train-auto crashes. Coroner's juries found that 33 drivers figuring in fatal accidents were intoxicated at the time, and blamed the deaths of nine pedestrians on their own drinking.

An unidentified man about 65 years old was fatally injured last night when struck by a Yellow cab at Clark street and Lawrence avenue. Donald Nixon, the chauffeur, was held for the inquest.

This death increased the auto toll for January to 108, as compared with 111 deaths in January, 1931.

DR. L. L. SEAMAN, NOTED SURGEON, IS DEAD AT 81

New York, Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Dr. Louis Livingston Seaman, 81, internationally known civilian and military surgeon, who received many honors from this country and foreign governments for his services in three wars, died this afternoon in the Lawrence hospital, Bronxville, N. Y., following an illness of two months. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Church of the Puritans.

Mrs. Janet Herriott Dead; Resident Here 67 Years

Mrs. Janet Richardson Herriott, widow of David Herriott, formerly postmaster at South Chicago, died yesterday in her home, 2047 West 108th place. Mrs. Herriott, who was 69 years old, had lived here for 67 years, of which 45 were spent as a resident of Morgan Park, where she and her husband were charter members of the Morgan Park Presbyterian church.

Surviving are five children, Isabel, Irving, John, William, and Paul, and a brother, former Municipal Judge John Richardson. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. Burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

5 DIE IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS; RAIN IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Five persons were killed in traffic accidents, and more than a score injured, during an all day storm of driving rain, which filled some of the streets in the downtown and residential district until they formed veritable creeks, overrunning the sidewalks and lapping at the entrances of shops.

Police squads were deputized to carry women over flooded intersections in low lying portions of the city.

Areas in the Culver City, Northeast Long Beach, Inglewood, Ballona creek, and East Los Angeles regions turned in flood distress calls. The fire department was busy pumping out basements in these sections.

MARY ELIZABETH DAILEY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dailey, 105 years old, who knew Chicago when it was a village, died yesterday in her home in Dolton. Mrs. Dailey, who for many years had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Nairn, at 473 Lincoln avenue in the suburb, had been ill since Oct. 28 of last year, three days after celebrating her 105th anniversary.

Active up to the time of her last illness, Mrs. Dailey's friends said she was remarkable for her physical energy and mental clarity. Nobody had to bake a birthday cake for her—she baked it herself and enjoyed the task. Nobody waited on her if she had her way. And although she was fully capable of handling embroidery and fine sewing, such tasks were too tedious for her liking. She preferred sweeping.

"I can't drive an automobile," she declared a couple of years ago, "but I certainly can drive a horse."

Born in Le Roy, N. Y., Oct. 25, 1826, Mrs. Dailey came to the midwest with her father, Daniel Hurl, in the winter of 1835. The family, consisting of the parents and two children, a boy and a girl, stopped in Chicago for a few days on their way to settling on a farm near Burlington, Wis. As a child nine, Mary Elizabeth Huhl spent those days playing about with her brother in Chicago's only inn.

Mrs. Dailey is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Nairn and Mrs. Ida Wagner of Burlington; five grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence in Dolton, with interment in Cedar Park cemetery at 125th and Halsted street.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLYER SETS NEW AUTOGYRO MARKS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31. — (AP) — A Vera Cruz dispatch tonight said Capt. Lewis Yancey, trans-Atlantic flyer, who left Havana in an autogyro at 8:30 a. m. today, landed at 1:40 p. m. at Merida, Mexico, a distance of about 385 miles in an air line.

Capt. Yancey refueled today at San Julian, 140 miles from Havana, two hours after he left, set two new autogyro records. The 140 mile water hop to San Julian betters his last Sunday's mark of 112 miles from Key West to Havana, and the flight from San Julian to Merida is the longest autogyro nonstop jump.

He piloted the same machine across theh Yucatan straits today that he used last Sunday to be the first to land an autogyro on Cuban soil.

FIRE DAMAGES W. J. SUTHERLAND WHEATON ESTATE

Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused by a fire which started about 11 a. m. yesterday in the home of William J. Sutherland on his estate, Polo Farm, on the outskirts of Wheaton. Included in the loss were a number of valuable oil paintings.

Mr. Sutherland, who is head of the Mooney & Boland detective agency, said that he, Mrs. Sutherland, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Rohr of Philadelphia, were all at home when neighbors called to notify them that smoke was pouring from the west wing of the big colonial house.

The Wheaton fire department and residents of nearby estates went to aid in fighting the flames. Successful efforts were made to prevent the spread of the fire to a barn about 100 feet from the house, where Mr. Sutherland had housed between 45 and 50 polo ponies. The interior of the residence, however, was destroyed.

Mr. Sutherland's estate, which is along Roosevelt road, adjoins that of Edward N. Hurley, former head of the United States shipping board. Across the road is the home of Don Kenneth Jones, whose guests the Sutherlands became after the fire.

SEIZED FLEEING STENCH BOMBING IN DANCE HALL

A man about 45 years old, who said he was Johnny Hennessey of 7239 South Ashland avenue, was arrested last evening as he fled from the Chateau dance hall at 3810 Broadway shortly after a large stench bomb had been tossed onto a valuable rug.

He was pursued by Leonard Stahl, 4740 Winthrop avenue, who has taken the examinations to be a policeman. Stahl declared that he had seen Hennessey throw the bomb. In the pocket of the later was found a card of the Electrical Workers' union which had been issued to Harry Karg of 5358 Wenworth avenue. He also had a formula for the manufacture of ill-smelling bombs, officials declared. The police were investigating a theory that Hennessey may be Karg. Charles Fox, manager of the ballroom, said he recently had discharged an electrical worker.

Another stench bomb, set off in the Granada theater near the Loyola elevated station, was reported to have driven a number of patrons to the street. The theater management said the only theory was that mischief makers were responsible. They denied they had had any trouble with labor groups.

YOUTH TO FACE COURT TODAY IN EXTORTION CASE

Donald Imhoff, 17 years old, honor student at the Oak Park High school, is to be arraigned before Magistrate G. A. Rossman of River Forest today on a charge of attempted extortion.

The youth has admitted writing letters to wealthy residents of Oak Park and River Forest, each of whom was informed that he must pay $10,000 or the ones you love best will be blinded." The only one who has signed a complaint is Fred P. Seymour, 521 North Linden avenue, Oak Park. The others are R. C. Ingersoll, 403 Forest avenue, and Charles Ward Seabury, 420 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, and G. L. Nichols, 1123 Ashland avenue, River Forest.

According to Imhoff, he wanted to obtain enough money to make his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff, financially independent. Mrs. Imhoff is now being sued for divorce by the youth's father, Wiley B. Imhoff, who is in charge of the Oak Park water department.

YOUTH IS FOUND IN CHAINS; TELLS KIDNAPING STORY

With a strip of adhesive tape across his eyes and his hands handcuffed behind his back, Gordon H. Kiefer, 22 years old, of Chilton, Wis., was found wandering on the lower level of the Michigan avenue bridge last night. He is the owner of a gasoline filling station in Chilton, which is 80 miles north of Milwaukee.

At the central station where the blindfold was removed and the chains snapped off, Kiefer told a story of being kidnaped early Thursday morning. The abduction was without motive, he said.

Three men seized him at his oil station, Kiefer asserted, and held him prisoner until last night. They drove him around most of the time, keeping him in a shack at night. The men accused him of "knowing too much," he said. No attempt was made to harm. Sergts. John Ryan and Thomas McElin, who questioned Kiefer, said they would seek further evidence as to his story.

Gassy Stomach of Years Ends

"I've been troubled with gas on my stomach for two years," says Mrs. Frank Steele, Coatesville, Pa. "I tried many things and none have given me such relief as ACIDINE."

"I was very sick in my stomach when I tried ACIDINE," says Andrew Cotton of New York. "I found it to do all that is said for it. I am 64 years old and had been troubled with gas all my life. You don't know how thankful I am that I tried ACIDINE."

End gas, sourness, heartburn, dizziness, sleeplessness, headache resulting from acidity. Maker guarantees ACIDINE ends your stomach trouble or money back. All druggists have ACIDINE.

ROADS PLEDGE SENIOR LIENS TO RAISE CASH

Total Sum Involved Said to Be $350,000,000.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—With the usual avenues for obtaining funds closed by the condition of the security markets, many first class railroads have been compelled to raise money by pledging senior securities with banks. The sums thus obtained or to be obtained have reached enormous proportions. They amount to at least $350,000,000, all of which must eventually be refunded through the sale of securities to the public.

The largest single transaction of the kind was the pledging by the New York Central of $100,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds to secure bank loans believed to have been extended largely by J. P. Morgan & Co. and the First National bank. The recent authorization by the interstate commerce commission to the railroad for the issuance of $75,000,000 of notes to be secured by the bonds disclosed that it had borrowed $7,000,000 on promissory notes, bringing the total of demand notes outstanding to $58,500,000, and that the road would need at least $10,000,000 more.

Seeks Permit for Notes.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad has asked the commission to authorize the issuance of $12,432,000 of promisory notes secured by $13,639,000 of 5 per cent bonds of the New York Lackawanna and Western and $10,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds of the Morris and Essex railroad. The parent company proposed to issue the notes to retire immediately a $10,000,000 loan with the First National bank and to use the remaining $1,432,000 for cash needs this year.

The commission has also authorized the Missouri Pacific railroad to issue $30,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds as loan collateral. A subsidiary, the New Orleans and Lower Coast railroad, sought permission to pledge $860,000 of bonds.

The Southern railway has sought permission to pledge $42,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds to meet current financial needs.

Another large transaction was the pledging of $8,380,000 of 4½ per cent bonds and $116,456,000 of bonds of which different series have borne 4½ to 6 per cent interest, by the Chicago and North Western railway. The road previously contracted a one year $10,000,000 loan with Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Erie Railway Application.

The Erie railroad has applied for permission to issue $25,030,006 of refunding and improvement mortgage 6 per cent bonds to reimburse its treasury for certain expenditures. This issue might be used as pledge for a bank loan. It has previously asked the commission to approve issuance of $12,000,000 of consolidated mortgage general lien 4 per cent bonds as security for loans.

The Lehigh Valley railroad sought permission to pledge $10,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds as collateral for loans obtained from J. P. Morgan & Co. and the First National bank. Of the bonds, $5,000,000 would go to each banking house. Among other similar applications was one for the pledging of $10,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds by the New York, Chicago and St. Louis.

The New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad asked permission to issue $10,500,000 of 4½ per cent bonds, of which $6,000,000 would be pledged for bonds and $4,500,000 held for future uses.

The Rock Island proposed issuance of $8,497,000 of 4 per cent bonds and $6,540,000 of St. Paul and Kansas City Short Line bonds as collateral.

COLD WEATHER, CHINA WAR LIFT WHEAT PRICES

Sharp Fluctuations Seen as Likely.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Between war in the Far East and unfavorable weather conditions in the winter wheat country of the United States, sharp price fluctuations are to be expected in all wheat markets of the world.

The greatest disturbance in the wheat market has been in North America where prices advanced sharply last week, changing an extremely uninteresting market to one of a reversed character. Prices in Chicago were the highest in several months, September wheat reaching a new high level for the season.

Wheat traders are more two minded as a result of the unexpected cold wave descending over the entire winter wheat country lowering temperatures to around zero level in numerous sections, and creating a belief that the crop is likely to be seriously damaged. The long distance forecast, however, suggests rising temperatures.

It is assumed by traders that should low temperatures remain for a time over the winter wheat sections wheat might be smothered in low areas covered by ice and a greatly reduced crop result.

Seek to Aid Confidence.

Every effort is being made to bring about a restoration of confidence in business and financial conditions, and it is said that the stock market will have to be braced up if there is to be a great wave of speculative buying.

Business conditions are slowly improving and commodity markets are looked upon as likely to be the leaders. Failure of these factors to bring about a return of prosperity, it is said, would result in a lowering of grain prices until the statistical situation in wheat is changed in the way of closer adjustment of world's supplies to demand. This is especially essential in North America where the bulk of the world's surplus is held.

Wheat prices advanced 4@5¼c last week, the new crop months leading, with increased speculative buying, particularly by professionals who took profits on the bulge in a comparatively narrow market which brought a setback. The finish, however, was at net gains of ¼@1¾c as compared with a week ago, September leading.

Dominates Prices Abroad.

Export business in North American wheat was disappointing as Argentina and Australia continue to dominate the world's wheat prices abroad, the former offering wheat at extremely low prices in Liverpool, and the impression prevails that the South American countries have about reached the peak in the way of shipments. Since Jan. 1 these two countries shipped 33,953,000 bu of wheat compared with 30,411,000 bu last year.

It is a belief of the wheat trade that it may take more than ordinary damage to the winter wheat crop in the United States to bring about a revival in buying, owing to the bearish statistical situation in cash wheat. Referring to the old crop conditions which are most important, the Uhlmann Grain company cite that we gradually increased our carry over in 1929, 1930 and again this year which will be felt more and more as we approach the new crop. It is pointed out that we are now looking forward to a carry over of more than 400,000,000 bu.

Absence of Short Interest.

An important factor in the wheat situation is the absence of a large speculative short interest. In previous years of crop scare periods, sharp advances have resulted from short covering. This was one of the reasons why the market was not large enough on Saturday to absorb sales by professionals who were taking profits.

March wheat closed Saturday at 56¼c, May 58⅞@59c. July gained on May and closed 59¼@59⅝c and September 60¾@60⅞c. Prices for the week follow:

Cash Corn Trade Slow.

It has been a long time since the cash demand for corn was as small as at present. Chicago shippers sold no corn on three days last week, and country purchases of grain to arrive were not large. The east is not buying corn in Chicago territory as is usual, being filled up largely by shipments from Ohio. Speculative interest in corn remains disappointingly small and a bulge created by the upturn in wheat failed to hold owing to the absence of outside buying support. Cold weather is expected to increase consumption on farms, harden interior roads and enable farmers to sell and deliver corn to country shipping stations, suggesting somewhat of an enlargement in shipments to primary markets. At the close corn futures were ⅛c lower to ½c higher as compared with a week ago. March closed at 37¾c, May 40⅜@40½c, July 42⅜c, September 43¼@43⅝c. Prices follow:

Cash interests were fairly represented in the speculative trade in oats during the week, buying on all soft spots, and there was more general speculative buying at times, although business for the week was small.

France Gives Old Foe Trade Edge Over U.S.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Germany, France's old enemy, is getting higher quotas than the United States on imports permitted by France, and also is being allowed to send products to France on the account of reparations in kind.

This trend was indicated again this week by the publication of the new quotas on imports of electrical equipment. Last week it was importations of meat, the week before it was suspension of radio imports, and new quotas are being planned by the French for other industries. In each case the United States must take a heavy loss as the quotas always are lower than the amounts being imported.

Reason for Attitude.

With the publication of new quotas American business circles in Paris feel convinced that France is definitely embarked upon a campaign to cut down imports of all items from America which they can get from Germany. There are two chief reasons for this. In the first place, each decree setting a quota makes a proviso that Germany's quota does not include goods sent as reparations in kind. In that way, despite the Hoover moratorium, the continuity of reparation payments is kept up.

In the second place, these agreements partly involve the Franco-German economic commission, which was started after Premier Laval's visit to Berlin last summer. This commission has succeeded in making many business arrangements which both countries find favorable. Germany is exceedingly anxious these days to keep up a favorable trade balance, while France naturally is glad to get goods cheap.

The most recent quotas involve such things as dynamos, electric machines, transformers, current rectifiers and apparatus for lighting automobiles and for running vacuum cleaners. The decree is retroactive from Jan. 20. It was said in an informed quarter that only importers of German goods were consulted.

Importers Will Lose.

The figures given out are for the period between Jan. 20 and March 31. During that time Germany is permitted to send in 22 metric tons; Switzerland, 118.8; Britain, 40.2; Sweden, 39.4; United States, 37.1; all others, 57.2.

That the quota involves a heavy loss to United States exporters was admitted. Importers of United States goods immediately protested to the United States embassy, as in the case of radios, and the embassy is studying the situation and gathering data which presumably will be sent to Washington.

American business circles are genuinely alarmed by the recent trend of affairs. The secrecy in commerce and industry here makes it impossible to know which industry is going to be hit next.

William C. Redfield Forms Insurance Brokerage Firm

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—William C. Redfield, who served as secretary of commerce under President Woodrow Wilson, heads a new insurance brokerage company, the American Fiduciary Co., Inc., formation of which was announced today.

ILLINOIS BELL NET FOR 1931 $12,816,907; EARNS $8.54 A SHARE

Operations of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, one of the largest subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, were adversely affected by general conditions last year. However, the company earned its dividend, with something to spare. Net profit for 1931 was $12,816,907, equivalent to $8.54 a share on $150,000,000 capital stock. After paying $8 in dividends, surplus was increased by $816,906. Net profit for 1930 was $12,971,590, or $8.64 a share.

Subscribers' stations showed a net decline of 56,541 last year, but the number was 15,000 higher than at the beginning of 1929. The average number of local telephone calls per day was 5,891,000, a decrease of 4.4 per cent from 1930. Gross expenditures for new construction last year totaled $20,273,845.

New York Profit Gains.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—Gross operation revenue of the New York Telephone company for 1931 amounted to $211,636,000, the company has reported to the interstate commerce commission. This sum, compared with $213,693,527 the year before, shows a decline of $2,057,527, or less than 1 per cent. In December gross revenue was $17,983,467, against $18,140,927 the year before, a decline of $157,460.

Net operating income after expenses, ordinary taxes, and depreciation for the year was $46,972,298, an increase of $3,251,247, or 7.44 per cent over the $43,721,051 reported for 1930.

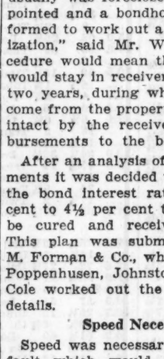
CO-OP IS PUT ON ITS FEET WITH FEW EXPENSES

3000 Sheridan Road Story Told.

BY AL CHASE.

How the eighteen story coöperative apartment building at 3000 Sheridan road, when faced with the usual expensive receivership and foreclosure costs incident to a prospective default, was pulled onto its feet and helped to get back into a normal stride through coöperation of owners and bondholders and without a receiver or foreclosure, was told yesterday for the first time by Arthur Wirtz, president of Wirtz, Hubert & Little, real estate managers. It's an interesting and significant story, full of valuable information, we believe, for both bondholders, equity owners and protective committee members.



ARTHUR M. WIRTZ.
[Grinsted Photo.]

The building was erected several years ago by W. C. Bannerman, from plans by Robert DeGolyer, at the northwest corner of Sheridan road and Wellington avenue. It was financed by a $1,700,000 bond issue underwritten by George M. Forman & Co., which has since been reduced to $1,660,000. It has 100 suites of four to seven rooms with a bungalow. There are eighty-five tenant owners, occupying apartments and fifteen suites to rent. The building is now 97% occupied and last year part of the time was 100% full.

Default Foreseen.

On January 1, 1931, the 3000 Sheridan Road Building corporation, which has a stock issue of $1,000,000, owned by the tenants, had unpaid taxes accumulated against the property greatly in excess of the amount anticipated in the tax reserve account. It was apparent that the mortgage would go into default, especially as the building income had decreased.

"Up to this time, when a building faced these conditions, the mortgage usually was foreclosed, a receiver appointed and a bondholders' committee formed to work out a plan of reorganization," said Mr. Wirz. "This procedure would mean that the property would stay in receivership for at least two years, during which time the income from the property would be kept intact by the receiver, with no disbursements to the bondholders."

After an analysis of operating statements it was decided that by reducing the bond interest rate from 6½ per cent to 4½ per cent the default could be cured and receivership avoided. This plan was submitted to George M. Forman & Co., who O. K.'d it, and Poppenhusen, Johnston, Thompson & Cole worked out the necessary legal details.

Speed Necessary.

Speed was necessary to avoid a default which would permit a bondholder to file a foreclosure. The bondholders were told the entire plan before they deposited their bonds. Practically all of them approved it and the success of the plan was assured just prior to the interest payments due January 15, 1931. As a result the coupons due on that date, July 15, 1931, and January 15, 1932, were promptly paid at the new rate of 4½ per cent.

In addition the terms of the reorganization extend the final maturity of the bonds to 1946 and all income over and above the interest requirements is to be used for retiring bonds.

"This plan of reorganization later was adopted for other properties and our office has been instrumental in working out various issues on approximately the same basis, ranging in size from $50,000 to $2,500,000," said Mr. Wirtz.

"The success of the plan and the rapid consent of the bondholders were due to two things. First, the fairness of the plan and the continued payment of interest; secondly, in presenting the plan to the bondholders before default, we gave details from audited statements of the operating expenses and income of the building to the bondholders, so that they were fully advised of the necessity of working out this method of reorganization.

"We've never published this plan because of possible outside interference by various interests who don't own any bonds on the building."

Interest Rates on Call Loans Ease to 2½ Per Cent

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—Interest rates on call loans in January eased, after the first week, from levels approximating those of the closing days of December to 2½ per cent for the remainder of the month, resulting in an average for renewals that equaled December's. The average rental rate of 2.694 per cent and a new loan average of 2.672 per cent in January, compared with 2.694 per cent for renewals and 2.737 per cent for new loans in December, and with averages of 1.710 per cent and 1.602 per cent, respectively, for January, 1931.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Municipal financing scheduled for this week by 42 communities aggregates $12,261,882 compared with $14,729,916 in the previous week, according to the Daily Bond Buyer. The only two major sized pieces of financing booked for the week are $5,500,000 Jersey City, N. J., tax revenue notes, and $3,000,000 Los Angeles, Cal., water works bonds.

Economists Send Hoover Plan to Combat Depression

A group of well known economists, meeting in Chicago yesterday, adopted and transmitted to President Hoover resolutions urging the following measures to combat the current depression:

1. A much freer use of the facilities of the federal reserve system.
2. Continuance of government construction expenditures at a high level.
3. Reduction of cancellation of intergovernmental obligations.
4. Lowering of tariffs.

The twenty signers had all attended a series of closed discussions at the ninth institute of the Norman Wait Harris memorial foundation on "Gold and Monetary Stabilization," held last week at the University of Chicago. The recommendations yesterday were those of the signers as individuals and not the action of the institute.

Urge Liberalizing Paper.

In discussing the federal reserve banks, the economists said:

"We recommend that the federal reserve banks give a substantial preference in discount rates to commercial paper eligible as cover for federal reserve notes. We recommend, further, that the federal reserve act be amended to empower the federal reserve board, during the present emergency, to permit in its discretion the use of federal government securities on equal terms with commercial paper as cover for federal reserve notes.

"We recommend these measures as effective means of increasing the free gold of the federal reserve system and as constituting, therefore, an important defense against the consequences of gold withdrawals. We regard these measures are necessary prerequisites to the following recommendation with respect to open market operations.

"We recommend that the federal reserve banks systematically pursue open market operations with the double aim of facilitating necessary government financing and increasing the liquidity of the banking structure."

To Increase Currency.

This last recommendation would have the reserve banks purchase government securities in increased quantities, thus increasing currency in circulation and easing credit generally, while directly assisting the government financing.

The remainder of communication to the President was:

"We urge that the Reconstruction Finance corporation vigorously and courageously carry out those provision of the act which authorize it to give aid to banks by making loans on assets not eligible for rediscount with the federal reserve banks.

"We recommend that the federal government maintain its program of public works and public services at a level not lower than that of 1930-1931 in order not to counteract the effects of the previous recommendations. We believe that some measure of financial coöperation of the federal government with state and local governments is indispensable to the maintenance of adequate unemployment relief.

"We strongly recommend the reduction or cancellation of the intergovernmental debts as an essential step toward recovery of world industry and trade, and we regard such a recovery as an important contribution to the restoration of our own prosperity. We call attention to the fact that the intergovernmental debts, while nominally unchanged since the debt settlements, have increased in real burden as a result of the fall in prices, thus impairing the capacity to pay under normal conditions.

Want Tariff Conference.

"We strongly recommend that the government enter into negotiations with other countries leading toward a reciprocal and substantial lowering of tariffs and other barriers to world trade."

The signers were Irving Fisher of Yale university, Charles O. Hardy and Harold G. Moulton of Brookings institute, Alvin H. Hansen of the University of Minnesota, John H. Williams of Harvard university, Ivan Wright of the University of Illinois, Max Handman of the University of Michigan, Charles S. Tippetts of the University of Buffalo, Arthur W. Marget of the University of Minnesota, Ernest M. Patterson of the University of Pennsylvania, and the following of the University of Chicago: Henry Schultz, Jacob Viner, Garfield V. Cox, Frank H. Knight, John H. Cover, Lloyd W. Mints, Chester W. Wright, Harry D. Gideonse, Theodore O. Yngema, and Harry A. Millis.

6,000 DRY GOODS HEADS TO VISIT HERE THIS WEEK

Aside from the thousands who will invade Chicago this week for the annual automobile show, the city will have as its guests during the next three days more than 6,000 leading dry goods and department store executives of the middle west. They are coming here for the annual winter meeting of the Interstate Merchants council, the national distribution group sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The retailers, who will open their meeting at the Hotel Sherman tonight with an advance style show of the fashions Miss Middle West will follow this year, hail from more than thirty states and from four Canadian provinces. Their advance registration indicates a much larger attendance than a year ago, a fact attributed by the Chicago Association of Commerce to the country-wide need of retailers to fill shelves that are practically empty.

U. S. to Sell $75,000,000 Treasury Bills Thursday

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon announced today that the treasury would sell $75,000,000 of treasury bills to the highest bidder on Thursday. The bills, which will be dated Feb. 8, will mature in 93 days, when they will be redeemed at face value. The proceeds of the same will be used to retire a like amount of bills which mature on Feb. 8.

FRIENDLY TONE OF RAIL PARLEY CHEERS FINANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—The news which comes in week by week, so far as it bears on the financial position, continues mixed in character.

When it relates to industrial activities or corporation earnings, it is unpleasant enough; it presents a cheerful aspect mostly when it reflects the industrial state of mind and the measures taken to alleviate existing difficulties. In that category the conferences on wage reduction by the railway unions with the railway managers ought to be placed.

The prolonged exchange of views which has been in progress has been entirely amicable, even when each side maneuvered for position. In some earlier instances there has been voluntary submission to a cut-wage policy, and in all instances frank recognition by wage earners of the conditions which made it necessary. All this has come so gradually into the economic picture that most people do not even yet realize that they embody something like a revolution in the capital and labor controversy.

Cite 1894 Episode.

Adherents of the popular notion that "this is the worst of all depressions" usually draw comparisons in ignorance of the past; the now familiar saying that Wall street's memory runs no further back than 1925 has more truth than poetry in it. Yet the organized and nation-wide strikes of 1921 and 1922 are worth remembering. So, more particularly, is the midsummer episode of the "depression year" 1894, when three union chiefs opened formal headquarters at Chicago, gave out orders after the manner of the German high command in Belgium, and refused to permit railway trains to enter Chicago until the Pullman company had yielded to its striking employés.

The current American Historical Review cites some private White House memoranda of President Hayes, jotted down in pencil at the White House during the railway riot period of still another year of depression, 1877. It contains such manuscript account of cabinet proceedings as "Troops wanted at N. Y. to guard $100,000,000 U. S. treasure"; "Proposed to send monitor to N. Y. to clear streets around custom house" and "Monitor ordered"; "Gen. Hancock with 400 regulars and Gov. Hartranft with 2,500 militia to go to Pittsburgh to keep open railways for coal supplies for food." After all, there is surely something to say for the depression of 1931 and 1932, even by way of comparison.

U. S. Steel Corporation Report.

Along with last week's labor conference advices came news of another color. The United States Steel corporation reported the smallest monthly, quarterly and annual earnings in its history, the $46,434,000 net receipts of 1931 comparing with $71,661,000 in the "war-panic year" 1914 and with $73,168,000 even in the distressing setback of 1904, when the company was young.

Submitting his annual report, the president of the Du Pont company remarked that general business in the United States has been evaluated since 1929 "until the present rate of activity is further below the estimated normal than at any previous period for which records are available."

The assertion is somewhat sweeping, unless pretty large allowance is made for the absence of "available records" at comparatively recent dates. It would also be necessary before accepting this diagnosis unreservedly to be sure about the "estimated normal." The country's steel production of last year indicated a larger actual cut in tonnage as compared with 1929 than any previous reaction has produced; yet the percentage decrease was no greater than that of 1919 as compared with 1917, and not so very much larger than that of 1908 as compared with 1907.

Slump in Values.

Who is to say with absolute assurance exactly how far above normal were 1929 and 1917 and 1907, or how far below it were the lean years which came close on their heels?

Mr. Du Pont himself recognizes this consideration in remarking to his shareholders that the returning prosperity for which he confidently looks will be marked by "a recognition of real values and an abandonment of unsound speculative dreams." Perhaps at some time in that happy future the markets will wonder which was the real economic nightmare, 1931 or 1929.

But the still more certain point of view which will then be taken is that business activities and financial values fell as far below reason last year as they mounted above it three years ago. There is at least this much of satisfaction in living at the low point of the "business cycle" that the next revolution of the wheel will necessarily mean something different from what was ahead of us when we were at the top.

New Course Will Take Up Bank Executives' Problems

David M. Sweet, president of the Chicago chapter, American Institute of Banking, reports that the institute is offering a new course in banking called bank administration. This course will cover the executive problems of bank management and not the technical details. It will be under the general direction of Stuart P. Meech of the University of Chicago. He will be assisted by the executive secretary of the association, Joseph J. Schroeder.

To furnish a further check and to obtain contact with men of actual experience, senior bankers in the larger institutions have agreed to be present at each class to counsel and advise. Among these will be C. B. Hazelwood, vice president of the First National bank; Messrs. Haffner and Floreen, vice presidents of the Central Republic bank, and Mr. Smits, vice president of the Continental Illinois bank.

Shipments of Live Stock by Trucks Gain 25 Per Cent

Motor trucks set a new high record of hauling live stock from farm direct to market in 1931, with 21,162,430 cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep trucked to 17 markets. The corn belt farm dailies report that one-third of the total receipts were transported by truck, at 25 per cent increase over 1930. It is estimated that 3,000,000 tons of live stock rode to market in trucks. It would have taken 342,000 single deck carloads to handle the trucked receipts. The estimated 1,175,000 truckloads that hauled the 21,000,000 head of stock had an average haul of 65 miles.

BUSINESS ENTERS MONTH FEELING MORE HOPEFUL

Trade Straws Indicate Real Progress.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Business will start the new month tomorrow with a slightly cheerier frame of mind than it started January and with some progress already recorded.

Long awaited indications of some tangible improvement in the steel industry appeared in the week just ended. While this increase in activity was not enough to show more than a small seasonal pickup, it at least afforded some promise of better times to come.

For one thing, a little long delayed buying came from the automobile business. Leading factors in the industry were reported still buying on a hand to mouth basis, but new orders for automobiles have been coming in in gratifying volume and several producers have been encouraged to step up production.

Increase Orders.

Both in Youngstown and Chicago, direct reflection of increased orders was furnished. For the industry as a whole, production increased to 29 per cent of capacity.

Several important company earning statements were made public from which analysts were again given an opportunity to study trends in the trying year of 1931. United States Steel reported its most unsatisfactory earnings in the thirty-one years of the company's history. The report of the Bethlehem Steel company was similar in tone. Both showed substantial deficits after dividend payments.

The General Motors corporation, while also showing a deficit after common dividends, was of more encouraging nature.

Tobacco Business Good.

An even more inspiring report came from another of the three large tobacco companies—American Tobacco company—which declared its usual extra dividend at this period of the year following another period of record earnings in 1931. R. J. Reynolds and Liggett and Myers had previously reported excellent 1931 business, Reynolds establishing another new record and Liggett and Myers virtually equaling its previous record established in 1930.

Through the entire field of American industry it continued evident from incoming reports that the heavier industries have been most laggard of all. In contrast with railroad traffic, steel production, machinery, tractor, farm equipment, and similar manufacture, the lighter industries such as tobacco, textiles, hosiery, and hardware lines were reported moving fairly fast.

U. G. I. COMPANY REPORTS INCOME IN GAIN OVER 1930

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—The preliminary report of the United Gas Improvement company for 1931 shows total income from dividends, interest, and miscellaneous sources amounting to $37,914,977, compared with $36,204,055 in 1930, an increase of $1,710,922, or 4.7 per cent. After provision for expenses, interest, and taxes, net income available for dividends amounted to $34,750,114, an increase of 5.9 per cent over $32,810,744 reported in 1930.

The surplus after preferred and common dividends amounted to $3,095,440. Comparing with $2,925,523 in the preceding year, a gain of $169,916. Earned surplus on Dec. 31, 1931, amounted to $68,585,161. Cash on hand was $2,868,420.

John E. Zimmermann, president, in a notice to stockholders, declares that the statement is an income statement and therefore does not include the company's proportionate interest in the undistributed earnings of subsidiary companies. These earnings will be reflected in the combined earnings statement of the company and subsidiaries to be included in the annual report, which will be mailed to stockholders about April 1.

PLAN IS OFFERED TO CONSOLIDATE TWO RADIO FIRMS

Passaic, N. J., Jan. 31.—(AP)—A plan to consolidate the De Forest Radio company and the Jenkins Television corporation into one firm has been submitted to stockholders for their approval, Leslie S. Gordon, president of both concerns, announced today. Under the proposal, Gordon said, an intercompany indebtedness owed by the television company would be canceled and the firm dissolved.

De Forest now owns 638,967 of the Jenkins company's 952,000 shares of stock, he explained, and the plan calls for absorption of the rest of Jenkins stock on the basis of one share of De Forest for each two shares of Jenkins.

Because the commercial development of television has been slower and more costly than originally contemplated, Gordon said, the De Forest company of late has been obliged to finance the Jenkins company to protect its investment. He said the valuation of Jenkins patents had been set at $2,000,000.

Sweden to Boost Tariff on Many Luxury Articles

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The riksdag approved a government proposal tonight to increase tariffs on many "luxury articles," effective tomorrow. American industry will be chiefly affected by an increase in duty on exposed films, the new schedule raising the duty from 80 krone [$21.41] on 100 kilograms [220 pounds] to 1,500 krone [$402]. The new duty on automobiles is 20 per cent instead of 5 per cent as heretofore. Bananas, apples and pears will be taxed 10 krone [$2.68] per 100 kilograms. Finance Minister Hamrin, who introduced the bill, said it was only a temporary measure to help balance the budget.

MEAT PACKING.

Sales billed to domestic and foreign customers by American packing companies in 1931 decreased 27 per cent from 1930, trade interests report.

Why pay more than Household's low rate On loans?

The nationally known Household Loan Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $300 to husbands and wives at reasonable rates

Household's rate on all loans above $100 is almost one-third lower than the maximum permitted by the small loan law. We voluntarily established this low rate in 1928 and our customers have benefited ever since. This rate remains the same until the loan is paid off. It does not increase as the unpaid balance decreases.

FOR EXAMPLE:
The average monthly cost of a $200 loan repaid in 20 equal monthly payments is $2.63. This is the lowest cost in Chicago.

Get the Cost in DOLLARS Before You Borrow.

Commonwealth Customers Pay LESS for LOANS

$2.93 is the average Monthly Cost of a $225 loan under COMMONWEALTH'S Reduced Rate. This allows 25 months for repayment. There is no lower cost than this in Chicago.

THE personal property which nearly every family owns and the signature of husband and wife enable one to secure any amount up to $300 quickly and easily.

THERE ARE NO fees or deductions. You may take 25 months or pay all or part sooner. Interest at the Reduced Rate is charged only while you keep the money.

Also Salary and Auto Loans.
